Auto Workers' Strike Against Briggs Averted

Agreement Reached On Eve Of Deadline

DETROIT, June 10 (AP)—A strike of 20,000 workers in plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Company was averted tonight, saving the automobile industry from serious production loss.

The company and the CIO United Auto Workers, who had called a walkout for 10 a. m. tomorrow, reached an agreement assuring continued production of car bodies to the Packard and Chrysler factories.

A Briggs strike ultimately would have forced Packard and Chrysler to quit making passenger cars, idling at least another 30,000 men.

Draw 2-Year Contract

Briggs and the Auto Union agreed to a two-year contract including the industry's wage increase pattern of an "equivalent" 15 cents an hour and other terms with respect to grievance procedure.

The settlement, achieved in a ten-hour negotiation session on the eve of the scheduled strike, disposed of fears of a major upset in the auto industry's production program.

Already the Ford Motor Company was in the midst of labor handicaps which today had forced the closing of its assembly lines which turn out the Ford and Mercury cars.

A Briggs strike would have stopped the output of Packards and Chryslers, Dodges, Plymouths, and DeSotos. Chrysler manufactures the latter three as well as the Chrysler car.

The Briggs settlement was announced jointly by Walter O. Briggs, Jr., vice president of the company, and Emil Mazey, regional director of the UAW-CIO.

Its main points:

1. An 11½ cents an hour wage increase for production workers plus six paid holidays. This is the pattern which the industry and labor has called the "15 cent equivalent."

2. A two-year contract dating from last April 28, to which the wage increase will be retroactive. Wages are reopenable at the request of either side "on time" in the course of the two years.

Mazey said this would permit the UAW to ask another increase if the industry grants another over and above the 15 cents.

Get 11½ Hourly Hike

3. A supplementary wage clause giving maintenance workers and 2,000 non-production hourly rated men seven cents an hour in addition to the 11½ cents.

The contract also grants 500 engineers a minimum wage increase of $26 a month for those whose monthly pay is less than $300. Those above $300 will receive an increase of nine per cent.

Briggs said the wage provisions would cost the company $6,000,000 a year.

While Briggs and the union made peace in their contract dispute, Ford was still at odds with its striking foremen and still seeking a contract agreement with the UAW-CIO.

Hungary's Army Will Be Purged, Premier Reveals

Nagy Sought Truman Policy, He Declares

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 10 (AP)—Premier Lajos Dinnyes, personally chosen for his position by Soviet Lt. Gen. V. P. Sviridov, announced today that "anti-Democratic" elements would be purged from the Hungarian Army, 80 per cent of whose officers, he said, have "fled to the west."

"First of all," he declared in a 75-minute address to the National Assembly, Hungary wished to maintain friendship with "the great Soviet Union."

He asserted various parties in his government had agreed in principle to nationalization of Hungarian Banks, and also to nationalization of the country's bauxite mines and aluminum.

Dinnyes made his first speech to Parliament after a leading Communist member of the Assembly, had declared in print that letters had been found in which deposed Premier Ferenc Nagy last January had asked the United States for "assistance so that the "Truman doctrine' would adequately be applied to Hungary."

President Truman did not announce his plan to aid Greece and Turkey, the plan that has become known as the Truman doctrine, until March.

The Communist parliamentarian, Jozsef Reval, writing in the communist newspaper Szabadsag, said Dean Acheson, as under-secretary of state, had replied to Nagy "promising support."

Dinnyes' speech also was preceded by a strange declaration from a member of the Small Landholders Party, the majority party which has been reduced to impotence by the coup in which Nagy was obliged by Communists to resign as premier.

This small landholder, Mihaly Guba, declared the alleged plot in which the Russians charged Nagy was implicated was directed "against our good liberating friend, the Soviet Union."

This was the plot which the Russians have charged was aimed at overthrowing "Hungarian Democracy."

Guba said the Small Landholders as a body "despises and wishes to prosecute the conspirators and their friends regardless of position and rank." Nagy, he added, and Bela Varga, fugitive former speaker of the Assembly, were "criminal partners" in the plot.

(In another Balkan development today, it was disclosed in a dispatch from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, that a Bulgarian military delegation had arrived for a visit to Marshal Tito's capital last Saturday. The presence of the mission, headed by Assistant War Minister Lt. Gen. Perdinand Kozovski and including a representative of the Soviet Union, had been kept secret until today. The disclosure was made just after Romanian Premier Petru Groza and his "good will" party had left Belgrade by Danube River boat, presumably enroute to Sofia, Bulgaria.)

Missouri River Crumbles Levees

HANNIBAL, Mo., June 10 (AP) — The Missouri River crumbled levees and poured torrents of muddy water over hundreds of thousands of acres in North Central Missouri today, but the swollen Mississippi was levelling off in the hard hit sector north of here as its crest moved downstream.

Col. W. E. Potter, district army Engineer at Kansas City, estimated in a report telephoned from Glasgow, Mo., that 1,000,000 acres had been inundated by the rampant Missouri and its tributaries in the rich farming district of North Central Missouri.

The Midwestern area headquarters of the American Red Cross said another 2,300 persons had fled their homes in Missouri and Illinois, bringing to about 5,700 the number of homeless in the two states.

Meanwhile lowland residents below the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers, near Alton, Ill., were threatened with a repitition of the flood of last April. The Government Weather Bureau at St. Louis said a flood in this area of the proportions of the major overflows in 1943 and 1944 was not indicated.

Workman House Bought

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 10. (AP)—The Annapolis Bank and Trust Company today bought the historic Workman House — the original building of King William's school—for $15,000 at a public sale.

Thousands Cheer Truman As Canadian Visit Begins

Parliament Speech To Highlight Tour

OTTAWA, Ont., June 10 (AP) — Thousands of cheering Canadians welcomed President Truman to the Canadian Capital today as the American Chief Executive arrived for a three-day goodwill visit.

Lining the streets along a 12-mile parade route from a railroad siding in suburban Ottawa to his quarters in the government house, school children and their parents turned out by the thousands to greet their distinguished visitor from below the border.

Spread Red Carpet

A red carpet was spread across the ground where Mr. Truman and his wife and daughter alighted and received warm handshakes from Governor General Viscount Alexander and Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King.

From then on until the United States' first family was taken to the government house to rest for tonight's state dinner and reception, their tour through the city was a happy, cheering, holiday affair.

Civil Service workers and school children had been given the afternoon off to enable them to participate in the reception.

The highlight of the visit will be Mr. Truman's address to the Canadian Parliament at 10:45 a. m., (E.S.T.) tomorrow when he will call the world's attention to the example in friendly relations set by the United States and its neighbor to the north.

The welcome started several hours before the 11-car Presidential train moved into the Ottawa siding at 2:30 p. m., when the American party arrived at the border at Rouses Point, N. Y.

Uses Microphone

There, standing on the observation platform of his private car, 600 yards south of the line, the President smiliingly agreed to greet Canada through a microphone raised by a radio man.

"I'm saying hello to Canada right now," he said. "I'm very, very happy to."

As the radio engineer beamed, the President burst out laughing a few minutes later when a small boy in the crowd piped up:

"Hey, is Margaret there?"

Large U. S. Wheat Crop Is Predicted

Livestock Feed Grains To Be Off

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The Agriculture Department forecast today a surprisingly large wheat crop, nearly double the pre-war average, but painted less favorable prospects for some other crops, particularly livestock feed grains.

The wheat crop was indicated at 1,409,000,000 bushels, which is 254,000,000 more than last year's record crop. Production for the 1935-39 pre-war period averaged only about 750,000,000 bushels.

Prospects Improved

Wheat prospects improved during May. A month ago the Department predicted a crop of about 1,275,000,000 bushels.

But whether total crop production comes up to last year's record level will depend largely, the Department said, on how the corn crop turns out.

No production forecast was given for corn, but because of abnormally wet, cool weather during May, between 20 and 25 per cent of the corn acreage remained unplanted on June 1, which is rather late. Weather since then has continued unfavorable in important corn-growing areas of the Great Lakes and Northern Ohio Valley.

Corn is perhaps the nation's most important crop. It provides the bulk of the feed for producing meat, milk and poultry products. A short corn crop would force reductions in the production of these foods—a development which undoubtedly would boost prices.

The delay in corn planting aggravates livestock feed supply problems, because the wet spring kept the oats acreage down to a point where a crop of only 1,247,333,000 bushels was forecast, compared with 1,509,867,000 last year.

The department emphasized, however, that with power equipment now available, the unplanted corn acreage can be planted in a few days if weather clears soon.

Weather Delays Crops

Corn is not the only important crop which has been delayed by unfavorable weather. Plantings of soy beans, an important source of vegetable oil used in foods and industrial products and of protein livestock feed, have been delayed considerably in the mid-west.

The report said very few dry beans had been planted so far in the New York-Michigan area. The sugar beet acreage will be short of expectations in Eastern areas, especially in Michigan where wet weather has sharply reduced plantings. The report said frost and freezing temperatures during May damaged fruits and tender crops, mainly in West Virginia and Mid-Atlantic states. It added, however, that the backwardness of the season prevented more serious injury.

Harvesting of late spring potatoes was said to have progressed satisfactorily during May.

Marshall, Churchill Endorse U. S. Of E.

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—Efforts in Congress to promote the idea of a "United States of Europe" won conditional approval of Secretary of State Marshall today, along with an endorsement by Winston Churchill.

Marshall is "deeply sympathetic towards the general objective," he wrote, "but we should make it clear that it is not our purpose to impose upon the peoples of Europe any particular form of political or economic association."

Churchill, wartime Prime Minister of Great Britain, radioed: "I have been encouraged by the evidence of support for United Europe in America."

Both leaders addressed their comment to a resolution pending in the Senate and House Foreign Committees which would put Congress on record as favoring "the creation of a United States of Europe within the framework of the United Nations."

Marshall's views, disclosed today on Capitol Hill, were expressed in a letter dated June 4 to Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which had requested a State Department report. That committee is considering resolutions introduced by Senators Fulbright (D-Ark) and Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah).

Churchill stated his position in a terse radiogram on June 6 to Rep. Hale Boggs (D-Ala), author of the companion bill in the House.

Vandenberg told a reporter that his committee has no present plans for action on the resolution, that "we have a lot of must legislation that has priority over it."

Marshall, assuming that the general phrasing of the resolution was intended "for the purpose of endorsing a principle without raising numerous important questions of detail," wrote that he is "deeply sympathetic towards the general objective of the resolution."

Senate Confirms Five Appointments

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The Senate rushed through confirmation today of five presidential nominations covering American diplomatic and economic activities on far-flung global fronts.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, sped the nominations through without opposition, telling his colleagues they required "immediate attention."

The list:

1. Dwight B. Griswold, 53, former three-time Republican Governor of Nebraska, as chief of the Greek phase of the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program to stem Communism.

2. Norman Armour, 59, one of the nation's most widely experienced diplomats, as Assistant Secretary of State. His task: to unify the State Department's political affairs in all parts of the world.

3. Richard F. Allen, 56, vice chairman of the American Red Cross as Field Director of the $350,000,000 foreign relief program for needy countries.

4. Emmett O'Neal, 60, former Democratic Representative from Kentucky, as United States Ambassador to the New Philippine Republic. He succeeds Paul V. McNutt.

5. Monnett B. Davis, 53, American Consul General in Shanghai, as United States representative to the Economic Council on Asia and the Far East. The council meets in Shanghai June 16.

Girl, 13, Attacked

BALTIMORE, June 10. (AP)—A 13-year-old girl, Annabella Ingram, was slashed and beaten into semi-consciousness today, a half hour after she started home from school on a short-cut through the woods, police reported.

EISENHOWER'S SON WED—Friends and wellwishers gather outside the Centaurian Church, at the Fort Monroe, Va., army post to greet Capt. John Eisenhower, son of the Chief of Staff and his bride, the former Barbara Jean Thompson, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Percy W. Thompson, as they leave the church after their wedding ceremony yesterday afternoon. Many high-ranking officers witnessed the traditional ceremony performed by Post Chaplain E. M. Mize.

Mongolian Troops Reported Invading Sinkiang Province

Four Soviet Planes Cover Army Advance

NANKING, June 10 (AP)—Central News Agency tonight reported Mongolian troops from Soviet dominated outer Mongolia, supported by four Soviet war planes, invaded Sinkiang Province.

The Mongols quickly penetrated 200 miles while "four planes with Soviet emblems covered the advance, bombing and strafing troops and civilians," said the official, government sponsored agency.

Fighting Continues

"Bitter fighting continues" between the Mongols, including well supported cavalry, and Sinkiang native troops, added the dispatch, which was dated June 6 (Friday). It said the invasion began June 9.

Chinese correspondents had been filing exciting stories of the Sinkiang situation since Friday, but the Chinese government suppressed them. Tonight it released the agency's four day old dispatch.

Tonight's Central News Agency dispatch was dated June 6 at Tihwa, the Sinkiang capital. There was no explanation whether the government had suppressed it pending confirmation, although the agency said its sources were official. Nanking long has been hesitant to circulate or permit publication of reports critical of the Russians, with whom it is negotiating to take over administration of the treaty ports, Darien and Port Arthur in Manchuria.

A year ago, revolt flared in Western Sinkiang, China's most northwestern province and one of its most isolated. Because of its remoteness, lack of communications and virtual government silence, details of the fighting were not learned.

Top General Sent

The situation became so critical, however, that Chiang Kai-Shek sped one of his top generals, Chang Chih-Chung, to Sunkiang as governor and sent in some troops.

There were numerous unofficial charges that outer Mongolians and Chinese Communists, with Russian assistance, inspired and supported the revolt, but the government never confirmed them.

Outer Mongolia was granted its independence about a year ago and declared itself a Republic, but persistently has been reported to be Russian dominated.

Maryland Youth Drowns

GLENN DALE, Md., June 10. (AP)—George Sartain, 8, drowned when he pursued a turtle which escaped into the water of Folly Branch while George was playing with it on the stream's bank.

Mayor Saves Young Negro, 19, From Mob

Angered Crowd Had Rope o Hang Him

HURTSBORO, Ala., June 10 (AP)—A 19-year-old negro was rescued by the town mayor and three other white men today from a mob which had the youth hogtied, a rope looped around his neck and which was threatening to lynch him.

The mayor, 48-year-old Hurt Vann, said he persuaded the crowd, growing "larger and rougher" by the minute to release the negro, Jimmy Harris, because "that is the best way—we ought to let the law take its course."

Seized By Mob

Vann said the negro had been seized by the mob after a white woman reported he broke into her home and attempted to rape her. Mayor Vann said the woman's screams brought a neighbor who "threw the negro into the street."

Immediately, he said, a mob gathered, seized the negro and lashed him with a rope obtained from a nearby truck.

Mayor Vann, former Mayor H. M. Rutherford and his son, Phil, and city councilman H. T. Ellison arrived as "about 25" white men were beating the negro with the rope end and their fists. The negro was prostrate, the Mayor said.

The crowd, said the Mayor, was preparing to lynch the negro on a tree near the center of this Southeast Alabama town of about one thousand population.

Raced Out Of Town

Mayor Vann said he rushed Harris to a pickup truck and raced out of town. "I knew we wouldn't have a chance if he stayed there," he said.

Outside town, he switched to a private car and sped towards the Russell County Seat, Phenix City. Eighteen miles from Hurtsboro, he met County Sheriff Ralph Matthrews, and State Highway Patrolmen, and placed the negro in their custody.

Harris was rushed to Phenix City Jail and then to the state prison in Montgomery "for his protection."

Infants' Deaths Termed Homicide

MASSILLON, O., June 10 (AP) — Two girl babies died in the pediatrics ward of City Hospital last Friday night of "blunt force, the exact nature or manner of occurrence being undetermined," a coroner's report stated today.

Dr. E. C. Reno, Stark County Coroner, adhered to his previously announced conclusion of homicide in the deaths of the two babies in filing a formal report of his investigation.

Rosemary Morton, nine-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Morton, died of intra-cranial and extra-cranial hemorrhage, laceration of the brain, a fractured skull and "blunt force, the exact nature or manner of occurrence being undetermined," Dr. Reno stated.

She "came to her death by homicide," said the coroner.

He listed the same causes of death for Diane J. Brand, 10-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brand, but noted "multiple fractures of the skull" in the case of the Brand baby.

The coroner's report was filed as police officials still pursued divergent theories of murder and accidental death in their investigation.

Police Chief Stanley S. Switter earlier said he still was working under the belief that the two babies were killed accidentally, possibly by children who might have removed them from their cribs.

U. S. Red Leader Is Found Guilty On Contempt Count

Refused To Take Oath At Hearing

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP) — German-born Gerhart Eisler, 51, alleged link between the Kremlin and American Communists, was convicted of contempt of Congress today for refusing to be sworn for testimony before the House Committee on un-American Activities.

Jury Out 20 Minutes

A federal court jury deliberated 20 minutes in reaching its verdict after a four-day trial.

Eisler, a squat, bespectacled little man, sat unblinking as the word "guilty" was pronounced and showed little interest as Justice Alexander Holtzoff set June 27 for passing sentence.

The contempt charge, a misdemeanor, carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and four months to one year in prison. The court continued Eisler's $20,000 bond.

Interested spectators at the wind-up of the case included 16 executive board members of the "Joint anti-Fascist refugee committee." All are charged with contempt of the House Committee and with conspiring to withhold records of their organization.

Justice Holtzoff opened their trial immediately after clearing away the Eisler case.

Will Not Be Recalled

Informed of the Eisler verdict, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) of the House un-American Activities committee told a reporter he does not intend to call Eisler back before the committee.

"The jury's verdict can be interpreted as a protection of the investigating powers of the Congress," he said.

During the trial, Eisler contended that he had been willing to answer the House Committee's question, but not until he was permitted to read a prepared statement objecting to being transported by U. S. deputies from New York to Washington.

"In other words, you would testify only on your own terms," Justice Holtzoff remarked.

Youth Acquitted Of Slaying Sexton

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 10—(AP)—Stuart B. Allen, 16-year-old adopted son of a minister, was acquitted by a Circuit Court jury late today on a charge of slaying the sexton of his foster father's church. The jury ruled him innocent by reason of insanity, and said he was still insane.

The state had charged the youth with the hammer and mutilations slaying of John Frank, in the basement of the church last april 1.

The jury agreed on the first of eight ballots that the youth killed the sexton, but not until the last ballot did the jurors agree that he was insane, said Stewuart McClung, foreman.

Packers Give Varied Reasons For Cost Hikes

Steak Brings $1.25 Pound In Scranton

NEW YORK, June 10—(AP)—Rapid advances in retail meat prices, in some cases to record high levels, were reported today from many sections of the country.

Explanations for the rise ranged from heavy foreign purchases to higher feed costs. Some packers said frankly they were puzzled by the sharp increase in retail prices.

In the Scranton, Pa., area a large independent market sold steak between $1 and $1.25 a pound, compared with 80 cents six months ago. A chain store sold steak at 87 to 93 cents, compared with 70 to 75 cents six months ago.

In New York the housewife paid between 72 to 90 cents for top grades of steak and some dealers predicted the price would soar to $1 by the weekend.

Kansas City reported most beef cuts up five cents a pound over last week with sirloin at 69 to 70 cents, T-bone at 73 and ground beef at 39.

Advance 5-6 Per Cent

A leading chain store operating on a national basis said its meat prices on the average had advanced five to six per cent in the last two months. The chain declined to be identified.

Philadelphia meat interests said a shortage, which caught meat dealers completely off guard, drove prices to the highest on record. Increases of eight to 11 cents a pound over a week ago were noted at the retail level.

Jack Kranis, president of the National Meat Industry Council, said: "Within the last few weeks agents of buyers in England, Germany, Poland, Belgium, Holland and France and other countries in that part of Europe have been buying everything they can get in slaughtered meat, and they are paying up to four cents a pound more than American buyers are willing to pay.

"This is the principal cause of the rising retail prices of the past week or two in this country."

In Chicago, however, the American Meat Institute said there was virtually no direct meat buying by Europaen agents. The institute added that a free market in export meat did not exist inasmuch as shipments were regulated by United States Department of Agriculture export allocations.

A spokesman for Swift and Company, in Chicago said the government restricts quotas and bids by foreign purchasers to levels that are supposed not to disturb the domestic market.

In Washington it was learned from the USDA that there had been no change in the size of meat allocations. Allocations for the current quarter equal approximately two days United States production.

Some Deals "Possible"

Officials added it was possible some deals are being made in anticipation of possible ending of export controls July 1. Legislation to extend controls is pending in Congress.

One trade interest pointed to the recent rise in feed grains as a prominent factor behind the increase in retail meat prices. Consumer income is still at a record high, he added, and many people are willing to pay the increases. He noted, however, signs of consumer resistance.

Miners' Protest Strike Breaking Up

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 10. (AP)—The so-called "protest" strike by some 17,000 soft coal miners in Pennsylvania and Indiana over pending labor legislation appeared to be breaking up tonight as the United Mine Workers took to the radio in an effort to get the men back to work.

Local radio stations carried at half-hour intervals an appeal from William Hynes, president of UMW District Four where the walkouts centered, that "to protect the membership of District 4, United Mine Workers of America, all men who are idle in protest of the Labor Bill are urged to return to work immediately."

As a result of a meeting with Hynes earlier today, a spokesman for the 785 workers at the Isabella Mine of Weirton Coal Company said the men would return to their jobs tomorrow.

Immediate End Of Sugar Rationing Approved By House Banking Group

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP) — Legislation calling for an immediate end of sugar rationing for home consumption was approved overwhelmingly today by the House Banking Committee, and Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) predicted prompt House passage, probably on Thursday.

The legislation, introduced by Rep. Gamble (R-NY), does not list sugar price controls.

Moreover, it continues the authority of the Secretary of Agriculture to exercise inventory controls over sugar supplies of industrial users.

The Banking Group sent a report to the House saying Cuban sugar production has exceeded "the most optimistic estimates," and supplies also are greater from Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Cuban supplies were listed by the committee at 6,360,000 tons instead of 5,500,000 tons as previously estimated.

There is sufficient sugar now available, the committee said.

British Prefer To Take Medicine By Mouth, But U. S. Likes Needle

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 10 (AP) — Declaring the British prefer to take any medicine by mouth, if possible, Sir Howard W. Florey, a pioneer in penicillin research, said today it was his "impression" that many Americans felt they have to be jabbed with a needle to be treated properly.

He made that comment to the American Medical Association's centennial convention today during a talk concerning the quest in many countries for new "antibiotics" — the class of medicines that includes penicillin and streptomycin. It is a quest that already has led to the examination of many types of fungus and bacterial organisms as sources of germ-fighting materials, and Florey said there were a few encouraging leads. He added:

"I think on present evidence it is safe to say that further antibiotics will be found which will find a place in medicine."

Agreement Reached On Eve Of Deadline

DETROIT, June 10 (AP)—A strike of 20,000 workers in plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Company was averted tonight, saving the automobile industry from serious production loss.

The company and the CIO United Auto Workers, who had called a walkout for 10 a. m. tomorrow, reached an agreement assuring continued production of car bodies to the Packard and Chrysler factories.

A Briggs strike ultimately would have forced Packard and Chrysler to quit making passenger cars, idling at least another 30,000 men.

Draw 2-Year Contract

Briggs and the Auto Union agreed to a two-year contract including the industry's wage increase pattern of an "equivalent" 15 cents an hour and other terms with respect to grievance procedure.

The settlement, achieved in a ten-hour negotiation session on the eve of the scheduled strike, disposed of fears of a major upset in the auto industry's production program.

Already the Ford Motor Company was in the midst of labor handicaps which today had forced the closing of its assembly lines which turn out the Ford and Mercury cars.

A Briggs strike would have stopped the output of Packards and Chryslers, Dodges, Plymouths, and DeSotos. Chrysler manufactures the latter three as well as the Chrysler car.

The Briggs settlement was announced jointly by Walter O. Briggs, Jr., vice president of the company, and Emil Mazey, regional director of the UAW-CIO.

Its main points:

1. An 11½ cents an hour wage increase for production workers plus six paid holidays. This is the pattern which the industry and labor has called the "15 cent equivalent."

2. A two-year contract dating from last April 28, to which the wage increase will be retroactive. Wages are reopenable at the request of either side "on time" in the course of the two years.

Mazey said this would permit the UAW to ask another increase if the industry grants another over and above the 15 cents.

Get 11½ Hourly Hike

3. A supplementary wage clause giving maintenance workers and 2,000 non-production hourly rated men seven cents an hour in addition to the 11½ cents.

The contract also grants 500 engineers a minimum wage increase of $26 a month for those whose monthly pay is less than $300. Those above $300 will receive an increase of nine per cent.

Briggs said the wage provisions would cost the company $6,000,000 a year.

While Briggs and the union made peace in their contract dispute, Ford was still at odds with its striking foremen and still seeking a contract agreement with the UAW-CIO.

Hungary's Army Will Be Purged, Premier Reveals

Nagy Sought Truman Policy, He Declares

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 10 (AP)—Premier Lajos Dinnyes, personally chosen for his position by Soviet Lt. Gen. V. P. Sviridov, announced today that "anti-Democratic" elements would be purged from the Hungarian Army, 80 per cent of whose officers, he said, have "fled to the west."

"First of all," he declared in a 75-minute address to the National Assembly, Hungary wished to maintain friendship with "the great Soviet Union."

He asserted various parties in his government had agreed in principle to nationalization of Hungarian Banks, and also to nationalization of the country's bauxite mines and aluminum.

Dinnyes made his first speech to Parliament after a leading Communist member of the Assembly, had declared in print that letters had been found in which deposed Premier Ferenc Nagy last January had asked the United States for "assistance so that the "Truman doctrine' would adequately be applied to Hungary."

President Truman did not announce his plan to aid Greece and Turkey, the plan that has become known as the Truman doctrine, until March.

The Communist parliamentarian, Jozsef Reval, writing in the communist newspaper Szabadsag, said Dean Acheson, as under-secretary of state, had replied to Nagy "promising support."

Dinnyes' speech also was preceded by a strange declaration from a member of the Small Landholders Party, the majority party which has been reduced to impotence by the coup in which Nagy was obliged by Communists to resign as premier.

This small landholder, Mihaly Guba, declared the alleged plot in which the Russians charged Nagy was implicated was directed "against our good liberating friend, the Soviet Union."

This was the plot which the Russians have charged was aimed at overthrowing "Hungarian Democracy."

Guba said the Small Landholders as a body "despises and wishes to prosecute the conspirators and their friends regardless of position and rank." Nagy, he added, and Bela Varga, fugitive former speaker of the Assembly, were "criminal partners" in the plot.

(In another Balkan development today, it was disclosed in a dispatch from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, that a Bulgarian military delegation had arrived for a visit to Marshal Tito's capital last Saturday. The presence of the mission, headed by Assistant War Minister Lt. Gen. Ferdinand Kozovski and including a representative of the Soviet Union, had been kept secret until today. The disclosure was made just after Romanian Premier Petru Groza and his "good will" party had left Belgrade by Danube River boat, presumably enroute to Sofia, Bulgaria.)

Missouri River Crumbles Levees

HANNIBAL, Mo., June 10 (AP) — The Missouri River crumbled levees and poured torrents of muddy water over hundreds of thousands of acres in North Central Missouri today, but the swollen Mississippi was levelling off in the hard hit sector north of here as its crest moved downstream.

Col. W. E. Potter, district army Engineer at Kansas City, estimated in a report telephoned from Glasgow, Mo., that 1,000,000 acres had been inundated by the rampant Missouri and its tributaries in the rich farming district of North Central Missouri.

The Midwestern area headquarters of the American Red Cross said another 2,300 persons had fled their homes in Missouri and Illinois, bringing to about 5,700 the number of homeless in the two states.

Meanwhile lowland residents below the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers, near Alton, Ill., were threatened with a repitition of the flood of last April. The Government Weather Bureau at St. Louis said a flood in this area of the proportions of the major overflows in 1943 and 1944 was not indicated.

Thousands Cheer Truman As Canadian Visit Begins

Parliament Speech To Highlight Tour

OTTAWA, Ont., June 10 (AP) — Thousands of cheering Canadians welcomed President Truman to the Canadian Capital today as the American Chief Executive arrived for a three-day goodwill visit.

Lining the streets along a 12-mile parade route from a railroad siding in suburban Ottawa to his quarters in the government house, school children and their parents turned out by the thousands to greet their distinguished visitor from below the border.

Spread Red Carpet

A red carpet was spread across the ground where Mr. Truman and his wife and daughter alighted and received warm handshakes from Governor General Viscount Alexander and Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King.

From then on until the United States' first family was taken to the government house to rest for tonight's state dinner and reception, their tour through the city was a happy, cheering, holiday affair.

Civil Service workers and school children had been given the afternoon off to enable them to participate in the reception.

The highlight of the visit will be Mr. Truman's address to the Canadian Parliament at 10:45 a. m., (E.S.T.) tomorrow when he will call the world's attention to the example in friendly relations set by the United States and its neighbor to the north.

The welcome started several hours before the 11-car Presidential train moved into the Ottawa siding at 2:30 p. m., when the American party arrived at the border at Rouses Point, N. Y.

Uses Microphone

There, standing on the observation platform of his private car, 600 yards south of the line, the President smilingly agreed to greet Canada through a microphone raised by a radio man.

"I'm saying hello to Canada right now," he said. "I'm very, very happy to."

As the radio engineer beamed, the President burst out laughing a few minutes later when a small boy in the crowd piped up:

"Hey, is Margaret there?"

Large U. S. Wheat Crop Is Predicted

Livestock Feed Grains To Be Off

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The Agriculture Department forecast today a surprisingly large wheat crop, nearly double the pre-war average, but painted less favorable prospects for some other crops, particularly livestock feed grains.

The wheat crop was indicated at 1,409,000,000 bushels, which is 254,000,000 more than last year's record crop. Production for the 1935-39 pre-war period averaged only about 750,000,000 bushels.

Prospects Improved

Wheat prospects improved during May. A month ago the Department predicted a crop of about 1,275,000,000 bushels.

But whether total crop production comes up to last year's record level will depend largely, the Department said, on how the corn crop turns out.

No production forecast was given for corn, but because of abnormally wet, cool weather during May, between 20 and 25 per cent of the corn acreage remained unplanted on June 1, which is rather late. Weather since then has continued unfavorable in important corn-growing areas of the Great Lakes and Northern Ohio Valley.

Corn is perhaps the nation's most important crop. It provides the bulk of the feed for producing meat, milk and poultry products. A short corn crop would force reductions in the production of these foods—a development which undoubtedly would boost prices.

The delay in corn planting aggravates livestock feed supply problems, because the wet spring kept the oats acreage down to a point where a crop of only 1,247,333,000 bushels was forecast, compared with 1,509,867,000 last year.

The department emphasized, however, that with power equipment now available, the unplanted corn acreage can be planted in a few days if weather clears soon.

Weather Delays Crops

Corn is not the only important crop which has been delayed by unfavorable weather. Plantings of soy beans, an important source of vegetable oil used in foods and industrial products and of protein livestock feed, have been delayed considerably in the mid-west.

The report said very few dry beans had been planted so far in the New York-Michigan area. The sugar beet acreage will be short of expectations in Eastern areas, especially in Michigan where wet weather has sharply reduced plantings. The report said frost and freezing temperatures during May damaged fruits and tender crops, mainly in West Virginia and Mid-Atlantic states. It added, however, that the backwardness of the season prevented more serious injury.

Harvesting of late spring potatoes was said to have progressed satisfactorily during May.

Marshall, Churchill Endorse U. S. Of E.

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—Efforts in Congress to promote the idea of a "United States of Europe" won conditional approval of Secretary of State Marshall today, along with an endorsement by Winston Churchill.

Marshall is "deeply sympathetic towards the general objective," he wrote, "but we should make it clear that it is not our purpose to impose upon the peoples of Europe any particular form of political or economic association."

Churchill, wartime Prime Minister of Great Britain, radioed: "I have been encouraged by the evidence of support for United Europe in America."

Both leaders addressed their comment to a resolution pending in the Senate and House Foreign Committees which would put Congress on record as favoring "the creation of a United States of Europe within the framework of the United Nations."

Marshall's views, disclosed today on Capitol Hill, were expressed in a letter dated June 4 to Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which had requested a State Department report. That committee is considering resolutions introduced by Senators Fulbright (D-Ark) and Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah).

Churchill stated his position in a terse radiogram on June 6 to Rep. Hale Boggs (D-Ala), author of the companion bill in the House.

Vandenberg told a reporter that his committee has no present plans for action on the resolution, that "we have a lot of must legislation that has priority over it."

Marshall, assuming that the general phrasing of the resolution was intended "for the purpose of endorsing a principle without raising numerous important questions of detail," wrote that he is "deeply sympathetic towards the general objective of the resolution."

Senate Confirms Five Appointments

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The Senate rushed through confirmation today of five presidential nominations covering American diplomatic and economic activities on far-flung global fronts.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, sped the nominations through without opposition, telling his colleagues they required "immediate attention."

The list:

1. Dwight B. Griswold, 53, former three-time Republican Governor of Nebraska, as chief of the Greek phase of the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program to stem Communism.

2. Norman Armour, 59, one of the nation's most widely experienced diplomats, as Assistant Secretary of State. His task: to unify the State Department's political affairs in all parts of the world.

3. Richard F. Allen, 56, vice chairman of the American Red Cross as Field Director of the $350,000,000 foreign relief program for needy countries.

4. Emmett O'Neal, 60, former Democratic Representative from Kentucky, as United States Ambassador to the New Philippine Republic. He succeeds Paul V. McNutt.

5. Monnett B. Davis, 53, American Consul General in Shanghai, as United States representative to the Economic Council on Asia and the Far East. The council meets in Shanghai June 16.

Girl, 13, Attacked

BALTIMORE, June 10. (AP)—A 13-year-old girl, Annabella Ingram, was slashed and beaten into semi-consciousness today, a half hour after she started home from school on a short-cut through the woods, police reported.

EISENHOWER'S SON WED—Friends and wellwishers gather outside the Centaurian Church, at the Fort Monroe, Va., army post to greet Capt. John Eisenhower, son of the Chief of Staff and his bride, the former Barbara Jean Thompson, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Percy W. Thompson, as they leave the church after their wedding ceremony yesterday afternoon. Many high-ranking officers witnessed the traditional ceremony performed by Post Chaplain E. M. Mize.

Mongolian Troops Reported Invading Sinkiang Province

Four Soviet Planes Cover Army Advance

NANKING, June 10 (AP)—Central News Agency tonight reported Mongolian troops from Soviet dominated outer Mongolia, supported by four Soviet war planes, invaded Sinkiang Province.

The Mongols quickly penetrated 200 miles while "four planes with Soviet emblems covered the advance, bombing and strafing troops and civilians," said the official, government sponsored agency.

Fighting Continues

"Bitter fighting continues" between the Mongols, including well supported cavalry, and Sinkiang native troops, added the dispatch, which was dated June 6 (Friday). It said the invasion began June 9.

Chinese correspondents had been filing exciting stories of the Sinkiang situation since Friday, but the Chinese government suppressed them. Tonight it released the agency's four day old dispatch.

Tonight's Central News Agency dispatch was dated June 6 at Tihwa, the Sinkiang capital. There was no explanation whether the government had suppressed it pending confirmation, although the agency said its sources were official. Nanking long has been hesitant to circulate or permit publication of reports critical of the Russians, with whom it is negotiating to take over administration of the treaty ports, Darien and Port Arthur in Manchuria.

A year ago, revolt flared in Western Sinkiang, China's most northwestern province and one of its most isolated. Because of its remoteness, lack of communications and virtual government silence, details of the fighting were not learned.

Top General Sent

The situation became so critical, however, that Chiang Kai-Shek sped one of his top generals, Chang Chih-Chung, to Sunkiang as governor and sent in some troops.

There were numerous unofficial charges that outer Mongolians and Chinese Communists, with Russian assistance, inspired and supported the revolt, but the government never confirmed them.

Outer Mongolia was granted its independence about a year ago and declared itself a Republic, but persistently has been reported to be Russian dominated.

Maryland Youth Drowns

GLENN DALE, Md., June 10. (AP)—George Sartain, 8, drowned when he pursued a turtle which escaped into the water of Folly Branch while George was playing with it on the stream's bank.

Mayor Saves Young Negro, 19, From Mob

Angered Crowd Had Rope o Hang Him

HURTSBORO, Ala., June 10 (AP)—A 19-year-old negro was rescued by the town mayor and three other white men today from a mob which had the youth hogtied, a rope looped around his neck and which was threatening to lynch him.

The mayor, 48-year-old Hurt Vann, said he persuaded the crowd, growing "larger and rougher" by the minute to release the negro, Jimmy Harris, because "that is the best way—we ought to let the law take its course."

Seized By Mob

Vann said the negro had been seized by the mob after a white woman reported he broke into her home and attempted to rape her. Mayor Vann said the woman's screams brought a neighbor who "threw the negro into the street."

Immediately, he said, a mob gathered, seized the negro and lashed him with a rope obtained from a nearby truck.

Mayor Vann, former Mayor H. M. Rutherford and his son, Phil, and city councilman H. T. Ellison arrived as "about 25" white men were beating the negro with the rope end and their fists. The negro was prostrate, the Mayor said.

The crowd, said the Mayor, was preparing to lynch the negro on a tree near the center of this Southeast Alabama town of about one thousand population.

Raced Out Of Town

Mayor Vann said he rushed Harris to a pickup truck and raced out of town. "I knew we wouldn't have a chance if he stayed there," he said.

Outside town, he switched to a private car and sped towards the Russell County Seat, Phenix City. Eighteen miles from Hurtsboro, he met County Sheriff Ralph Matthrews, and State Highway Patrolmen, and placed the negro in their custody.

Harris was rushed to Phenix City Jail and then to the state prison in Montgomery "for his protection."

Infants' Deaths Termed Homicide

MASSILLON, O., June 10 (AP) — Two girl babies died in the pediatrics ward of City Hospital last Friday night of "blunt force, the exact nature or manner of occurrence being undetermined," a coroner's report stated today.

Dr. E. C. Reno, Stark County Coroner, adhered to his previously announced conclusion of homicide in the deaths of the two babies in filing a formal report of his investigation.

Rosemary Morton, nine-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Morton, died of intra-cranial and extra-cranial hemorrhage, laceration of the brain, a fractured skull and "blunt force, the exact nature or manner of occurrence being undetermined," Dr. Reno stated.

She "came to her death by homicide," said the coroner.

He listed the same causes of death for Diane J. Brand, 10-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brand, but noted "multiple fractures of the skull" in the case of the Brand baby.

The coroner's report was filed as police officials still pursued divergent theories of murder and accidental death in their investigation.

Police Chief Stanley S. Switter earlier said he still was working under the belief that the two babies were killed accidentally, possibly by children who might have removed them from their cribs.

U. S. Red Leader Is Found Guilty On Contempt Count

Refused To Take Oath At Hearing

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP) — German-born Gerhart Eisler, 51, alleged link between the Kremlin and American Communists, was convicted of contempt of Congress today for refusing to be sworn for testimony before the House Committee on un-American Activities.

Jury Out 20 Minutes

A federal court jury deliberated 20 minutes in reaching its verdict after a four-day trial.

Eisler, a squat, bespectacled little man, sat unblinking as the word "guilty" was pronounced and showed little interest as Justice Alexander Holtzoff set June 27 for passing sentence.

The contempt charge, a misdemeanor, carries a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and four months to one year in prison. The court continued Eisler's $20,000 bond.

Interested spectators at the wind-up of the case included 16 executive board members of the "Joint anti-Fascist refugee committee." All are charged with contempt of the House Committee and with conspiring to withhold records of their organization.

Justice Holtzoff opened their trial immediately after clearing away the Eisler case.

Will Not Be Recalled

Informed of the Eisler verdict, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) of the House un-American Activities committee told a reporter he does not intend to call Eisler back before the committee.

"The jury's verdict can be interpreted as a protection of the investigating powers of the Congress," he said.

During the trial, Eisler contended that he had been willing to answer the House Committee's question, but not until he was permitted to read a prepared statement objecting to being transported by U. S. deputies from New York to Washington.

"In other words, you would testify only on your own terms," Justice Holtzoff remarked.

Youth Acquitted Of Slaying Sexton

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 10—(AP)—Stuart B. Allen, 16-year-old adopted son of a minister, was acquitted by a Circuit Court jury late today on a charge of slaying the sexton of his foster father's church. The jury ruled him innocent by reason of insanity, and said he was still insane.

The state had charged the youth with the hammer and mutilations slaying of John Frank, in the basement of the church last april 1.

The jury agreed on the first of eight ballots that the youth killed the sexton, but not until the last ballot did the jurors agree that he was insane, said Stewuart McClung, foreman.

Packers Give Varied Reasons For Cost Hikes

Steak Brings $1.25 Pound In Scranton

NEW YORK, June 10—(AP)—Rapid advances in retail meat prices, in some cases to record high levels, were reported today from many sections of the country.

Explanations for the rise ranged from heavy foreign purchases to higher feed costs. Some packers said frankly they were puzzled by the sharp increase in retail prices.

In the Scranton, Pa., area a large independent market sold steak between $1 and $1.25 a pound, compared with 80 cents six months ago. A chain store sold steak at 87 to 93 cents, compared with 70 to 75 cents six months ago.

In New York the housewife paid between 72 to 90 cents for top grades of steak and some dealers predicted the price would soar to $1 by the weekend.

Kansas City reported most beef cuts up five cents a pound over last week with sirloin at 69 to 70 cents, T-bone at 73 and ground beef at 39.

Advance 5-6 Per Cent

A leading chain store operating on a national basis said its meat prices on the average had advanced five to six per cent in the last two months. The chain declined to be identified.

Philadelphia meat interests said a shortage, which caught meat dealers completely off guard, drove prices to the highest on record. Increases of eight to 11 cents a pound over a week ago were noted at the retail level.

Jack Kranis, president of the National Meat Industry Council, said:

"Within the last few weeks agents of buyers in England, Germany, Poland, Belgium, Holland and France and other countries in that part of Europe have been buying everything they can get in slaughtered meat, and they are paying up to four cents a pound more than American buyers are willing to pay.

"This is the principal cause of the rising retail prices of the past week or two in this country."

In Chicago, however, the American Meat Institute said there was virtually no direct meat buying by Europaen agents. The institute added that a free market in export meat did not exist inasmuch as shipments were regulated by United States Department of Agriculture export allocations.

A spokesman for Swift and Company, in Chicago said the government restricts quotas and bids by foreign purchasers to levels that are supposed not to disturb the domestic market.

In Washington it was learned from the USDA that there had been no change in the size of meat allocations. Allocations for the current quarter equal approximately two days United States production.

Some Deals "Possible"

Officials added it was possible some deals are being made in anticipation of possible ending of export controls July 1. Legislation to extend controls is pending in Congress.

One trade interest pointed to the recent rise in feed grains as a prominent factor behind the increase in retail meat prices. Consumer income is still at a record high, he added, and many people are willing to pay the increases. He noted, however, signs of consumer resistance.

Miners' Protest Strike Breaking Up

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 10. (AP)—The so-called "protest" strike by some 17,000 soft coal miners in Pennsylvania and Indiana over pending labor legislation appeared to be breaking up tonight as the United Mine Workers took to the radio in an effort to get the men back to work.

Local radio stations carried a half-hour intervals an appeal from William Hynes, president of UMW District Four where the walkouts centered, that "to protect the membership of District 4, United Mine Workers of America, all men who are idle in protest of the Labor Bill are urged to return to work immediately."

As a result of a meeting with Hynes earlier today, a spokesman for the 785 workers at the Isabella Mine of Weirton Coal Company said the men would return to their jobs tomorrow.

Immediate End Of Sugar Rationing Approved By House Banking Group

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP) — Legislation calling for an immediate end of sugar rationing for home consumption was approved overwhelmingly today by the House Banking Committee, and Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) predicted prompt House passage, probably on Thursday.

The legislation, introduced by Rep. Gamble (R-NY), does not list sugar price controls.

Moreover, it continues the authority of the Secretary of Agriculture to exercise inventory controls over sugar supplies of industrial users.

The Banking Group sent a report to the House saying Cuban sugar production has exceeded "the most optimistic estimates," and supplies also are greater from Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Cuban supplies were listed by the committee at 6,360,000 tons instead of 5,500,000 tons as previously estimated.

There is sufficient sugar now available, the committee said.

British Prefer To Take Medicine By Mouth, But U. S. Likes Needle

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 10 (AP) — Declaring the British prefer to take any medicine by mouth, if possible, Sir Howard W. Florey, a pioneer in penicillin research, said today it was his "impression" that many Americans felt they have to be jabbed with a needle to be treated properly.

He made that comment to the American Medical Association's centennial convention today during a talk concerning the quest in many countries for new "antibiotics" — the class of medicines that includes penicillin and streptomycin. It is a quest that already has led to the examination of many types of fungus and bacterial organisms as sources of germ-fighting materials, and Florey said there were a few encouraging leads. He added:

"I think on present evidence it is safe to say that further antibiotics will be found which will find a place in medicine."

Robert Crabtree, Navy veteran who is a senior at Fort Hill High School, has been named the "Best Fort Hill Player of 1947" and has also been awarded the music scholarship given annually by Phi Omicron Delta sorority at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Crabtree, a tenor, sang in several concerts to win the scholarship, which entitles him to one year's study of music at the Frostburg college. As a player in 1943, he appeared in "Papa Is All," and since his return has appeared in "January Thaw."

In addition, the Fort Hill Thespians have honored two players for their work in productions of Troupe 230 at the school, according to Miss Gerardine Pritchard, Thespian sponsor.

Louise Wigfield, a senior, who is principally known for juvenile roles, was elected to the honorary order of Knight of the Masque, and Francis Streiby was chosen Best Thespian for 1947.

The troupe held an election recently and named Marybelle Bagent as president. Other new officers are Doris Jean Poorbaugh, secretary; Jean Allen, treasurer; and Harry Johnson, publicity manager.

Charles Hammaker was selected to represent the club in the interschool National Thespian Council comprised of troupes at Allegany and Fort Hill.

Second Baptist Revival Will Be Continued

Revival services at the Second Baptist Church will continue through next week, according to the pastor, Rev. J. C. Ledbetter. Following Dr. Joseph W. Burton's series of sermons, which will be concluded with Youth Night Friday, Dr. W. J. Crowder, Baltimore, will be the evangelist for the second week. Services are being held each night at 8 o'clock.

Discipline in the home is basic to a well ordered society, Dr. Burton declared at Family Night services Tuesday evening. "Sorrow awaits the home, the child, and the society," the evangelist asserted, "when the parent neglects the child at the points of respect for authority and of Christian faith. Where are all our boasted achievements if we lose our children? If we lose our homes we have lost everything," he added.

Pointing out that many children are not safe today, he said that their security could be guaranteed by proper parental guidance in the matter of reading, companions, conversation in the home, and prayer for and with children. He made a plea for daily family Bible reading and prayer.

3-Year-Old Girl Hurt When Struck By Car

Peggy Bucklew, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bucklew, 221 South Mechanic Street, was treated in Memorial Hospital shortly before noon yesterday for minor facial lacerations suffered when she was struck by a car in front of her home.

Memorial Hospital attaches said they were told the child ran in front of a car operated by Maurice Cohn, 57 Baltimore Street. Police did not prefer charges.

Ronald Athey, 5-year-old son of Herman Athey, 318 Laing Avenue, was treated in the same hospital yesterday morning after both thumbs were lacerated when caught in a lawn mower.

B. & O. To Ask Bids On 3,000 Hopper Cars

The Baltimore and Ohio will immediately ask for bids on 3,000 additional hopper cars, according to an announcement made today by Roy B. White, B & O president. Of these, 2000 will be of 70-ton capacity and the remaining 1000 of 50-ton capacity.

The Baltimore and Ohio already has on order 8,500 freight cars, of which 1,500 are box cars, 6,000 are 50-ton hopper cars, and 1,000 are 70-ton hopper cars. Of these, 839 of the box cars have been delivered during the last few months, and 310 of the 50-ton hopper cars, leaving a total of 6,690 hopper cars and 661 box cars, on which substantial deliveries will be made during the next few months and complete deliveries made by the end of this year.

CRABTREE IS NAMED BEST 1947 PLAYER

Robert Crabtree, Navy veteran who is a senior at Fort Hill High School, has been named the "Best Fort Hill Player of 1947" and has also been awarded the music scholarship given annually by Phi Omicron Delta sorority at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Crabtree, a tenor, sang in several concerts to win the scholarship, which entitles him to one year's study of music at the Frostburg college. As a player in 1943, he appeared in "Papa Is All," and since his return has appeared in "January Thaw."

In addition, the Fort Hill Thespians have honored two players for their work in productions of Troupe 230 at the school, according to Miss Gerardine Pritchard, Thespian sponsor.

Louise Wigfield, a senior, who is principally known for juvenile roles, was elected to the honorary order of Knight of the Masque, and Francis Streiby was chosen Best Thespian for 1947.

The troupe held an election recently and named Marybelle Bagent as president. Other new officers are Doris Jean Poorbaugh, secretary; Jean Allen, treasurer; and Harry Johnson, publicity manager.

Charles Hammaker was selected to represent the club in the interschool National Thespian Council comprised of troupes at Allegany and Fort Hill.

Second Baptist Revival Will Be Continued

Revival services at the Second Baptist Church will continue through next week, according to the pastor, Rev. J. C. Ledbetter. Following Dr. Joseph W. Burton's series of sermons, which will be concluded with Youth Night Friday, Dr. W. J. Crowder, Baltimore, will be the evangelist for the second week. Services are being held each night at 8 o'clock.

Discipline in the home is basic to a well ordered society, Dr. Burton declared at Family Night services Tuesday evening. "Sorrow awaits the home, the child, and the society," the evangelist asserted, "when the parent neglects the child at the points of respect for authority and of Christian faith. Where are all our boasted achievements if we lose our children? If we lose our homes we have lost everything," he added.

Pointing out that many children are not safe today, he said that their security could be guaranteed by proper parental guidance in the matter of reading, companions, conversation in the home, and prayer for and with children. He made a plea for daily family Bible reading and prayer.

3-Year-Old Girl Hurt When Struck By Car

Peggy Bucklew, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bucklew, 221 South Mechanic Street, was treated in Memorial Hospital shortly before noon yesterday for minor facial lacerations suffered when she was struck by a car in front of her home.

Memorial Hospital attaches said they were told the child ran in front of a car operated by Maurice Cohn, 57 Baltimore Street. Police did not prefer charges.

Ronald Athey, 5-year-old son of Herman Athey, 318 Laing Avenue, was treated in the same hospital yesterday morning after both thumbs were lacerated when caught in a lawn mower.

B. & O. To Ask Bids On 3,000 Hopper Cars

The Baltimore and Ohio will immediately ask for bids on 3,000 additional hopper cars, according to an announcement made today by Roy B. White, B & O president. Of these, 2000 will be of 70-ton capacity and the remaining 1000 of 50-ton capacity.

The Baltimore and Ohio already has on order 8,500 freight cars, of which 1,500 are box cars, 6,000 are 50-ton hopper cars, and 1,000 are 70-ton hopper cars. Of these, 839 of the box cars have been delivered during the last few months, and 310 of the 50-ton hopper cars, leaving a total of 6,690 hopper cars and 661 box cars, on which substantial deliveries will be made during the next few months and complete deliveries made by the end of this year.

Ten Don'ts By F. B. I. Chief On Communism

J. Edgar Hoover's advice on what to do about Communism is pretty well wrapped up in the following "10 Don'ts." These statements are highlights from an article by the F. B. I. director which appeared in the June 9 issue of Newsweek. The "10 Don'ts" are:

We can successfully defeat the Communist attempt to capture the United States by fighting it with truth and justice, implemented with a few "don'ts":

Don't label anyone as a Communist unless you have the facts.

Don't confuse liberals and progressives with Communists.

Don't take the law into your own hands. If Communists violate the law, report such facts to your law enforcement agency.

Don't be a party to the violation of the civil rights of anyone. When this is done, you are playing directly into the hands of the Communists.

Don't let up on the fight against real Fascists, the KKK and other dangerous groups.

Don't let Communists in your organization or Labor union out-work, out-vote or out-number you.

Don't be hoodwinked by Communist propaganda that says one thing but means destruction of the American Way of Life. Expose it with the truth.

Don't give aid and comfort to the Communist cause by joining front organizations, contributing to their campaign chests or by championing their cause in any way, shape or form.

Don't let Communists, infiltrate into our schools, churches and moulders of public opinion, the press, radio and screen.

Don't fail to make democracy work with equal opportunity and the fullest enjoyment of every American's right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Debunking Draft Figures

Nearly every person has at times expressed amazement over a set of statistics without bothering to inquire what the significance of the figures actually might be. An example of this is the tendency to be impressed by draft rejection figures of the late war without ascertaining the measure which the Army doctors were applying.

Many persons arrived at the conclusion, on the basis of the statistics alone, that the health of the nation, as indicated by the men in the younger age groups, was in a woeful state.

Dr. W. W. Bauer of Chicago, director of the bureau of health education of the American Medical Association, recently offered an interpretation of these statistics. He pointed out, in an address to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in Chicago, that draft rejection figures are merely a measure of the military availability of those examined, and not the status of their health, except in such instances as heart disease, tuberculosis and the like. These, he said, were a small percentage of the whole.

"The military examination," he said, "was not a health examination, a diagnostic examination or an insurance examination—it was concentrated on picking soldiers and rejecting not only those unfit but who might become unfit through military service. The unfit were declared, by one of our largest insurance companies eligible for life insurance at normal rates in 95 per cent of instances."

If most persons are destined to spend their days in time of peace rather than time of war, draft rejections cannot be taken as a true index of the state of the nation's health in the light of Dr. Bauer's interpretation.

If the nations of the world use the horrible weapons of war that are currently discussed, it will be highly-trained men rather than huge armies which will be required to win the next war. So the standards of physical fitness for wartime service probably must be revised.

The pedestrian may be wrong, but he doesn't deserve a death sentence.

No Saber-Rattling

Perhaps not every professional soldier in the world would subscribe to what General Eisenhower told the West Point graduating class, but those who would differ with him believe in war for war's sake.

The professional soldier justifies his place in American life, said General Eisenhower, through his self-dedication to the preservation of the free system established by the Constitution.

"Your immediate mission," he told the West Pointers, "is one upon the very existence of our nation may depend—the fortress must be strong, its garrison the embodiment of military effectiveness.

"But this service does not imply subscription to the rule of might. War is mankind's most tragic and stupid folly; to seek or advise its deliberate provocation is a black crime against all men. Though you follow the trade of the warrior, you do so in the spirit of Washington—not that of Genghis Khan."

There is no thought of American aggression in the American conception of national defense. Anybody who would read any hint of saber-rattling into General Eisenhower's words does so for reasons not at all in accord with American ideals and principles.

Too much lipstick and rouge can make a nightmare out of a dream.

Socialized Medicine

President Truman's recent socialized medicine message discloses that Mr. Truman still has to deal with the same element in his political party which was in control when he took over, although a large segment of it is currently shouting for Wallace and Russian "friendship."

Socialized medicine as practiced under dictators calls for converting the ailing citizen into a government project. He would become the patient not of a doctor but of a bureau.

All doctors would be drafted into the system and forced to reach their conclusions and apply treatment according to rules laid down in Washington. The money would come from a 3½ per cent payroll tax. The effect would be, of course, to nationalize the healing art and make ever citizen dependent on some public official for medical treatment.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

STREPTOMYCIN IN TUBERCULOSIS

THREE years ago Waksman discovered streptomycin and since then there has been considerable research designed to determine its ability to overwhelm various germs. The antibiotic passed its laboratory trials with flying colors but when used on human beings, only a few diseases rather than a great many were influenced.

Every one has been anxious to learn whether it will be of value in tuberculosis. This malady is different from others as convalescence usually demands months or years, a fact which makes evaluation of the substance difficult. The first reports were a bit disappointing but, as time passes, it looks as though the material has merit in this ailment.

Why have physicians changed their minds? The early work was carried out chiefly on extremely ill patients, with rapidly progressing lesions, who had not responded to routine measures. In other words, only the worst cases were treated. Furthermare, as with any new drug, the proper dosage was not known. There is little wonder that the results were uncertain.

The outlook shifted when more of the remedy became available. Investigators in different parts of the country began to study its effects. It can be said now that streptomycin is beneficial in certain forms of tuberculosis. It is not so good that sanitorium care or the several procedures that are in routine use will be replaced but the drug can be employed as an adjunct and should decrease the long period of disability.

Reports have appeared in the literature during the past few months which indicate that many —not all—of those with lung involvement improved dramatically. The temperature returned to normal, X-rays of the chest showed a gain, and the causative germs vanished from the sputum. Others were better for a while and then developed a setback. A more thoro study of this group showed that the organisms became resistant to streptomycin so that it was no longer helpful. These patients were then forced to rely upon the older methods of treatment.

Sufferers with advanced infections were also aided and sufficient strength returned so that chest surgery could be performed months ahead of schedule. But when the bacilli had invaded the blood stream or the brain, the picture was less hopeful. Nevertheless, some were saved which is unusual in cases of this nature. Draining lesions of the glands or bones were relieved temporarily but the condition reverted to its former state after the preparation was stopped. Individuals with tubercular laryngitis or bronchitis seemed to respond favorably.

This chapter in the history of medicine is still being written and it is hoped, for the sake of the untold thousands suffering from tuberculosis, that streptomycin will prove effective. Even though it does not cure, if the course of the disease can be shortened, it will be well worth while.

A FORM OF ACNE

M. L. writes: What is the name of the condition characterized by a red nose and red cheeks? The color apparently stems from enlargement of small blood vessels near the surface of the skin. What is the cause? May it not be due to exposure during very cold wather?

REPLY

In this condition— acne rosacea—the skin is affected adversely thru irritation, dietary errors, digestive disturbances or inflamation somewhere in the body. Protection against the elements and the restriction of alcoholic and caffeine beverages, sweets, highly seasoned foods, and hot liquids may prove helpful. Adequate elimination should be necouraged. Any focal infection present must be removed. Tonics, especially preparations containing vitamin B, are advised and soothing lotions and ointments may be used. Occasionally electrolysis is employed to eradicate the blemishes.

ALCOHOL AND SKIN OUTBREAK

G. writes: What is the cause of red blotches appearing on the arms of a person who has been drinking alcoholic beverages?

REPLY

There are so many skin blemishes which can be described as "red blotches" that I would hestiate to comment on the possible cause. On the other hand the lesions may be a toxic or an allergic reaction to alcohol. If the individual has been drinking for a long time and neglecting his meals, it may indicate a vitamin deficiency. Another idea is that he may have been injured while under the influence and does not remember the mishap. Finally, the use of alcoholic beverages may not be a factor, as any one can develop skin eruptions.

COLON AND PAIN

R. T. writes: Could a spastic bowel cause sciatica?

REPLY

This is a rare possibility but I have seen cases in which colon symptoms aggravated sciatica. By relieving the spastic bowel, pain was lessened.

FAT ACCUMULATION

F. K. writes: What causes fat around the heart?

REPLY

Raiding the icebox at night is one cause—in other words, the same factors which add flesh anywhere on the body.

STRONG

F. W. writes: What is a sthenic person?

REPLY

A strong individual. The asthenic, on the other hand, lacks vigor and is usually tired. The hypersthenic person has an oversupply of vim and vigor.

Republicans Plot Tax Strategy "With Malice Aforethought", Pearson Says; Truman Gives Notice With "Support"; GOP Tightens Practice Of "Pairing"

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Here is the inside strategy Republican leaders in Congress have already cooked up if President Truman vetoes the Tax Bill—as he is sure to do.

Late last week, House Republican leaders were tipped off by White House contacts that the President would veto the Tax bill, with a message announcing that he would call a special session of Congress in the fall for the purpose of drafting another tax bill giving help to low-bracket taxpayers, but none to the high-brackets.

Following this advice, certain key leaders of the House GOP Steering Committee and the Ways and Means Committee held a secret meeting, at which the following strategy was devised:

(1) Knowing that they do not have the votes to override a Truman veto—and thus pass the Tax bill over the President's head—the GOP leaders decided to make no concerted fight for an overrider.

(2) The House GOP leadership may sit tight and not even offer a motion to override. In fact, if such a motion is offered, a group of Republicans led by Representative Clarence Brown, of Ohio, will actually the President to further insure the death of their own Tax bill.

(3) But here is the payoff. If a special session is called in the fall, the House Republican leaders plan to pass another Tax bill, identical with the one now before the President.

Purpose of this strategy is to force Truman to veto the same bill twice.

The GOP leaders feel it would make excellent campaign material in next year's elections if they can dramatize the fact that President Truman rejected a tax-reduction bill not once, but twice.

Truman's Kiss of Death

Shortly before President Truman fired him, Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden was discussing Argentine affairs at the White House, at which time the President said:

"Spruille, I want you to know that I'm 100 per cent behind you. I'll back you all the way."

Elated, Braden went back to the State Department. There a friend remarked:

"That's exactly what Truman said to Henry Wallace the day before he fired him. He told Henry that he would back him all the way, too, next day Wallace was out."

Henry Morgenthau's friends tell the same story. After Roosevelt died, Henry Morgenthau offered to resign as Secretary of the Treasury, but Truman insisted that he remain. In fact, the week before Truman left for Potsdam he summoned Morgenthau to the White House, clasped his hand and said:

"Henry, when I took this job, I didn't know you very well. But since I've worked with you, I've begun to feel like a brother towards you. And I want you to feel like a brother towards me."

Exactly eight days later, and without prior warning, Truman sent his hatchet man, Sam Rosenman, around to see Morgenthau, handed him his walking papers.

Republicans Get Tough

Senator Taft and cohorts suddenly have got tough regarding the gentlemanly practice of "pairing." This is a time-honored system whereby an absent Democratic senator can offset his absence by "pairing" with a Republican senator or vice versa. Thus one "no" vote counteracts a "year" vote.

When the Democratic move to postpone action on taxes came up, however, some interesting backstage byplay took place regarding this parliamentary etiquette.

Senator John Overton, Louisiana Democrat, twice telegraphed from Arizona where he is resting for his health, requesting a "pair" with his close Republican friend, Guy Cordon, of Oregon, later with Ed Robertson of Wyoming Both replied: "sorry."

Hospitalized Democratic Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee also asked his secretary, W. R. Davidson, to find a pair. Davidson tried bulking, genial Arthur Vandenberg.

"I'll be glad to pair with McKellar," agreed the Senator from Michigan, "If Millikin will release me."

Davidson carried the message to influential Senator Millikin of Colorado.

"I would like to do it," Millikin shrugged, "but the vote is too close. This is one bird we can't let get away."

Afterward Millikin admitted an advance agreement had been reached with Taft against granting pairs. But he said it applied only to the one issue. Apparently Majority Leader White, of Maine, had not heard of the decision for he said he tried to find a pair for McKellar without success.

"I sometimes miss those policy meetings because the (tobacco) smoke gives me hay fever," White explained later

"That doesn't mean," he hastened to add, "that I approve of senators being absent without reason. I am an old woman on the subject."

GOP tactics particularly rankled Illinois' Scott Lucas who rose on the Senate floor to denounce Republican disregard for courtesy and tradition.

When the tax-postponement vote finally came, Senator Warren Magnuson, Democrat, of Washington, turned the other cheek, declined to vote, announcing that he had agreed to pair with absent Republican Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Maritime Labor Trouble

President Phil Murray has stepped in to settle a raging feud between East Coast Maritime labor boss Joe Curran and West Coast longshoremen leader Harry Bridges which threatens to blow CIO Maritime unity sky-high.

This was the reason behind a secret meeting Murray held in New York yesterday at which Curran and his right-hand man, Hoyt Haddock, secretary of the CIO National Maritime Committee, gave their side of the tiff with Bridges.

The tempest started over Bridges' efforts to replace Haddock with a personal stooge in Washington NMC headquarters. However, the real issue goes much deeper and involves a long-standing row between Curran and Bridges for top control of CIO maritime labor.

Curran told Murray that Bridges was using the Haddock issue to stir up internal dissension during contract negotiations with ship-owners when, Curran contended, the maritime unions should be pulling together, not apart.

Note—Murray, who once threatened to toss Bridges out of the CIO for troublemaking, is most anxious to avoid trouble on the verge of a threatened shipping strike and with labor legislation pending.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

THE Truman Doctrine involved the United States in practices based upon policy which must be pursued logically or they will crash into a mad confusion. It is not sufficient to hurl pronunciamentoes from Washington and then to subside into a political desuetude designed to hold splinter voting segments.

In a word, the logic of the Truman Doctrine is that the United States has assumed the historic role of opposing ideological Communism and imperialistic Russia. This both the President and Congress said beyond doubt. But neither dares to penetrate the logical next steps, which are the rebuilding of Germany and Japan as defensive outposts for the United States.

Stalin answered the Truman Doctrine by the coup d'etat in Hungary and by the public announcement of the Communist Balkan League which has long been in existence. But the coup in Hungary and Dimitrov's murders in Bulgaria are baby steps in the direction of a Soviet Europe. The real test of strength must come in Germany.

Germany is the historic barrier to Slav advance into Europe. Germany and Poland together have time after time saved Western civilization from the hordes of Asia. From the time of the Teutonic Knights, in the Thirteenth Century, to recent years the Germanic World concerned itself with maintaining a barrier between Europe and the Slavs.

Time after time, various peoples of Asia rolled into Europe. Many of these races settled in Europe, the Magyars, for instance, who occupy Hungary, being a people out of what is now called Chinese Turkestan. Both the Seljuk and Osmanli Turks originated in this same general area. It was the Teutonic peoples assisted for a time by Christianized Poles, who safeguarded European culture and civilization from these onslaughts.

The Germanic peoples have been on the defensive from their earliest history and never enjoyed such a period of peace as Britain knew from the collapse of the Spanish Armada to the Napoleonic wars. Whether through the Danube or on the East-West crossroads, the Germanic countries knew no prolonged era of security. Yet, in this atmosphere of war, dynastic strife, in security, Mittleuropa provided more than its share of advanced minds in all fields of human development. When science entered upon its career of remaking the world two centuries ago, Germany assumed the lead in practical applications — a lead which it has never relinquished, even if German scientists are today refugees in a score of countries.

It is this Germany that Russia needs for the conquest of Europe. Without it, all Soviet plans must fail, because out of Germany can come the spiritual and material strength to withstand this new menace. If Russia can bend Germany to her will, Europe can be conquered and the Soviet frontier can be moved forward to the English channel. If a non-Russian, anti-Soviet Germany can be erected out of the shambles of Hitlerism, Russia must wait, as the Bear has waited for 1,000 years, for another chance.

The logical implication of the Truman Doctrine is a strong Germany. The Russians have had the assistance of the United States in the pastoralization of Germany and the crushing of Austria under the Morgenthau Plan and JCS 1067 which our army of occupation has pursued literally.

The problem then is to apply the Truman Doctrine to Germany. But this our officials in Washington dare not do lest it arouse all the forces in this country which hate Germany more than they serve the United States. In a word, the Administration, while it is sound on the theory of the Truman Doctrine, is weak in its application, fearful lest the logic of its conduct reduce its vote in the big cities of this country in 1948.

It seems to me that foreign policy, based upon broad historic doctrines, designed to offset a fighting war by assertions of strength at the right time and in the right place, cannot be confined within the narrow margins of partisan political assumptions. Those, for instance, who measure the New York City vote in a presidential election against safeguarding the world from conquest by Russia, sacrifice civilization for the crumbs of election returns. Our sons' lives are imperiled by that.

Isolationist Sentiment Is Noted In Democratic Party

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 10—Democratic leaders are in a bit of a quandary over the election in the State of Washington where a Henry Wallace man came within 1,500 votes of beating the Republican nominee for Congress.

In 1946, the Republican nominee won by 6,695 but in 1944 the same district went Democratic by 4,439. So it is apparent that the Democratic Party has either recovered some Democratic votes or else it has captured some new Republican votes. It might be a little of both and a common cause.

The fact that the Democratic nominee, Charles Savage, did not endorse the Truman doctrine but stayed on the fence while the Republican nominee who won, Russell V. Mack, campaigned behind the bipartisan foreign policy and supported the Truman doctrine designed to stop Communistic expansion in the Near East, is a rather unusual division for a political test nowadays.

Tests of this kind, however, occurred frequently after World War I and they indicated a trend toward isolationism. In that period, the Republican Party was sorely divided on foreign-policy issues while the Democratic Party nominees almost unanimously supported the League of Nations and American co-operation in European affairs.

Isolationist Sentiment Rises

The rise of isolationist sentiment inside the Democratic Party has recently been noted, especially since Henry Wallace, former vice-president and member of President Truman's Cabinet, has been campaigning the country. Regardless of how roundly Mr. Wallace may be denounced, the fact remains that he is appealing to the same kind of isolationist sentiment this time as the Republicans did after World War I. Then as now the issue of the isolationists was related to "peace," it being argued that the League of Nations would entangle the United States in more war. Mr. Wallace's argument is to no small extent aimed at the groups and elements which feel that any firm policy toward Russia may provoke war.

Mr. Wallace, in speaking in various parts of the country, has been welcomed by some prominent Democrats. In California, James Roosevelt was one of the sponsors of the Wallace meeting and it is apparent that many "Left Wingers" who feel very deeply about the importance of maintaining friendly relations with Communist Russia are also influential in the Democratic Party.

The late President Roosevelt had his troubles with the pro-Russian faction in the Democratic Party at the time when the Russians were allied with Hitler and prior to the June 1941 outbreak of war between Russia and Germany. When that event occurred, the Russian sympathizers in America switched their propaganda to support the war effort for they wanted America to help Russia with lend-lease. Now they are on the Russian side again and trying hard to embroil the Democratic Party on the anti-Truman doctrine side.

Cannot Ride Two Horses

These adventures reflect to some extent an interest in the fortunes of Russia and to some extent a desire to commit America to a hands-off policy so far as Europe is concerned. The Democratic Party cannot, however, successfully ride two horses, and Mr. Truman's leadership must inevitably bring a showdown. There is nothing to the idea, however, that a third party is threatened. Actually the isolationists do not work that way—they try to bore within their own party. The Democratic isolationist element is not to be dismissed lightly. It showed itself in the Mack-Savage election in the State of Washington and it will show itself again in other contests — especially in the primaries.

The President is reported to have denounced the Wallace trip to Europe in a private letter to the commander of one of the ex-service organizations but it will take more than denunciation in private correspondence to set the Democratic leaders straight in various states where isolationist sentiment is being whipped up by the Wallace speeches.

Action Of Truman On Labor Bill Is Watched By Public

By MARK SULLIVAN

Public interest in whether President Truman vetoes the Labor bill includes interest in the considerations that bear upon him as he arrives at decision. Granting that Mr. Truman is conscientious, that he has a mind of his own and arrives ultimately at his own decisions, it remains inevitable that he must to some extent depend upon others.

This is true of any measure coming before any President, and especially true of the Labor bill containing some 20,000 words and including many intricate provisions, expressed with minute care and defination. During the same two weeks in which the Labor bill was being put in final form by conferees of the House and Senate, many other problems of extreme public importance weighed upon the President, and he was obliged by official engagement and his mother's illness to spend many days away from Washington. Under modern conditions no President can be expected to give meticulous word by word study to every word of every legislative measure or other document that goes before him. As a substitute there is in the Executive Department a system which lays before the President accurate and adequate digests of measures and accompanying data.

Committee Worked Diligently

Considering the handicap under which any President as an individual necessarily is, there is some weight in the fact that the committees and groups in Congress who draft measures and who propose and argue for amendments, have given the subjects a minuteness of care impossible for the Executive to achieve. The pending Labor bill was written with meticulous word by word care by the Labor Committees of the House and Senate. Within the Senate Committee there was prolonged face-to-face argument, conducted in a spirit of mutual respect, by Senators holding such opposed views on some provisions as Mr. Ball of Minnesota and Mr. Ives of New York. Again, in the conference of committees of the House and Senate, to adjust differences between the versions originally passed by the two, there was prolonged concentration upon provisions to be put in the bill. The care and discussion that went into the writing of the Labor bill is itself a consideration that should weigh upon the President's decision on it.

In yet another respect the Labor bill deserves a special consideration from the President. To a degree not often equaled this bill represents the will of the legislative branch of government. As it lies on the President's desk it was passed by the House wit ha majority of more than 4 to 1, literally 320 to 79. In the Senate the majority was more than 3 to 1, literally 54 to 17. And in both House and Senate a majority of the President's own party supported the bill. In the House 103 Democrats voted for it, only 66 against. In the Senate 17 Democrats supported the bill, 15 opposed.

President Is On Spot

From his official family, the President receives information and advice. From other sources he receives pleas and pressures. Among these the most strenuous come from the labor leaders. These are hardly in a position to receive the consideration they demand. Throughout the weeks in which the labor legislation was being written, the labor leaders maintained a single position, no legislation at all. To Congress they offered no alternative, and they now offer none to the President. The tens of thousands of letters and telegrams which labor leaders have incited to be sent to the White House each and all come down to four words, "veto the Labor bill."

Veto of the Labor bill by President Truman would be an extreme use of the veto power, an extreme assertion of the constitutional power of the executive to frustrate the legislative branch. Not only has the legislative branch expressed itself by a more than 4 to 1 vote in the House and a more than three to one vote in the Senate for the bill as it now lies before the President. Further than that, Congress has already paid deference and consideration to the President. In the final form of the bill arrived at by conference committees of the House and Senate, provisions were dropped which Congress wanted and which had been written into the original versions passed by the Senate and House. They were dropped for the deliberate purpose of making the bill more acceptable to the President. That reflected a spirit of cooperation on the part of Congress. Veto now by the President would fairly be regarded by Congress as a refusal of cooperation.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I see that there is a great deal of concern in Detroit these days because less than half the eggs in Detroit originate in Michigan. The state wants more eggs produced there.

This brings to mind the story of old Ned, the poor farmer from the San Fernando Valley who owned a chicken farm.

His great pride in life was Jennifer, his prolific hen, reputed to drop eggs faster than my sponsor drops options.

Word spread around the Valley that Jennifer could put out 3-a-day and in a good week could hit an even two dozen.

People would come from miles around to watch Jennifer in action and old Ned became the proudest farmer in California.

Then one day it happened. Jennifer didn't give.

Old Ned was terror-tricken. He couldn't believe his eyes as they searched the nest and found only a forlorn hen looking up as though to say, "I did my best. Believe me, I tried, Ned."

Ned understood, he smiled, shrugged his shoulders and said, "you need a vacation, Jenny. Take the rest of the day off."

But the next morning he looked again and again Jenny hadn't delivered. She just sat there hardly able to face him, choking with shame.

Then Ned began to try everything. He brought a radio into the loft and played "The Barn Dance."

He told her about the goose that laid the golden eggs and even stayed up nights reading her statistics on mass production.

But all Jennifer furnished was a few half hearted chuckles and a warmed-over nest. No eggs.

The one morning at dawn, Ned happened to get up earlier than usual for his trip to town. As he started down the highway in his car, a sight suddenly met his eyes that turned his blood cold and made tears stream down his cheeks.

Two hundred yards up the road stood Jennifer, spread before her were two dozen of the biggest eggs in San Fernando, and in back of her stood a huge sign:

"Why pay more on the inside?"

Ten Don'ts By F. B. I. Chief On Communism

J. Edgar Hoover's advice on what to do about Communism is pretty well wrapped up in the following "10 Don'ts." These statements are highlights from an article by the F. B. I. director which appeared in the June 9 issue of Newsweek. The "10 Don'ts" are:

We can successfully defeat the Communist attempt to capture the United States by fighting it with truth and justice, implemented with a few "don'ts":

Don't label anyone as a Communist unless you have the facts.

Don't confuse liberals and progressives with Communists.

Don't take the law into your own hands. If Communists violate the law, report such facts to your law enforcement agency.

Don't be a party to the violation of the civil rights of anyone. When this is done, you are playing directly into the hands of the Communists.

Don't let up on the fight against real Fascists, the KKK and other dangerous groups.

Don't let Communists in your organization or Labor union out-work, out-vote or out-number you.

Don't be hoodwinked by Communist propaganda that says one thing but means destruction of the American Way of Life. Expose it with the truth.

Don't give aid and comfort to the Communist cause by joining front organizations, contributing to their campaign chests or by championing their cause in any way, shape or form.

Don't let Communists, infiltrate into our schools, churches and moulders of public opinion, the press, radio and screen.

Don't fail to make democracy work with equal opportunity and the fullest enjoyment of every American's right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Debunking Draft Figures

Nearly every person has at times expressed amazement over a set of statistics without bothering to inquire what the significance of the figures actually might be. An example of this is the tendency to be impressed by draft rejection figures of the late war without ascertaining the measure which the Army doctors were applying.

Many persons arrived at the conclusion, on the basis of the statistics alone, that the health of the nation, as indicated by the men in the younger age groups, was in a woeful state.

Dr. W. W. Bauer of Chicago, director of the bureau of health education of the American Medical Association, recently offered an interpretation of these statistics. He pointed out, in an address to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in Chicago, that draft rejection figures are merely a measure of the military availability of those examined, and not the status of their health, except in such instances as heart disease, tuberculosis and the like. These, he said, were a small percentage of the whole.

"The military examination," he said, "was not a health examination, a diagnostic examination or an insurance examination—it was concentrated on picking soldiers and rejecting not only those unfit but who might become unfit through military service. The unfit were declared, by one of our largest insurance companies eligible for life insurance at normal rates in 95 per cent of instances."

If most persons are destined to spend their days in time of peace rather than time of war, draft rejections cannot be taken as a true index of the state of the nation's health in the light of Dr. Bauer's interpretation.

If the nations of the world use the horrible weapons of war that are currently discussed, it will be highly-trained men rather than huge armies which will be required to win the next war. So the standards of physical fitness for wartime service probably must be revised.

The pedestrian may be wrong, but he doesn't deserve a death sentence.

No Saber-Rattling

Perhaps not every professional soldier in the world would subscribe to what General Eisenhower told the West Point graduating class, but those who would differ with him believe in war for war's sake.

The professional soldier justifies his place in American life, said General Eisenhower, through his self-dedication to the preservation of the free system established by the Constitution.

"Your immediate mission," he told the West Pointers, "is one upon the very existence of our nation may depend—the fortress must be strong, its garrison the embodiment of military effectiveness.

"But this service does not imply subscription to the rule of might. War is mankind's most tragic and stupid folly; to seek or advise its deliberate provocation is a black crime against all men. Though you follow the trade of the warrior, you do so in the spirit of Washington—not that of Genghis Khan."

There is no thought of American aggression in the American conception of national defense. Anybody who would read any hint of saber-rattling into General Eisenhower's words does so for reasons not at all in accord with American ideals and principles.

Too much lipstick and rouge can make a nightmare out of a dream.

Socialized Medicine

President Truman's recent socialized medicine message discloses that Mr. Truman still has to deal with the same element in his political party which was in control when he took over, although a large segment of it is currently shouting for Wallace and Russian "friendship."

Socialized medicine as practiced under dictators calls for converting the ailing citizen into a government project. He would become the patient not of a doctor but of a bureau.

All doctors would be drafted into the system and forced to reach their conclusions and apply treatment according to rules laid down in Washington. The money would come from a 3½ per cent payroll tax. The effect would be, of course, to nationalize the healing art and make ever citizen dependent on some public official for medical treatment.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

STREPTOMYCIN IN TUBERCULOSIS

THREE years ago Waksman discovered streptomycin and since then there has been considerable research designed to determine its ability to overwhelm various germs. The antibiotic passed its laboratory trials with flying colors but when used on human beings, only a few diseases rather than a great many were influenced.

Every one has been anxious to learn whether it will be of value in tuberculosis. This malady is different from others as convalescence usually demands months or years, a fact which makes evaluation of the substance difficult. The first reports were a bit disappointing but, as time passes, it looks as though the material has merit in this ailment.

Why have physicians changed their minds? The early work was carried out chiefly on extremely ill patients, with rapidly progressing lesions, who had not responded to routine measures. In other words, only the worst cases were treated. Furthermare, as with any new drug, the proper dosage was not known. There is little wonder that the results were uncertain.

The outlook shifted when more of the remedy became available. Investigators in different parts of the country began to study its effects. It can be said now that streptomycin is beneficial in certain forms of tuberculosis. It is not so good that sanitorium care or the several procedures that are in routine use will be replaced but the drug can be employed as an adjunct and should decrease the long period of disability.

Reports have appeared in the literature during the past few months which indicate that many —not all—of those with lung involvement improved dramatically. The temperature returned to normal, X-rays of the chest showed a gain, and the causative germs vanished from the sputum. Others were better for a while and then developed a setback. A more thoro study of this group showed that the organisms became resistant to streptomycin so that it was no longer helpful. These patients were then forced to rely upon the older methods of treatment.

Sufferers with advanced infections were also aided and sufficient strength returned so that chest surgery could be performed months ahead of schedule. But when the bacilli had invaded the blood stream or the brain, the picture was less hopeful. Nevertheless, some were saved which is unusual in cases of this nature. Draining lesions of the glands or bones were relieved temporarily but the condition reverted to its former state after the preparation was stopped. Individuals with tubercular laryngitis or bronchitis seemed to respond favorably.

This chapter in the history of medicine is still being written and it is hoped, for the sake of the untold thousands suffering from tuberculosis, that streptomycin will prove effective. Even though it does not cure, if the course of the disease can be shortened, it will be well worth while.

A FORM OF ACNE

M. L. writes: What is the name of the condition characterized by a red nose and red cheeks? The color apparently stems from enlargement of small blood vessels near the surface of the skin. What is the cause? May it not be due to exposure during very cold wather?

REPLY

In this condition— acne rosacea—the skin is affected adversely thru irritation, dietary errors, digestive disturbances or inflamation somewhere in the body. Protection against the elements and the restriction of alcoholic and caffeine beverages, sweets, highly seasoned foods, and hot liquids may prove helpful. Adequate elimination should be necouraged. Any focal infection present must be removed. Tonics, especially preparations containing vitamin B, are advised and soothing lotions and ointments may be used. Occasionally electrolysis is employed to eradicate the blemishes.

ALCOHOL AND SKIN OUTBREAK

G. writes: What is the cause of red blotches appearing on the arms of a person who has been drinking alcoholic beverages?

REPLY

There are so many skin blemishes which can be described as "red blotches" that I would hestiate to comment on the possible cause. On the other hand the lesions may be a toxic or an allergic reaction to alcohol. If the individual has been drinking for a long time and neglecting his meals, it may indicate a vitamin deficiency. Another idea is that he may have been injured while under the influence and does not remember the mishap. Finally, the use of alcoholic beverages may not be a factor, as any one can develop skin eruptions.

COLON AND PAIN

R. T. writes: Could a spastic bowel cause sciatica?

REPLY

This is a rare possibility but I have seen cases in which colon symptoms aggravated sciatica. By relieving the spastic bowel, pain was lessened.

FAT ACCUMULATION

Republicans Plot Tax Strategy "With Malice Aforethought", Pearson Says; Truman Gives Notice With "Support"; GOP Tightens Practice Of "Pairing"

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Here is the inside strategy Republican leaders in Congress have already cooked up if President Truman vetoes the Tax Bill—as he is sure to do.

Late last week, House Republican leaders were tipped off by White House contacts that the President would veto the Tax bill, with a message announcing that he would call a special session of Congress in the fall for the purpose of drafting another tax bill giving help to low-bracket taxpayers, but none to the high-brackets.

Following this advice, certain key leaders of the House GOP Steering Committee and the Ways and Means Committee held a secret meeting, at which the following strategy was devised:

(1) Knowing that they do not have the votes to override a Truman veto—and thus pass the Tax bill over the President's head—the GOP leaders decided to make no cencerted fight for an overrider.

(2) The House GOP leadership may sit tight and not even offer a motion to override. In fact, if such a motion is offered, a group of Republicans led by Representative Clarence Brown, of Ohio, will actually the President to further insure the death of their own Tax bill.

(3) But here is the payoff. If a special session is called in the fall, the House Republican leaders plan to pass another Tax bill, identical with the one now before the President.

Purpose of this strategy is to force Truman to veto the same bill twice.

The GOP leaders feel it would make excellent campaign material in next year's elections if they can dramatize the fact that President Truman rejected a tax-reduction bill not once, but twice.

Truman's Kiss of Death

Shortly before President Truman fired him, Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden was discussing Argentine affairs at the White House, at which time the President said:

"Spruille, I want you to know that I'm 100 per cent behind you. I'll back you all the way."

Elated, Braden went back to the State Department. There a friend remarked:

"That's exactly what Truman said to Henry Wallace the day before he fired him. He told Henry that he would back him all the way, too, next day Wallace was out."

Henry Morgenthau's friends tell the same story. After Roosevelt died, Henry Morgenthau offered to resign as Secretary of the Treasury, but Truman insisted that he remain. In fact, the week before Truman left for Potsdam he summoned Morgenthau to the White House, clasped his hand and said:

"Henry, when I took this job, I didn't know you very well. But since I've worked with you, I've begun to feel like a brother towards you. And I want you to feel like a brother towards me."

Exactly eight days later, and without prior warning, Truman sent his hatchet man, Sam Rosenman, around to see Morgenthau, handed him his walking papers.

Republicans Get Tough

Senator Taft and cohorts suddenly have got tough regarding the gentlemanly practice of "pairing." This is a time-honored system whereby an absent Democratic senator can offset his absence by "pairing" with a Republican senator or vice versa. Thus one "no" vote counteracts a "year" vote.

When the Democratic move to postpone action on taxes came up, however, some interesting backstage byplay took place regarding this parliamentary etiquette.

Senator John Overton, Louisiana Democrat, twice telegraphed from Arizona where he is resting for his health, requesting a "pair" with his close Republican friend, Guy Cordon, of Oregon, later with Ed Robertson of Wyoming Both replied: "sorry."

Hospitalized Democratic Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee also asked his secretary, W. R. Davidson, to find a pair. Davidson tried bulking, genial Arthur Vandenberg.

"I'll be glad to pair with McKellar," agreed the Senator from Michigan, "If Millikin will release me."

Davidson carried the message to influential Senator Millikin of Colorado.

"I would like to do it," Millikin shrugged, "but the vote is too close. This is one bird we can't let get away."

Afterward Millikin admitted an advance agreement had been reached with Taft against granting pairs. But he said it applied only to the one issue. Apparently Majority Leader White, of Maine, had not heard of the decision for he said he tried to find a pair for McKellar without success.

"I sometimes miss those policy meetings because the (tobacco) smoke gives me hay fever," White explained later

"That doesn't mean," he hastened to add, "that I approve of senators being absent without reason. I am an old woman on the subject."

GOP tactics particularly rankled Illinois' Scott Lucas who rose on the Senate floor to denounce Republican disregard for courtesy and tradition.

When the tax-postponement vote finally came, Senator Warren Magnuson, Democrat, of Washington, turned the other cheek, declined to vote, announcing that he had agreed to pair with absent Republican Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Maritime Labor Trouble

President Phil Murray has stepped in to settle a raging feud between East Coast Maritime labor boss Joe Curran and West Coast longshoremen leader Harry Bridges which threatens to blow CIO Maritime unity sky-high.

This was the reason behind a secret meeting Murray held in New York yesterday at which Curran and his right-hand man, Hoyt Haddock, secretary of the CIO National Maritime Committee, gave their side of the tiff with Bridges.

The tempest started over Bridges' efforts to replace Haddock with a personal stooge in Washington NMC headquarters. However, the real issue goes much deeper and involves a long-standing row between Curran and Bridges for top control of CIO maritime labor.

Curran told Murray that Bridges was using the Haddock issue to stir up internal dissension during contract negotiations with ship-owners when, Curran contended, the maritime unions should be pulling together, not apart.

Note—Murray, who once threatened to toss Bridges out of the CIO for troublemaking, is most anxious to avoid trouble on the verge of a threatened shipping strike and with labor legislation pending.

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

THE Truman Doctrine involved the United States in practices based upon policy which must be pursued logically or they will crash into a mad confusion. It is not sufficient to hurl pronunciamentoes from Washington and then to subside into a political desuetude designed to hold splinter voting segments.

In a word, the logic of the Truman Doctrine is that the United States has assumed the historic role of opposing ideological Communism and imperialistic Russia. This both the President and Congress said beyond doubt. But neither dares to penetrate the logical next steps, which are the rebuilding of Germany and Japan as defensive outposts for the United States.

Stalin answered the Truman Doctrine by the coup d'etat in Hungary and by the public announcement of the Communist Balkan League which has long been in existence. But the coup in Hungary and Dimitrov's murders in Bulgaria are baby steps in the direction of a Soviet Europe. The real test of strength must come in Germany.

Germany is the historic barrier to Slav advance into Europe. Germany and Poland together have time after time saved Western civilization from the hordes of Asia. From the time of the Teutonic Knights, in the Thirteenth Century, to recent years the Germanic World concerned itself with maintaining a barrier between Europe and the Slavs.

Time after time, various peoples of Asia rolled into Europe. Many of these races settled in Europe, the Magyars, for instance, who occupy Hungary, being a people out of what is now called Chinese Turkestan. Both the Seljuk and Osmanli Turks originated in this same general area. It was the Teutonic peoples assisted for a time by Christianized Poles, who safeguarded European culture and civilization from these onslaughts.

The Germanic peoples have been on the defensive from their earliest history and never enjoyed such a period of peace as Britain knew from the collapse of the Spanish Armada to the Napoleonic wars. Whether through the Danube or on the East-West crossroads, the Germanic countries knew no prolonged era of security. Yet, in this atmosphere of war, dynastic strife, in security, Mittleuropa provided more than its share of advanced minds in all fields of human development. When science entered upon its career of remaking the world two centuries ago, Germany assumed the lead in practical applications — a lead which it has never relinquished, even if German scientists are today refugees in a score of countries.

It is this Germany that Russia needs for the conquest of Europe. Without it, all Soviet plans must fail, because out of Germany can come the spiritual and material strength to withstand this new menace. If Russia can bend Germany to her will, Europe can be conquered and the Soviet frontier can be moved forward to the English channel. If a non-Russian, anti-Soviet Germany can be erected out of the shambles of Hitlerism, Russia must wait, as the Bear has waited for 1,000 years, for another chance.

The logical implication of the Truman Doctrine is a strong Germany. The Russians have had the assistance of the United States in the pastoralization of Germany and the crushing of Austria under the Morgenthau Plan and JCS 1067 which our army of occupation has pursued literally.

The problem then is to apply the Truman Doctrine to Germany. But this our officials in Washington dare not do lest it arouse all the forces in this country which hate Germany more than they serve the United States. In a word, the Administration, while it is sound on the theory of the Truman Doctrine, is weak in its application, fearful lest the logic of its conduct reduce its vote in the big cities of this country in 1948.

It seems to me that foreign policy, based upon broad historic doctrines, designed to offset a fighting war by assertions of strength at the right time and in the right place, cannot be confined within the narrow margins of partisan political assumptions. Those, for instance, who measure the New York City vote in a presidential election against safeguarding the world from conquest by Russia, sacrifice civilization for the crumbs of election returns. Our sons' lives are imperiled by that.

Isolationist Sentiment Is Noted In Democratic Party

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 10—Democratic leaders are in a bit of a quandary over the election in the State of Washington where a Henry Wallace man came within 1,500 votes of beating the Republican nominee for Congress.

In 1946, the Republican nominee won by 6,695 but in 1944 the same district went Democratic by 4,439. So it is apparent that the Democratic Party has either recovered some Democratic votes or else it has captured some new Republican votes. It might be a little of both and a common cause.

The fact that the Democratic nominee, Charles Savage, did not endorse the Truman doctrine but stayed on the fence while the Republican nominee who won, Russell V. Mack, campaigned behind the bipartisan foreign policy and supported the Truman doctrine designed to stop Communistic expansion in the Near East, is a rather unusual division for a political test nowadays.

Tests of this kind, however, occurred frequently after World War I and they indicated a trend toward isolationism. In that period, the Republican Party was sorely divided on foreign-policy issues while the Democratic Party nominees almost unanimously supported the League of Nations and American co-operation in European affairs.

Isolationist Sentiment Rises

The rise of isolationist sentiment inside the Democratic Party has recently been noted, especially since Henry Wallace, former vice-president and member of President Truman's Cabinet, has been campaigning the country. Regardless of how roundly Mr. Wallace may be denounced, the fact remains that he is appealing to the same kind of isolationist sentiment this time as the Republicans did after World War I. Then as now the issue of the isolationists was related to "peace," it being argued that the League of Nations would entangle the United States in more war. Mr. Wallace's argument is to no small extent aimed at the groups and elements which feel that any firm policy toward Russia may provoke war.

Mr. Wallace, in speaking in various parts of the country, has been welcomed by some prominent Democrats. In California, James Roosevelt was one of the sponsors of the Wallace meeting and it is apparent that many "Left Wingers" who feel very deeply about the importance of maintaining friendly relations with Communist Russia are also influential in the Democratic Party.

The late President Roosevelt had his troubles with the pro-Russian faction in the Democratic Party at the time when the Russians were allied with Hitler and prior to the June 1941 outbreak of war between Russia and Germany. When that event occurred, the Russian sympathizers in America switched their propaganda to support the war effort for they wanted America to help Russia with lend-lease. Now they are on the Russian side again and trying hard to embroil the Democratic Party on the anti-Truman doctrine side.

Cannot Ride Two Horses

These adventures reflect to some extent an interest in the fortunes of Russia and to some extent a desire to commit America to a hands-off policy so far as Europe is concerned. The Democratic Party cannot, however, successfully ride two horses, and Mr. Truman's leadership must inevitably bring a showdown. There is nothing to the idea, however, that a third party is threatened. Actually the isolationists do not work that way—they try to bore within their own party. The Democratic isolationist element is not to be dismissed lightly. It showed itself in the Mack-Savage election in the State of Washington and it will show itself again in other contests — especially in the primaries.

The President is reported to have denounced the Wallace trip to Europe in a private letter to the commander of one of the ex-service organizations but it will take more than denunciation in private correspondence to set the Democratic leaders straight in various states where isolationist sentiment is being whipped up by the Wallace speeches.

Action Of Truman On Labor Bill Is Watched By Public

By MARK SULLIVAN

Public interest in whether President Truman vetoes the Labor bill includes interest in the considerations that bear upon him as he arrives at decision. Granting that Mr. Truman is conscientious, that he has a mind of his own and arrives ultimately at his own decisions, it remains inevitable that he must to some extent depend upon others.

This is true of any measure coming before any President, and especially true of the Labor bill containing some 20,000 words and including many intricate provisions, expressed with minute care and defination. During the same two weeks in which the Labor bill was being put in final form by conferees of the House and Senate, many other problems of extreme public importance weighed upon the President, and he was obliged by official engagement and his mother's illness to spend many days away from Washington. Under modern conditions no President can be expected to give meticulous word by word study to every word of every legislative measure or other document that goes before him. As a substitute there is in the Executive Department a system which lays before the President accurate and adequate digests of measures and accompanying data.

Committee Worked Diligently

Considering the handicap under which any President as an individual necessarily is, there is some weight in the fact that the committees and groups in Congress who draft measures and who propose and argue for amendments, have given the subjects a minuteness of care impossible for the Executive to achieve. The pending Labor bill was written with meticulous word by word care by the Labor Committees of the House and Senate. Within the Senate Committee there was prolonged face-to-face argument, conducted in a spirit of mutual respect, by Senators holding such opposed views on some provisions as Mr. Ball of Minnesota and Mr. Ives of New York. Again, in the conference of committees of the House and Senate, to adjust differences between the versions originally passed by the two, there was prolonged concentration upon provisions to be put in the bill. The care and discussion that went into the writing of the Labor bill is itself a consideration that should weigh upon the President's decision on it.

In yet another respect the Labor bill deserves a special consideration from the President. To a degree not often equaled this bill represents the will of the legislative branch of government. As it lies on the President's desk it was passed by the House wit ha majority of more than 4 to 1, literally 320 to 79. In the Senate the majority was more than 3 to 1, literally 54 to 17. And in both House and Senate a majority of the President's own party supported the bill. In the House 103 Democrats voted for it, only 66 against. In the Senate 17 Democrats supported the bill, 15 opposed.

President Is On Spot

From his official family, the President receives information and advice. From other sources he receives pleas and pressures. Among these the most strenuous come from the labor leaders. These are hardly in a position to receive the consideration they demand. Throughout the weeks in which the labor legislation was being written, the labor leaders maintained a single position, no legislation at all. To Congress they offered no alternative, and they now offer none to the President. The tens of thousands of letters and telegrams which labor leaders have incited to be sent to the White House each and all come down to four words, "veto the Labor bill."

Veto of the Labor bill by President Truman would be an extreme use of the veto power, an extreme assertion of the constitutional power of the executive to frustrate the legislative branch. Not only has the legislative branch expressed itself by a more than 4 to 1 vote in the House and a more than three to one vote in the Senate for the bill as it now lies before the President. Further than that, Congress has already paid deference and consideration to the President. In the final form of the bill arrived at by conference committees of the House and Senate, provisions were dropped which Congress wanted and which had been written into the original versions passed by the Senate and House. They were dropped for the deliberate purpose of making the bill more acceptable to the President. That reflected a spirit of cooperation on the part of Congress. Veto now by the President would fairly be regarded by Congress as a refusal of cooperation.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I see that there is a great deal of concern in Detroit these days because less than half the eggs in Detroit originate in Michigan. The state wants more eggs produced there.

This brings to mind the story of old Ned, the poor farmer from the San Fernando Valley who owned a chicken farm.

His great pride in life was Jennifer, his prolific hen, reputed to drop eggs faster than my sponsor drops options.

Word spread around the Valley that Jennifer could put out 3-a-day and in a good week could hit an even two dozen.

People would come from miles around to watch Jennifer in action and old Ned became the proudest farmer in California.

Then one day it happened. Jennifer didn't give.

Old Ned was terror-tricken. He couldn't believe his eyes as they searched the nest and found only a forlorn hen looking up as though to say, "I did my best. Believe me, I tried, Ned."

Ned understood, he smiled, shrugged his shoulders and said, "you need a vacation, Jenny. Take the rest of the day off."

But the next morning he looked again and again Jenny hadn't delivered. She just sat there hardly able to face him, choking with shame.

Then Ned began to try everything. He brought a radio into the loft and played "The Barn Dance."

He told her about the goose that laid the golden eggs and even stayed up nights reading her statistics on mass production.

But all Jennifer furnished was a few half hearted chuckles and a warmed-over nest. No eggs.

The one morning at dawn, Ned happened to get up earlier than usual for his trip to town. As he started down the highway in his car, a sight suddenly met his eyes that turned his blood cold and made tears stream down his cheeks.

Two hundred yards up the road stood Jennifer, spread before her were two dozen of the biggest eggs in San Fernando, and in back of her stood a huge sign:

"Why pay more on the inside?"

$15,000 Damage Suits Filed Against B & O

Two suits by titling against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company were filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Margaret Flora Grant, administratrix of the estate of the late Emma E. W. Flora, and by the State of Maryland to the use of Margaret F. Grant.

The suits were filed by William R. Carscaden and W. Earle Cobey, attorneys, and they indicated that damages totaling $15,000 will be asked when declarations are filed in the cases. The administratrix of the Grant estate will ask $5,000 and the suit of the state for use of Margaret F. Grant will asked for $10,000.

Emma E. W. Flora was killed August 29, 1946, when struck by a B. and O. express train No. 29 at Siebert, about five miles south of Cumberland.

The elderly woman, a retired government employe, who had been spending the summer with Mrs. C. H. Hamilton at Siebert, was taking a bundle of newspapers to a mail box across the tracks when she was struck about 7:40 a. m. by the express, according to a police report at the time.

Mrs. Flora, who was 81 years of age, was a native of this section and operated a restaurant on the Queen City Pavement more than 35 years ago. She was a widow of James W. Flora. She left Cumberland in 1913 and was employed with the Postoffce Department in Washington.

Stocks Push Ahead In Final Hours Of Market For Week's Best Average

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—Stocks pushed ahead in the final hour of today's market for their best average gain in a week.

Oils, coppers, retail stores, steels and some motors were principal gainers in the flurry of demand that shook the list from a sluggish routine. Advances ranged to more than a point.

Increased activity on the rise lifted total transfers to 650,000 shares compared with 550,000 Monday. The Associated Press 60-stock composite climbed .4 of a point to 61.4 for its best performance since June 3. Of 897 issues registering, 419 advanced and 237 declined.

Touching new 1947 highs were Standard Oil (N.J.) which closed up 1 at 74¼ and Texas Company, ahead 1⅛ at 62. Other leaders included United States Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester and United Aircraft. American Telephone declined ¼ closing at 161¾.

Higher in the curb were Cities Service, Creole Petroleum, Electric Bond & Share and United Light. Backward were Pantepec Oil and American Cyanamid. Turnover of 210,000 shares here compared with 190,000 Tuesday.

A heavily schedule of new financing diverted interest away from the bond market, leaving prices to drift irregularly lower in quiet dealings.

New utility and industrial loans totalling $27,500,000 were public offered, while underwriting groups bid in five other issues, aggregating $105,197,000, for future offering to investors.

Over-the-counter trading in U. S. Government bonds was quiet, and prices were mostly unchanged. The 2s of Sept. 1951-53 were up 1-32 and the 2⅞s of 1955-60 and the 2½s of 1956-70 were each off 1-32.

Stocks Push Ahead In Final Hours Of Market For Week's Best Average

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—Stocks pushed ahead in the final hour of today's market for their best average gain in a week.

Oils, coppers, retail stores, steels and some motors were principal gainers in the flurry of demand that shook the list from a sluggish routine. Advances ranged to more than a point.

Increased activity on the rise lifted total transfers to 650,000 shares compared with 550,000 Monday. The Associated Press 60-stock composite climbed .4 of a point to 61.4 for its best performance since June 3. Of 897 issues registering, 419 advanced and 237 declined.

Touching new 1947 highs were Standard Oil (N.J.) which closed up 1 at 74¼ and Texas Company, ahead 1¼ at 62. Other leaders included United States Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester and United Aircraft. American Telephone declined ¼ closing at 161¾.

Higher in the curb were Cities Service, Creole Petroleum, Electric Bond & Share and United Light. Backward were Pantepec Oil and American Cyanamid. Turnover of 210,000 shares here compared with 190,000 Tuesday.

A heavily schedule of new financing diverted interest away from the bond market, leaving prices to drift irregularly lower in quiet dealings.

New utility and industrial loans totalling $27,500,000 were public offered, while underwriting groups bid in five other issues, aggregating $105,197,000, for future offering to investors.

Over-the-counter trading in U. S. Government bonds was quiet, and prices were mostly unchanged. The 2s of Sept. 1951-53 were up 1-32 and the 2⅞s of 1955-60 and the 2½s of 1956-70 were each off 1-32.

BATTERED BUDGETS AND BROKEN HEARTS

So they were married. And lived happily ever after.

Like heck they did! For though he had a job, so did she, and the wedding march had ended in an anvil chorus before the honeymoon was through.

Cynical? No. I'm just dishing out a few tough truths to offset the slush wherewith we alibi the mounting peril of our broken homes. To hear us tell it in the divorce complaints you'd think that nine out of ten of our mismatings were due to man's villainy and woman's helplessness. Piffle!

The plain truth is that the overwhelming majority of broken hearts are wrecked by budgets, not brutality.

We think that's a new problem born of the machine age and the working wife. But it isn't new. Female workers may drag frenzied finance into the home but the cussedness that kills love started long before the Missus took an office job.

You can take it from Howe Ward Janssen. He should know. He's been married three times and now at 91 he certainly has the answers. "Dear Miss Robinson:

"We hear so much about the increasing divorce rate. If I have learned anything in almost a century of living and three marriages, it is that squabbling over pennies may balance the budget but add to a big deficit in life. Be big in small things. Money can be one of the least important things in married life. All anybody gets out of penny bookkeeping is a million dollar headache.

"Outliving, as I have, three wonderful women who did me the honor of being my successive wives, I can honestly say that the best thing about each of them was that not one of them was a penny pincher. I tried to be worthy of each of them, in this respect and in others. I never wanted or cared to know for what they spent the money. I trusted each and that was enough. I have lived during the terms of 20 presidents—from Pierce to Truman. My advice is this: trust people, not statistics!

"I once heard Chet Arthur say, when he was in the White House, that a little extra cash, generously spent or given, greased the wheels of living and made for a smoother ride through life. Young America, stop bickering over dimes and start living. You think too much of money. Sometimes, as I look about me I realize that G. B. Shaw was absolutely correct when he wrote: 'Youth is such a wonderful thing. It's a shame to waste it on children'!"

Fired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

This Teen-Age Girl Is Suffering From Jokeritis Adolescens

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a girl of 19, and have known a boy of 20 for the past five years. We have gone out together many times, and about seven months ago began going steady. He tells me he has always loved me and has asked me to marry him as soon as he finishes college.

I am sure we could make a go of marriage, but there is one thing which is holding me back. I am sure I love him, but when he kisses me, my stomach and knees fail to get weak, and I do not get the so-called chill up and down my spine. I enjoy kissing him, and having him kiss me, even without the chills.

Do you think a marriage of this sort could work out?

"WITHOUT CHILLS WILMA"

Dear "Wilma":

I may be wrong, of course, but I doubt very much if you have a bona fide case of serious heart trouble. On the contrary, what you write me of your symptoms—the lack of sensation in the stomach, the failure of the knee jerk, and the total absence of chills along the spine, makes me feel it highly probable that you are merely suffering from a transitory condition quite common among young people of your age, to which science gives the rather imposing name of jokeritis adolescense.

Do not allow yourself to become alarmed by this sinister-sounding expression, however—you know how these medical men are with their technical terms—as, in plain English, it means nothing more than a simple case of itching risibles, an ailment not nearly as trying as pimples, and which, like pimples, will disappear as you grow older.

Believe me, annoying as it is, especially when complicated, as I suspect yours may be, by periodic attacks of uncontrollable, hysterical giggling, it is definitely a temporary thing, of which you should be free in a few years. If I were you, I would put any worry about your reactions to this young man, or lack of them, out of my mind and wait for Time to get in its good work.

Council Opposes Route 40 Change At Eckhart Flat

Engineer Proposes Making Cut Deeper

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, June 10—Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore reports that the City Council has voted unanimously to support the plan of City Engineer Philip Hartig, who opposes raising the road level in relocating Route 40 at a point opposite the residences of Chester Stewart, Edgar Groves, Robert Glotfelty and others on Eckhart Flat, as proposed for the new highway.

The action of the City Council was the result of an appeal made by property owners May 6, stating that the proposed change in the grade would leave their properties all located in the city limits, so far below the new road that five or six steps would be required to ascend to the level of the proposed road.

The road level in dispute was established several months ago by engineers making the survey for the relocation of Route 40, but it was not until recently that the property owners realized the situation in which their properties would be placed.

The plan of City Engineer Hartig is to leave the present road level as it is and increase the depth of the cut through the fields between Frostburg and Eckhart. Because the section of Eckhart Flat to be raised is in the corporate limits, the mayor and city commissioners were asked to study the problem.

Chester Stewart, one of the property owners who appeared before the City Council, stated that a right-of-way man called at his home May 28 and asked him to get a bid on the cost of raising his residence. The bid, he reported, was $3,700. The right-of-way men also called on other property owners, Stewart said.

City Engineer Hartig says the action of the city has been reported to C. Baites Chaires, district engineer of the State Roads Commission.

The higher level of the road will necessitate the raising of the new highway entrance to Beall High School, but, so far as can be learned, there is no controversy between the County School Board and the State Roads Commission.

No Developments But Safe Cracking Probe Continues

There were no developments yesterday as State Police and Garrett County authorities pushed their investigation into burglaries at three Oakland offices and a Grantsville garage over the weekend.

"There's nothing new on it yet," said State's attorney Walter Dawson and Sheriff J. S. Teats. Cpl. Harry Holsinger, of the State Police, added that the probe is continuing but repeated the absence of new developments.

Authorities believe the four burglaries in which loot and damage amounted to more than $1,000 were the work of one group of thieves. They said the Casselman garage at Grantsville probably was entered early Sunday morning, and the Southern States store, Acorn Associates store and Piedmont Grocery office in Oakland likely were entered early Monday morning. All the thefts were discovered around 7 and 8 a. m. Monday.

Safes were forced open at the Casselman garage and at the Piedmont Grocery office and a total of about $550 taken, but a safe in the Southern States store, while badly damaged withstood a severe battering and was not opened. Several dollars were taken from unlocked filing cabinets in the Acorn Associates store.

The thieves used a crowbar to force entrance into the Oakland establishments, but entered the Grantsville garage by means of an unlocked side window.

ARMY RECRUITERS SIGN FOUR MEN

Army recruiters at the local office announced that four men were signed for the Regular Army and one for the Enlisted Reserve yesterday.

A veteran of the 11th Airborne Division, Lawrence Ransom Sherman, Needmore, W. Va., enlisted for three years in the same outfit, as a private first class. Kenneth Marshall Kenner, Westernport, signed for three years in the Signal Corps. He chose the Pacific Theater for his tour of duty.

A combat wounded veteran and ex-prisoner of war in Germany, Herman F. Eckmyer, Wiley Ford, enlisted as a Staff sergeant in the Air Force. Robert M. Long, Wiley Ford, W. Va., enlisted for 18 months in the Regular Army, unassigned.

Frederick L. Wheeler, 39 Oak Street, this city, joined the Enlisted Reserve for three years as a Technical Sergeant in the Army Air Force.

The local station was first among Maryland Recruiting stations in exceeding their quota of high school graduates signed for enlistment during the first week of June.

License Tags Ordered For Pin Ball Machines

Metal discs or small license tags for pinball and music machines were designed and approved yesterday by Allegany County Commissioners, and Clerk James A. Stevenson was instructed to place an order for the necessary number.

Under a new law licensing pin ball machines at $30 each per year, and "juke" boxes $10 per year, the tags are to be made so they can be tacked to the machines licensed.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the Board said the licenses will be issued through the office of Robert Jackson, clerk of court, and the license must be affixed to each machine July 1.

Fort Ashby Man's Thumb Is Cut By Saw

Edward Neff, 24, Fort Ashby, W. Va., was treated in Allegany Hospital yesterday after his left thumb was cut by a planing saw. Attaches said the first joint of the thumb had to be removed.

Mrs. Zona Gloss, 68, Mt. Savage, was admitted to Allegany yesterday for X-rays of a right hip injury suffered when she slipped and fell in the bedroom of her home.

Admitted To Bar

James S. Getty, Lonaconing, was one of 42 new lawyers admitted to the Maryland Bar yesterday by the Court of Appeals.

Chief Judge Ogle Marbury and Attorney General Hall Hammond greeted them with brief talks in the Appeals courtroom before they were sworn in and given certificates to practice law in the state. Court Clerk Maurice Ogle administered the oath before families and friends of the new attorneys.

Hammond told the group they were "officers of the court" and obliged to serve the court, "one of the three branches of government that have built our country to what it is today—one of the few places in the world where the dignity and freedom of men are paramount and protected."

Judge Marbury said they would be "marked men, bearing a responsibility to self and the past and present honorable bar of the state."

Marriage Licenses

Benjamin A. LaNeve, 190 North Centre Street, and Loretta Marie Carney, RFD No. 1, city.

Glenn Oliver Ryan, Eckhart, and Mary Madeline Shipley, 227 North Mechanic Street.

Robert Arnold Moyer, Luke, and Ellen Virginia Nealis, Westernport.

Frank Mason Price, Luke, and Julia Ann Waitekunas, Westernport.

Vocke Road Work May Start Soon

Board Approves Contractor's Bid

Work is expected to start soon on the resurfacing of Vocke Road, according to County Commissioners who approved a bid of the Cumberland Contracting Company of $40,300, with the contract to be let by the State Roads Commission. Half the cost of the work is to be paid by the Federal government, and after the work is completed, the road will revert to the State Roads system and will be maintained by the State Roads Commission.

Albert S. Paye, county engineer, said that the specifications under which the roads are built must follow recommendations of the State Roads Commission and this usually costs the county more money because state specifications call for more costly materials.

Paye urged the county to investigate the system used by Frederick county, which does its own road surveying and draws up its own plans. This method would result in a road being planned at a much lower cost. Money could be saved by use of a county survey crew and less costly materials could be specified.

A certified county engineer could form a survey crew under authorization of the State Roads Commission and qualify for federal aid, Paye said.

At present the county has a survey crew in training under a GI "on-the-job" program, and Paye said that by next spring the group would be qualified to do road surveys in the same manner as the survey group in Frederick county. He told the commissioners that West Virginia and Virginia use blacktopping mixed on the job instead of the plant mix, and that this also brings a huge saving in construction costs.

The board authorized Paye to take up the matter with the State Roads Commission next Tuesday when he visits Baltimore to obtain particulars of a bookkeeping system which must be installed by the county by July 1 on all jobs which use state funds.

A delegation of residents of Valley View Drive near Cresaptown appeared before the board to seek action in having repairs made on the road. They stated that after rains it is impossible to get in or out of the area. The request was referred to Paye.

The Board authorized the clerk to advertise for bids on a new 1947 six-cylinder, two door sedan automobile for use of the County Health Department.

Walter Mueller requested repairs to the Paw Paw Road, and the complaint was referred to Paye.

Council Opposes Route 40 Change At Eckhart Flat

Engineer Proposes Making Cut Deeper

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, June 10 — Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore reports that the City Council has voted unanimously to support the plan of City Engineer Philip Hartig, who opposes raising the road level in relocating Route 40 at a point opposite the residences of Chester Stewart, Edgar Groves, Robert Glotfelty and others on Eckhart Flat, as proposed for the new highway.

The action of the City Council was the result of an appeal made by property owners May 6, stating that the proposed change in the grade would leave their properties all located in the city limits, so far below the new road that five or six steps would be required to ascend to the level of the proposed road.

The road level in dispute was established several months ago by engineers making the survey for the relocation of Route 40, but it was not until recently that the property owners realized the situation in which their properties would be placed.

The plan of City Engineer Hartig is to leave the present road level as it is and increase the depth of the cut through the fields between Frostburg and Eckhart. Because the section of Eckhart Flat to be raised is in the corporate limits, the mayor and city commissioners were asked to study the problem.

Chester Stewart, one of the property owners who appeared before the City Council, stated that a right-of-way man called at his home May 28 and asked him to get a bid on the cost of raising his residence. The bid, he reported, was $3,700. The right-of-way men also called on other property owners, Stewart said.

City Engineer Hartig says the action of the city has been reported to C. Baites Chaires, district engineer of the State Roads Commission.

The higher level of the road will necessitate the raising of the new highway entrance to Beall High School, but, so far as can be learned, there is no controversy between the County School Board and the State Roads Commission.

No Developments But Safe Cracking Probe Continues

There were no developments yesterday as State Police and Garrett County authorities pushed their investigation into burglaries at three Oakland offices and a Grantsville garage over the weekend.

"There's nothing new on it yet," said State's attorney Walter Dawson and Sheriff J. S. Teats. Cpl. Harry Holsinger, of the State Police, added that the probe is continuing but repeated the absence of new developments.

Authorities believe the four burglaries in which loot and damage amounted to more than $1,000 were the work of one group of thieves. They said the Casseliman garage at Grantsville probably was entered early Sunday morning, and the Southern States store, Acorn Associates store and Piedmont Grocery office in Oakland likely were entered early Monday morning. All the thefts were discovered around 7 and 8 a. m. Monday.

Safes were forced open at the Cassellman garage and at the Piedmont Grocery office and a total of about $550 taken, but a safe in the Southern States store, while badly damaged withstood a severe battering and was not opened. Several dollars were taken from unlocked filing cabinets in the Acorn Associates store.

ARMY RECRUITERS SIGN FOUR MEN

Army recruiters at the local office announced that four men were signed for the Regular Army and one for the Enlisted Reserve yesterday.

A veteran of the 11th Airborne Division, Lawrence Ransom Sherman, Needmore, W. Va., enlisted for three years in the same outfit, as a private first class. Kenneth Marshall Kenner, Westernport, signed for three years in the Signal Corps. He chose the Pacific Theater for his tour of duty.

A combat wounded veteran and ex-prisoner of war in Germany, Herman F. Eckmyer, Wiley Ford, enlisted as a Staff sergeant in the Air Force. Robert M. Long, Wiley Ford, W. Va., enlisted for 18 months in the Regular Army, unassigned.

Frederick L. Wheeler, 39 Oak Street, this city, joined the Enlisted Reserve for three years as a Technical Sergeant in the Army Air Force.

The local station was first among Maryland Recruiting stations in exceeding their quota of high school graduates signed for enlistment during the first week of June.

License Tags Ordered For Pin Ball Machines

Metal discs or small license tags for pinball and music machines were designed and approved yesterday by Allegany County Commissioners, and Clerk James A. Stevenson was instructed to place an order for the necessary number.

Under a new law licensing pin ball machines at $30 each per year, and "juke" boxes $10 per year, the tags are to be made so they can be tacked to the machines licensed.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the Board said the licenses will be issued through the office of Robert Jackson, clerk of court, and the license must be affixed to each machine July 1.

Fort Ashby Man's Thumb Is Cut By Saw

Mrs. Zona Gloss, 68, Mt. Savage, was admitted to Allegany yesterday for X-rays of a right hip injury suffered when she slipped and fell in the bedroom of her home.

Admitted To Bar

James S. Getty, Lonaconing, was one of 42 new lawyers admitted to the Maryland Bar yesterday by the Court of Appeals.

Chief Judge Ogle Marbury and Attorney General Hall Hammond greeted them with brief talks in the Appeals courtroom before they were sworn in and given certificates to practice law in the state. Court Clerk Maurice Ogle administered the oath before families and friends of the new attorneys.

Hammond told the group they were "officers of the court" and obliged to serve the court, "one of the three branches of government that have built our country to what it is today—one of the few places in the world where the dignity and freedom of men are paramount and protected."

Judge Marbury said they would be "marked men, bearing a responsibility to self and the past and present honorable bar of the state."

Board Approves Contractor's Bid

Work is expected to start soon on the resurfacing of Vocke Road, according to County Commissioners who approved a bid of the Cumberland Contracting Company of $40,300, with the contract to be let by the State Roads Commission. Half the cost of the work is to be paid by the Federal government, and after the work is completed, the road will revert to the State Roads system and will be maintained by the State Roads Commission.

Albert S. Paye, county engineer, said that the specifications under which the roads are built must follow recommendations of the State Roads Commission and this usually costs the county more money because state specifications call for more costly materials.

Paye urged the county to investigate the system used by Frederick county, which does its own road surveying and draws up its own plans. This method would result in a road being planned at a much lower cost. Money could be saved by use of a county survey crew and less costly materials could be specified.

A certified county engineer could form a survey crew under authorization of the State Roads Commission and qualify for federal aid, Paye said.

At present the county has a survey crew in training under a GI "on-the-job" program, and Paye said that by next spring the group would be qualified to do road surveys in the same manner as the survey group in Frederick county. He told the commissioners that West Virginia and Virginia use blacktopping mixed on the job instead of the plant mix, and that this also brings a huge saving in construction costs.

The board authorized Paye to take up the matter with the State Roads Commission next Tuesday when he visits Baltimore to obtain particulars of a bookkeeping system which must be installed by the county by July 1 on all jobs which use state funds.

A delegation of residents of Valley View Drive near Cresaptown appeared before the board to seek action in having repairs made on the road. They stated that after rains it is impossible to get in or out of the area. The request was referred to Paye.

The Board authorized the clerk to advertise for bids on a new 1947 six-cylinder, two door sedan automobile for use of the County Health Department.

Walter Mueller requested repairs to the Paw Paw Road, and the complaint was referred to Paye.

FRIDAY GAME
Ridgeley at Naval Reserve
(6 p. m., Taylor Field)

By JOHN L. BORCHERT

Manager Art Garbark's Fort Cumberland Post American Legion tossers extended their winning streak to three games as they stopped the Cumberland Eagles 6-1 yesterday at Community Park in an Interstate League tussle.

Right Hander Norman Geatz scattered seven enemy hits and was in trouble in only one inning as he won his third game in four starts.

The defending champions lost no time in taking the lead as they shoved one run across in the first inning. Johnny Cox, leadoff man for Fort Cumberland, drew a pass to open the frame. Lou Baker was out as Vernon Penner made a sensational catch of his foul fly against the right field fence. Eddie Diehl forced Cox at second. Bob Pence's double to left-center moved Diehl to third and he came home on Sellers' passed ball.

Clinch Game In Fourth

The Legion clinched the game in the fourth with a three-run outburst. Jim Gaffney and Bill Bracey opened with singles to put runners on first and second. Bill Cumiskey lined out to Sterne at second. Charlie Cumiskey sent a grounder to Athey at short and when Sterne dropped the latter's throw Gaffney scored, Bracey pulled up at third and C. Cumiskey was safe at second. Norm Geatz singled through second scoring Bracey and C. Cumiskey. Cox got a scratch single and Geatz moved to second. The rally died as Lou Baker hit to George at third. The third sacker forced Geatz and after throwing late to Penner on first took a peg from the latter to nip Cox sliding into third.

The Eagles broke the ice in the fifth to score their only run. Ted Durbin singled scoring Lou Stitcher who had tripled.

Stitcher Is Loser

Stitcher, who lost his first game of the season, left the game for the Eagles in the fifth when he walked four men to force in the Legion's fifth tally. Diehl's double and Pence's single produced the final Legion run in the sixth.

Pence and Geatz of the Legion and Durbin and George of the Eagles each had two hits. Box:

"BABE" ZAHARIAS IS LONE U. S. SURVIVOR IN BRITISH TOURNEY

GULLANE, Scotland, June 10 (AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias, as hot today with her golf sticks as the blazing sun over her native Texas, blasted her way into the quarter-finals of the British women's championships with a pair of lop-sided victories as her two U. S. compatriots faltered.

The Babe, two strokes under men's par through one nine-hole stretch, was hotter than a kitchen stove. She knew it. Rer rivals knew it. And the gallery knew it. The native Scots forsook virtually every other match—not to see an upset but just to pop their eyes on her tremendous drives.

The former Olympic javelin thrower romped through Mrs. Val Reddan, one-time Irish champion, by a 6 and 4 score in the third round and crushed Mrs. Cosmo Falconer of Perth, Scotland, 6 and 5, in the afternoon.

Meanwhile, Helen Sigel of Philadelphia was eliminated in the morning and Ruth Woodward of Fall River, Mass., was ousted in the afternoon leaving The Babe as the lone U. S. threat for the sole major British golf title still on this side of the Atlantic.

Anthony "Bud" Scaletta put the Jaycees on a goose egg diet after an embarrassing first inning to mark up his sixth consecutive triumph of the campaign.

The K. of C. twirler collected three singles while "Chick" Snider belted a homer and triple and drove in five runs.

The Cumberland Outdoor Club was forced to play eight innings to edge the American Legion by the score of 6 to 5 at East Side Field. Raygor, who relieved Hobell in the 4th got credit for the victory. Chisholm with three hits and Jim Rice with two account for five of Legion's nine bingles. Often topped the Outdoor Club's attack with two bingles.

FRIDAY GAME
Ridgeley at Naval Reserve
(6 p. m., Taylor Field)

By JOHN L. BORCHERT

Manager Art Garbark's Fort Cumberland Post American Legion tossers extended their winning streak to three games as they stopped the Cumberland Eagles 6-1 yesterday at Community Park in an Interstate League tussle.

Right Hander Norman Geatz scattered seven enemy hits and was in trouble in only one inning as he won his third game in four starts.

The defending champions lost no time in taking the lead as they shoved one run across in the first inning. Johnny Cox, leadoff man for Fort Cumberland, drew a pass to open the frame. Lou Baker was out as Vernon Penner made a sensational catch of his foul fly against the right field fence. Eddie Diehl forced Cox at second. Bob Pence's double to left-center moved Diehl to third and he came home on Sellers' passed ball.

Clinch Game In Fourth

The Legion clinched the game in the fourth with a three-run outburst. Jim Gaffney and Bill Bracey opened with singles to put runners on first and second. Bill Cumiskey lined out to Sterne at second. Charlie Cumiskey sent a grounder to Athey at short and when Sterne dropped the latter's throw Gaffney scored, Bracey pulled up at third and C. Cumiskey was safe at second. Norm Geatz singled through second scoring Bracey and C. Cumiskey. Cox got a scratch single and Geatz moved to second. The rally died as Lou Baker hit to George at third. The third sacker forced Geatz and after throwing late to Penner on first took a peg from the latter to nip Cox sliding into third.

The Eagles broke the ice in the fifth to score their only run. Ted Durbin singled scoring Lou Stitcher who had tripled.

Stitcher Is Loser

Stitcher, who lost his first game of the season, left the game for the Eagles in the fifth when he walked four men to force in the Legion's fifth tally. Diehl's double and Pence's single produced the final Legion run in the sixth.

Pence and Geatz of the Legion and Durbin and George of the Eagles each had two hits. Box:

"BABE" ZAHARIAS IS LONE U. S. SURVIVOR IN BRITISH TOURNEY

GULLANE, Scotland, June 10 (AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias, as hot today with her golf sticks as the blazing sun over her native Texas, blasted her way into the quarter-finals of the British women's championships with a pair of lop-sided victories as her two U. S. compatriots faltered.

The Babe, two strokes under men's par through one nine-hole stretch, was hotter than a kitchen stove. She knew it. Rer rivals knew it. And the gallery knew it. The native Scots forsook virtually every other match—not to see an upset but just to pop their eyes on her tremendous drives.

The former Olympic javelin thrower romped through Mrs. Val Reddan, one-time Irish champion, by a 6 and 4 score in the third round and crushed Mrs. Cosmo Falconer of Perth, Scotland, 6 and 5, in the afternoon.

Meanwhile, Helen Sigel of Philadelphia was eliminated in the morning and Ruth Woodward of Fall River, Mass., was ousted in the afternoon leaving The Babe as the lone U. S. threat for the sole major British golf title still on this side of the Atlantic.

Blackwell Bags Eighth Win As Reds And Dodgers Split

Brooklyn Cops, 6-5, After Losing, 3-1

BROOKLYN, June 10 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers came from behind to salvage the second game of a doubleheader with Cincinnati 6-5 after losing the opener, 3-1, today but fell back into a second place tie with the Boston Braves who defeated Chicago.

Ewell Blackwell
REDS

Trailing 5-4 in the last half of the eighth inning, the Brooks tied the count on Jackie Robinson's home run and came through with the winning run on a walk and a double by Catcher Bruce Edwards. It was their first win over the Reds in five engagements this season. Ralph Branca, who lost the opener to Ewell Blackwell, got credit for the nightcap victory with two scoreless relief innings.

Blackwell, the stylish stringbean, twirled his eighth victory in the opener and his sixth straight. He missed a shutout in the ninth inning when with two out Gene Hermanski doubled and scored on Marv Rackley's single. The ex-GI fanned seven to increase his league-leading total to 58 strikeouts. ## CONSOLATION DAILY DOUBLE IS ADOPTED BY WEST VIRGINIA

The West Virginia Racing Association has made effective a rule requiring a "consolation daily double" prize where one or two prospective winners on a bettor's ticket is scratched, according to Thomas Flynn, member of the association.

Heretofore, the purchaser of a two-horse ticket at the parimutuel window received only the return of his money if one of his selections won and the other was withdrawn from the race.

Under the new rule, he will receive an addition to a percentage of the amount he would have been paid had the second horse also run and won. The rule already is effective in California and Illinois, Flynn said.

The rule was made effective in West Virginia on Monday at the same time the state started collecting three per cent of the pari-mutuel pool instead of the former one per cent tax it levied.

Shea Named Secretary

BEL AIR, Md., June 10 (AP)—General Manager G. Ray Bryson of Bel Air racetrack announced today the appointment of Matthias (Ty) Shea as racing secretary-handicapper succeeding William Shrewbridge.

The 10-day meeting at this Harford county oval opens July 23, and due to a conflict with dates at Monmouth Park, Shrewbridge will be serving as steward at the New Jersey plant.

Gordon Richards May Ride At Jamaica Track

LONDON, June 10 (AP) — Gordon Richards, champion British jockey, may ride Marcel Boussac's French colt Djelal in the international $100,000 Empire Gold Cup race at Jamaica track in New York July 19.

Richards said he had been invited by the French owner and breeder, to take the mount.

"I have not yet made any plans," said Gordon, who has piled up nearly 3,300 victories more than any rider in turf history, during his career. "But I may be able to go."

Blackwell Bags Eighth Win As Reds And Dodgers Split

Brooklyn Cops, 6-5, After Losing, 3-1

BROOKLYN, June 10 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers came from behind to salvage the second game of a doubleheader with Cincinnati 6-5 after losing the opener, 3-1, today but fell back into a second place tie with the Boston Braves who defeated Chicago.

Ewell Blackwell

Trailing 5-4 in the last half of the eighth inning, the Brooks tied the count on Jackie Robinson's home run and came through with the winning run on a walk and a double by REDS Catcher Bruce Edwards. It was their first win over the Reds in five engagements this season. Ralph Branca, who lost the opener to Ewell Blackwell, got credit for the nightcap victory with two scoreless relief innings.

Blackwell, the stylish stringbean, twirled his eighth victory in the opener and his sixth straight. He missed a shutout in the ninth inning when with two out Gene Hermanski doubled and scored on Marv Rackley's single. The ex-GI fanned seven to increase his league-leading total to 58 strikeouts. ### SAIN DEFEATS CUBS

BOSTON, June 10 (AP)—The Boston Braves made it four victories in a row today by edging the Chicago Cubs 2-1 behind silent Johnny Sain, who squeezed home what proved to be the winning run and then pitched himself out of a tight jam to gain his sixth triumph of the season.

By winning while the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 3-1 in the opener of a doubleheader the Braves assured themselves of at last a tie for second place in the National League.

When the Cubs made their run in the eighth it was the first inning in which the opposition has scored against the Tribe in 26 frames. Box:

CONSOLATION DAILY DOUBLE IS ADOPTED BY WEST VIRGINIA

The West Virginia Racing Association has made effective a rule requiring a "consolation daily double" prize where one or two prospective winners on a bettor's ticket is scratched, according to Thomas Flynn, member of the association.

Heretofore, the purchaser of a two-horse ticket at the parimutuel window received only the return of his money if one of his selections won and the other was withdrawn from the race.

Under the new rule, he will receive an addition to a percentage of the amount he would have been paid had the second horse also run and won. The rule already is effective in California and Illinois, Flynn said.

The rule was made effective in West Virginia on Monday at the same time the state started collecting three per cent of the pari-mutuel pool instead of the former one per cent tax it levied.

Shea Named Secretary

BEL AIR, Md., June 10 (AP)—General Manager G. Ray Bryson of Bel Air racetrack announced today the appointment of Matthias (Ty) Shea as racing secretary-handicapper succeeding William Shrewbridge.

The 10-day meeting at this Harford county oval opens July 23, and due to a conflict with dates at Monmouth Park, Shrewbridge will be serving as steward at the New Jersey plant.

LONDON, June 10 (AP)—Gordon Richards, champion British jockey, may ride Marcel Boussac's French colt Djelal in the international $100,000 Empire Gold Cup race at Jamaica track in New York July 19.

Richards said he had been invited by the French owner and breeder, to take the mount.

"I have not yet made any plans," said Gordon, who has piled up nearly 3,300 victories more than any rider in turf history, during his career. "But I may be able to go."

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

PITCHING HORSESHOES

By BILLY ROSE

Mrs. Barbara Denhoff
New Hope, Pennsylvania
Dear Barbara,

Sorry I didn't get to your wedding. Here's what happened.

Eleanor and I arranged to drive to New Hope with your Cousin Ted. We didn't know he was the kind of fellow who (a) knew short-cuts, and (b) wouldn't ask directions.

Billy Rose

H epicked us up about 10:30 in the morning. "The Holland Tunnel is always jammed on Saturday," he said. "We'll save time taking the ferry to Jersey." Seeing as how it was Ted's car, I kept quiet. Ten minutes later we were driving up the auto ramp of the Albany Night Boat. "They must have moved the pier," Ted flipped, as we backed off.

We headed south. The Holland Tunnel wasn't crowded at all.

Outside New Brunswick, New Jersey, we came to one of those every-which-way traffic circles.

"There's the sign," said Eleanor. "Turn left."

Ted swung right. "I know a short-cut," he explained.

"Are you sure you know where you're going?" I asked.

"Don't worry," grinned your cousin. "I've got a road map in my head."

"I don't doubt it," zinged my missus. "But it's awfully dark in there."

We went through an underpass, crossed a railroad and after a couple of miles hit a dirt road which would have shaken the Siamese twins apart. "Are those your springs, or am I hearing jungle drums?" chirped Eleanor.

"Interesting country," I said. "Let me know when we pass Dr. Livingstone."

"Don't brood," Pathfinder Ted soothed. "I'm keeping my eye on the sun."

After a lot of jouncing, the dirt road petered out and we found ourselves in a pasture. I spotted a farmer, got out of the car and went over to him. "How do we get to New Hope, Pennsylvania, from here?" I asked him.

The farmer pondered. "If I was going to New Hope," he finally ventured, "I wouldn't start from here at all. Tell you what. Turn right at the fourth cow, keep going till you reach a 'No Trespassing' sign, then left till you hit a sign that says, 'Construction. Road Impassable.' That'll bring you out on the main highway. From there you can't . . . ."

"Miss it," I finished. "Much obliged."

As I walked back to the car, Ted was holding a wet forefinger up to the wind. "I've got my bearings now," said the Dead End Kid.

After another half hour of flying blind, we finally saw some houses. "See?" crowed Ted. "We're coming to a town."

"If you ask me," said Eleanor, "it's an Indian village."

We passed the local firehouse. By threatening Ted with a tire iron, I got him to stop. An elderly fireman came out of the building and looked us over. "If ya got a fire, won't do ya no good," he said. "Chief's got the engine out tractorin'."

He gave us some directions. As we drove off, Eleanor called, "Please notify the Bureau of Missing Persons. When last seen, Mrs. Rose was wearing a desperate look.'

For the next hour we over-hilled and down-daled. Ted kept operating on the principle that one bad turn deserves another. And then—Eureka!—civilization! A city.

"Amazing what standardization has done to the American town," I mused. "This place looks just like New Brunswick."

"Standardization, your grandmother," remarked my missus. "This is New Brunswick"

Well, Barbara, if I hadn't bounced you on my knee when you were a little girl of 23, I would have insisted on truning back. But remembering your childish prattle and the way you called me "Uncle," off I went again into the wild, blue yonder.

A few miles and a few of Ted's turns later, we passed a State Trooper "We want to go to New Hope, Pennsylvania," I hollered.

"You have my permission," grinned the wise guy.

"How far is it?" I asked.

"The way you're going, 24,960 miles. Forty, if you turn around."

I looked at my watch. It was almost 4:00. I knew the ancient words had been spoken, the bride kissed, and the punch bowl emptied.

A sign shaped like an arrow loomed up. "To New York," it shouted.

Well, I can take a hint.

When we stopped to pay toll at the Holland Tunnel, I said to the officer, "As far as I'm concerned, you can close the border to emigration."

And that's why we didn't make it.

Happy honeymoon, Barbara. Tonight, when you slip on that pretty pink thing, thank your lucky stars we didn't have the groom with us.

Affectionate regards,
Billy Rose

Satire On A Piano

The description of music, I've always felt, is about as difficult and misleading as the blind men's description of an elephant. I know no words or combination of words that fit around a piece of music with any great snugness. This applies particularly to Alec Templeton, the sightless pianist, whose method of expression is beyond the power of words and, in many ways, infinitely more descriptive. Nevertheless, within the limitation of prose, I'll do my best to express my unbridled enthusiasm for Mr. Templeton, who for the second summer in succession has replaced Edgar Bergen on NBC (8 p. m. EDT Sundays.)

Alex Templeton

Almost every reviewer who has ever tangled with Mr. Templeton comes up with the word "wit." Mr. Templeton is undoubtedly a musical wit and in that regard alone he is unique. But his brand of wit is almost unique too. In his voice and in his music he is gentle, frolicsome, light as a feather. His specialty is satire, but it is satire without the sting or malice which distinguishes so much American satire. It's a form of Gallic sophistication rarely ever found in this country.

Templeton has returned to the air with the same kind of show he had last summer, which is all right with me. While the orchestra plays Tschaikowsky's "Dance of the Hours" he will wander off on "After You've Gone," revealing along the way the curious similarities between those two tunes. In this mood his piano is spirited, gay and—well, mischievous is the word, I guess.

A moment later, the mood will change and Mr. Templeton will engage in Debussy's "Arabesque." Here the tone is brilliant; the approach is serious, and the technique is masterful. Debussy and Templeton are kindred spirits anyhow, poetic, colorful and—you can't get away from this word—gay.

As in last year's show, Templeton calls for suggestions from the audience and then blends four tunes, two popular and two serious, into one musical stew, taking a phrase from one and fitting it by some magic of his own into a phrase from another. It's quite a trick all right, and somehow puts all music on a single plane where it ought to be anyway.

I'm afraid I'm giving the impression that Mr. Templeton and his piano were the whole show, which isn't true. The pianist was surrounded by a lot of other able talent, including Ben Grauer, a big orchestra and chorus and a singer named Eugenie Baird who has a pleasant warm voice and uses the vocal tricks employed by all the other female singers in radio. Mr. Templeton announced that Milena Miller would be the singer on the next program, so I guess there will be a different one each week.

To add a couple of sour notes, Mr. Grauer and Mr. Templeton indulge in a good deal of poesy, some of it pretty bad, in introducing the band or the singers. They are both so skillful at badinage that this frayed doggerel doesn't sound half as bad as it ought to.

To wind up the show, Mr. Templeton and the chorus and orchestra performed a parody of "Oklahoma" in the manner of "Four Saints in Three Acts," that decidedly different operetta by Virgil Thomson and the G. I.'s friend and adviser, the late Gertrude Stein. This was one of those ideas that sounded hilarious when a couple of script writers started talking about it but which somehow didn't come off very well. Miss Stein's unusual notions about words simply can't be satirized, I'm afraid.

Mr. Templeton, however, more than made up for this slight defection by a perfectly wonderful imitation of Spike Jones playing "April showers." The pianist, who has an extraordinary set of vocal chords as well as nimble fingers, imitated the whole band all by himself. To repeat a suggestion I made last summer—why doesn't some one give Mr. Templeton his own winter show?

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, June 10—Often I think Hollywood has taken leave of its senses planking out hundreds of thousands of dollars for some fair-to-middlin' story or play.

Louella Parsons

But if ever a property was worth the $250,000 Warners just tapped the treasury for — it is "The Patriots". I say this not only because Sidney Kingsley's 1943 play won the New York drama critics award and many other honors—but we need the message it carries now as we never needed it before.

The theme is a profound and stirring portrait of the founding of this republic and of Thomas Jefferson's struggle to make it a democracy. With subversive influences on all sides—we need to reaffirm our faith in the principles on which our nation was founded.

And here is more news about "The Patriots", Jack Warner has signed Bretigne Windust, who staged such hits as "Finian's Rainbow" and "State of the Union" to direct. This will be his debut as a film director and Jerry Wald, who makes good pictures, will produce. The Victor Orsatti agency sold the play.

I don't suppose many of you remember "Grass," "Chang", "King Kong", and other adventure stories filmed by Merian Cooper and Ernest Schoedsack some years ago. They were extremely artistic and very different.

Merian and his new partner, John Ford, have formed a company to be called Arkos and in association with RKO will make this same type of movie. On August 1 "Mr. Joseph Young of Africa" starts—that's the first on the new deal. Part of it will be made at the RKO studios and part in the Belgian Congo.

Cooper refuses to tell anything about the nature of the story other than to say it is an adventure yarn.

Alexander Knox has been away from Columbia so long that I forgot that he belongs to Harry Cohn, lock, stock and contract. Well, he 's headin' home for the first time in three movies to play the male lead opposite Susan Peters in "Sign of The Ram"—the Irving Cummings production.

While he's been roving, Knox has made "Wilson" at 20th, "Sister Kenny" at RKO, and "Indian Summer."

I still stick to my story that Knox gave one of the finest portrayals ever screened in "Wilson"—but unfortunately it was not the type of role that swoons the bobby-soxers.

You may put this down as a coup for J. Arthur Rank, the British biggie. He has arranged to have a screen test made of Sharman Douglas, the attractive daughter of our new ambassador to England, Lewis Douglas.

The Douglases leave soon for England, where Sharman will be presented at court in the first presentation since the war. Think of the publicity value she will bring as an English star—the daughter of an ambassador.

Well, nowadays our daughters and sons of important parents do not let their parents' high position interfere with their own desire for a career.

Chit-Chat: The inside whisper on why James Cromwell, ex-husband of Doris Duke, dropped his "dukes" and decided not to continue his legal battle contesting her divorce, is that his next bride is picked out.

My spy tells me that she is Claire Luce (the actress—not Clare Boothe Luce, wife of the magazine publisher). She is a blonde and not unlike Doris in looks. This is not verified and must be printed as a rumor.

I'm sure that if this is true that Cromwell is planning a new marriage, it won't make the richest girl in the world angry. Cromwell fought her divorce action through every court in New Jersey until just recently.

Mexico is agog over the romance of Turhan Bey and Linda Christians. While Turhan was paying devoted attention to Nancy Oakes de Marigny, Linda arrived in Mexico City with fur coats and jewelry, and Turhan and Linda resumed an old acquaintance. But Nancy didn't mind, because by that time she was ready to say au revoir to their friendship.

Nancy is leaving Mexico City and will go to France shortly, to attend her sister's graduation. She will have to return to Mexico, however, because she was married to Alfred De Marigny under the British law, and the divorce won't hold anywhere in any other country.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Johnny Meyer, Howard Hughes associate, flew to Buenos Aires on business, and Johnny's going to continue right on to Cairo. Yes, he's flying to Cairo to meet Janet Thomas, who has already left by boat, and I won't be surprised to get a wedding announcement from there.

Lee Van Atta, well known INS foreign correspondent, goes into the Cottage Hospital at Santa Barbara. He was injured in a forced landing while covering the South Pacific during the war.

Claire Trevor's big moment is Milton Bren and, believe me, they act as if they really care.

Here's something for all the studios. Why not send the wonderful stamps that come on the foreign fan mail to the veterans who are starting stamp collections? It would take very little trouble and would mean so much to them.

Well, what do you know—it was Ward Bond who was buying Lynn Bari's dinner at the Chanteclair.

Tony Martin is getting romantic with Marilyn Maxwell now that his favorite girl friend, Betty Avery Drown, is on her way to Europe Tony and Marilyn were at the Savoy.

Truman's Address To Be On Air At 10 A. M. Today

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, June 10 — On the all-network schedule for Wednesday is another address by President Truman, as he goes before the Canadian parliament in Ottawa. The announced time is 10:45 a. m., with ABC also broadcasting at that hour over its full network instead of the usual delayed relay for the standard time areas.

Along come a couple more summer replacements. On NBC at 7:30 starts the Summerfield band concert for Gildersleeve the great. The band is being conductd by Jack Meakin. He'll have 25 pieces.

On CBS at 8 in the old Sinatra time—he's going to the Hit Parade on NBC in the fall—is another musical show built around the orhestra of Jan Savitt. Singers are to include Peggy Lee as a regular, and Johnny Johnston and Buddy Clark alternating. Also there will be Robert Maxwell and his swing harp and the Jubalaires quartet.

The Romance drama on CBS at 6:30 won't be "Peg O' My Heart." A change is putting in "The Apple Tree." . . . Two guests are guesting in the Bing Crosby recorded show on ABC at 10. One's Alec Templeton, the other's Ethel Merman. . . . The Paul Whiteman music on ABC at 9 is to take the forum of a salute to Ohio's Thirty-Seventh division and its accomplishments in the Pacific island zone.

Opinionaire, the MBS new courtroom forum series with an added poll of listeners as a program feature, will go on the air at 9 from Pittsburgh, so the network says.

By BILLY ROSE

Mrs. Barbara Denhoff
New Hope, Pennsylvania
Dear Barbara,

Sorry I didn't get to your wedding. Here's what happened.

Eleanor and I arranged to drive to New Hope with your Cousin Ted. We didn't know he was the kind of fellow who (a) knew short-cuts, and (b) wouldn't ask directions.

Billy Rose

H epicked us up about 10:30 in the morning. "The Holland Tunnel is always jammed on Saturday," he said. "We'll save time taking the ferry to Jersey." Seeing as how it was Ted's car, I kept quiet. Ten minutes later we were driving up the auto ramp of the Albany Night Boat. "They must have moved the pier," Ted flipped, as we backed off.

We headed south. The Holland Tunnel wasn't crowded at all.

Outside New Brunswick, New Jersey, we came to one of those every-which-way traffic circles.

"There's the sign," said Eleanor. "Turn left."

Ted swung right. "I know a short-cut," he explained.

"Are you sure you know where you're going?" I asked.

"Don't worry," grinned your cousin. "I've got a road map in my head."

"I don't doubt it," zinged my missus. "But it's awfully dark in there."

We went through an underpass, crossed a railroad and after a couple of miles hit a dirt road which would have shaken the Siamese twins apart. "Are those your springs, or am I hearing jungle drums?" chirped Eleanor.

"Interesting country," I said. "Let me know when we pass Dr. Livingstone."

"Don't brood," Pathfinder Ted soothed. "I'm keeping my eye on the sun."

After a lot of jouncing, the dirt road petered out and we found ourselves in a pasture. I spotted a farmer, got out of the car and went over to him. "How do we get to New Hope, Pennsylvania, from here?" I asked him.

The farmer pondered. "If I was going to New Hope," he finally ventured, "I wouldn't start from here at all. Tell you what. Turn right at the fourth cow, keep going till you reach a 'No Trespassing' sign, then left till you hit a sign that says, 'Construction. Road Impassable.' That'll bring you out on the main highway. From there you can't . . . ."

"Miss it," I finished. "Much obliged."

As I walked back to the car, Ted was holding a wet forefinger up to the wind. "I've got my bearings now," said the Dead End Kid.

After another half hour of flying blind, we finally saw some houses. "See?" crowed Ted. "We're coming to a town."

"How far is it?" I asked.

"The way you're going, 24,960 miles. Forty, if you turn around."

A sign shaped like an arrow loomed up. "To New York," it shouted.

Well, I can take a hint.

And that's why we didn't make it.

Nancy is leaving Mexico City and will go to France shortly, to attend her sister's graduation. She will have to return to Mexico, however, because she was married to Alfred De Marigny under the British law, and the divorce won't hold anywhere in any other country.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Johnny Meyer, Howard Hughes associate, flew to Buenos Aires on business, and Johnny's going to continue right on to Cairo. Yes, he's flying to Cairo to meet Janet Thomas, who has already left by boat, and I won't be surprised to get a wedding announcement from there.

Lee Van Atta, well known INS foreign correspondent, goes into the Cottage Hospital at Santa Barbara. He was injured in a forced landing while covering the South Pacific during the war.

Claire Trevor's big moment is Milton Bren and, believe me, they act as if they really care.

Here's something for all the studios. Why not send the wonderful stamps that come on the foreign fan mail to the veterans who are starting stamp collections? It would take very little trouble and would mean so much to them.

Well, what do you know—it was Ward Bond who was buying Lynn Bari's dinner at the Chanteclair.

Tony Martin is getting romantic with Marilyn Maxwell now that his favorite girl friend, Betty Avery Drown, is on her way to Europe Tony and Marilyn were at the Savoy.

Truman's Address To Be On Air At 10 A. M. Today

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, June 10 — On the all-network schedule for Wednesday is another address by President Truman, as he goes before the Canadian parliament in Ottawa. The announced time is 10:45 a. m., with ABC also broadcasting at that hour over its full network instead of the usual delayed relay for the standard time areas.

Along come a couple more summer replacements. On NBC at 7:30 starts the Summerfield band concert for Gildersleeve the great. The band is being conductd by Jack Meakin. He'll have 25 pieces.

On CBS at 8 in the old Sinatra time—he's going to the Hit Parade on NBC in the fall—is another musical show built around the orhestra of Jan Savitt. Singers are to include Peggy Lee as a regular, and Johnny Johnston and Buddy Clark alternating. Also there will be Robert Maxwell and his swing harp and the Jubalaires quartet.

The Romance drama on CBS at 6:30 won't be "Peg O' My Heart." A change is putting in "The Apple Tree." . . . Two guests are guesting in the Bing Crosby recorded show on ABC at 10. One's Alec Templeton, the other's Ethel Merman. . . . The Paul Whiteman music on ABC at 9 is to take the forum of a salute to Ohio's Thirty-Seventh division and its accomplishments in the Pacific island zone.

Opinionaire, the MBS new courtroom forum series with an added poll of listeners as a program feature, will go on the air at 9 from Pittsburgh, so the network says.

STRAWS IN WIND

BROADWAY

By DANTON WALKER

The Roaring '40's

President Truman to emulate his predecessor in office and go in for radio "fireside chats."... Clark Gifford's impending resignation may portend a complete shift in the White House advisory staff.... A behind-the-scenes battle has Bob Hannegan's backers lined up against Gael Sullivan's... They do say (what, more politics?) that the Dewey-Stassen-Warren rapprochement is just to steal the front pages from Truman... That if Taft should win the 1948 GOP Presidential nomination his choice for running mate would be Minnesota's Senator Ball.... Washington's hottest weekend rumor is that John L. Lewis is about to announce retirement from "active duty" as a labor power... The next House committee investigation will quiz labor leaders on the source of funds being spent in the "Veto the Taft-Hartley Bill" campaign... Senator Harvey Kilgore, West Virginia liberal, perturbed over a home state move to investigate his activities.

Truman

Carroll Reece (yes, more politics!), facing bitter opposition within his own ranks, may resign as GOP National Chairman... State president of New York's Affiliated Young Democrats, Harold Moskovit, called to Washington for a Thursday confab... Joseph Nunan, outgoing Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and John P. Wenchel, general counsel, to take jobs with the movie industry after June 30... Ex-Gov. Lehman and Mayor O'Dwyer reported feuding... Ex-Gov. pro-tem Charles Poletti going to Italy to obtain facts and figures on that country's political state, for magazine articles... Czechoslovakia about to follow those other nations and be gobbled up by Russia (Stalin's personal "Von Ribbentrop," Andrei Vishinsky, visiting Prague now)... Mayor Hague's health could have been his reason for quitting now... One of the characters heavily involved in the Mergenthaler Linotype $780,000 swindle was a frequent visitor to the Garssons' New York office during the war, in case Washington is interested.

The Duke and Duchess have reserved a cottage at Canoe Place Inn, Hampton Bays, Long Island, for August... Annabella, returning from France shortly to start divorce proceedings from Ty Power, may accept an "installment plan" settlement for about a million... Max Juste, French perfume importer and liaison officer with the 36th Texas Division during the war, will sling a suit at his ex, the former Dorothy Benjamin, to learn just where and when (or maybe if) she got a divorce from him before embarking on further matrimonial adventures.... Friends who didn't even know they had an offspring will learn here that Ferris Luce Hartman 3d, ex-GI son of dancers Paul and Grace Hartman, got married last week to an Evanston, Ill., gal. The junior Hartman is co-authoring the revue, under the professional moniker of Ted Luce, in which his parents will tour the provinces this Summer. It's called "Heaven Help the Angels," meaning the angels who back shows... The Johnny Coys have named their joyous arrival Bonnie Heather. How coy can you get?

Phil Terry, recently shed by Joan Crawford, and Felicia Pablos, currently shedding Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., have discovered one another... Robert Walker and lovely Lee Russell (the ex-Mrs. Herbert Marshall) ditto... Harry Cushing 4th, youthful uncle of Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski, flew to California to close a deal to star George Sanders in a movie to be made in Rome.... A Hollywood trade paper says Joan Blondell has ordered Mike Todd's two cars out of her garage.... Ethel Barrymore's son, John Drew Colt, to make his movie debut in "Imagination."... Dorothy Sarnoff, the local operetta singer( currently a hit at the Starlight Roof), being talked up for a remake of Jeannette MacDonald's older movie hits... Helena Bliss and John Tyers, who'll wed this Summer, may become the Lunt and Fontanne of musical comedy... Met Opera starlet, Patricia Munsel, being groomed for a Fall radio series... The two French gals, Peggy (who emotes in "Voice of the Turtle") and Eleanor (who publicizes her ssiter), nursing their pappy, Ward French, between their respective chores. He's home in Westport, Conn., suffering from a broken leg after a fall in his swimming pool.

Sumerian, women of thousands of years ago used gold "vanity cases" complete with tweezers, earpicks and head-scratchers, archaeologists digging among buried cities discovered, according to the Enyclopedia Britannica.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad and loving memory of James Edward Schoenadel, who died in Guam one year ago, June 11, 1946, in the U. S. air service.

Sadly missed by his PARENTS, BROTHERS, and SISTERS.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Pvt. Dale Douthitt, who passed away two years ago, June 11, 1945, in service.

We can never forget you, dear Dale,
While in this world we stay.
God only knows our feelings,
Since you went away.
We miss you, oh so much, Dale;
Oh, how sweet to breathe thy name.
In life we loved you dearly;
In death we do the same.

Sadly missed by his FATHER, MOTHER, SISTERS, and BROTHERS.

Ordinance No. 1815

AN ORDINANCE OF THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE EMISSION OF DENSE SMOKE FROM INDUSTRIAL PLANTS, HEATING PLANTS, OPEN FIRES, DOMESTIC FIRES AND STEAM LOCOMOTIVES WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND."

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, That there shall be appointed by the Mayor, subject to the approval of the City Council, a Smoke Abatement Engineer who shall be a member of, or eligible to become a member of, The American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and who shall be qualified by technical training and experience in the theory and practice of construction and operation of furnaces and combustion devices and in the theory and practice of smoke abatement, and who shall be further qualified by broad experience for conferring with, soliciting the cooperation of, and stimulating the efforts of, all sections of the community of Cumberland in the reduction of Smoke. The Mayor may appoint such inspectors, clerks and other assistants as may be necessary and as approved by the said City Council who, together with the Smoke Abatement Engineer, shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by the Mayor and City Council. All appointments made under the provisions of this section shall be subject to all the laws, rules and regulations governing the classified city service. The duties of the Smoke Abatement Engineer shall include the preparation and execution of educational and cooperative plans and undertakings for securing the compliance of the public of Cumberland in the reduction of the emission of smoke, the performance of such examinations, inspections and issuance of permits, as are instituted by the Advisory and Appeal Board to insure that new or remodeled fuel and/or material burning installations are suited for the prevention of the emission of smoke to the prescribed degree, and the inauguration of prosecutions for non-compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

The Smoke Abatement Engineer shall make an annual report of the work of his office to the Mayor and City Council.

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That there shall be appointed by the Mayor, with the approval of the City Council, an Advisory and Appeal Board consisting of three persons whose terms of office shall be for periods of three years, except that for the initially appointed Board, one member shall be appointed for one year, one for two years and one for three years. The members of this Board shall receive no compensation for their services. One member shall be chosen who shall represent business and administrative experience, one who shall have had broad engineering experience in the design and operation of fuel and/or material burning installations, and one shall be chosen who shall preferably have no connection with the ownership or design of fuel burning plants but who in his professional attainments and experience shall have exhibited intellectual competence and judicial capacity.

The Advisory and Appeal Board shall be an agency for adjudicating the various technical and economic problems that occur in the formulation of the type and kind of supervisory control to be exercised by the Smoke Abatement Engineer over new and remodeled installations of combustion equipment insofar as the emission of smoke to the atmosphere is concerned. The Board shall determine after investigation and consultation, the methods of examination and inspection and the factors to be considered to insure that new or remodeled fuel and/or material burning installations will be suited for the prevention of the emission of smoke to the degree prescribed in the ordinance, but the Board shall have no authority to inquire regarding the manufacturing processes of metallurgical, chemical, oil refining processes, ceramic or other commodity manufacturing industries involving the combustion of fuel and/or material, beyond the requiring of evidence that the installation will be suited in the prevention of the emission of smoke to the degree prescribed in this ordinance.

SECTION 3. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That the emission of smoke within the City from the smoke stack of any roller, derrick, pile driver, tar kettle or other similar machine or contrivance, or from any open fire, or from the smoke stack or chimney of any building, roundhouse or premises, except for a period of or periods aggregating nine minutes or less in any one hour of a density of No. 2 smoke as defined by the Ringleman Chart, or six minutes or less of a density in excess of No. 2 smoke as defined by the Ringleman Chart in any one hour at a time when the firebox is being cleaned out or a new fire being built therein, or from the stack of any locomotive smoke of a density in excess of No. 2 smoke as defined by the Ringleman Chart for a period or periods aggregating one minute in any four minutes at a time when the firebox of said locomotive is being cleaned or a new fire built therein, or for a period in excess of eight minutes or more in any period of thirty minutes after said locomotive is in or ready for service, is prohibited and is hereby declared to be a nuisance and may be summarily abated by the Smoke Abatement Engineer. Such abatement may be in addition to the fine hereinafter provided. For the purpose of grading the density of smoke, the Ringleman Chart as now published and used by the United States Bureau of Mines, which is hereby made a part of this sub-title by reference, shall be the standard. Smoke shall be considered dense when it is equal to or of greater density than No. 2 of said chart. Any person or persons, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall upon conviction be fined as hereinafter provided, and each violation of this section shall constitute a separate offense for each and every day on which such violation shall continue. All persons participating in any such violation, either as owners, proprietors, lessees, agents, tenants, managers, superintendents, engineers, firemen or janitors, or otherwise, shall severally be liable therefor and subject to the penalties fixed by this ordinance.

SECTION 4. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That no person, firm or corporation, shall cause, suffer or allow to be discharged into the atmosphere, ashes, cinders, dust, soot or fly ash from chimneys, flues and smoke stacks of any building, roundhouse or premises where the quantity of solids emitted exceeds 0.75 grains per cubic foot of flue gas at a stack temperature of 500 degrees Fahrenheit, of which amount not to exceed 0.2 of a grain per cubic foot shall be of such size as to be retained on a 325 mesh U.S. Standard sieve. These conditions are to be conformed to when the percentage of excess air in the stack does not exceed fifty per cent at full load. The foregoing requirements shall be measured by the methods outlined in the Tentative Test Code for dust separating apparatus of The American Society of Mechanical Engineers, which is hereby made a part of this ordinance by reference, a copy of which shall remain on file in the office of the Smoke Abatement Engineer.

Any person or persons, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall upon conviction be fined as hereinafter provided, and each violation of this section shall constitute a separate offense for each and every day on which such violation shall continue. All persons participating in any such violation, either as owners, proprietors, lessees, agents, tenants, managers, superintendents, engineers, firemen or janitors, or otherwise, shall severally be liable therefor and subject to the penalties fixed in this ordinance.

SECTION 5. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That it shall be unlawful on or after the first day of January, 1948, for any person, firm or corporation to operate, or cause, or suffer, or allow to be operated at any place in Cumberland, any steam locomotive fired by bituminous coal unless the same is equipped with overfire jets or some other smoke consuming device conforming in efficiency of operation to a degree equal to, or greater than, the overfire jets referred to in this section. Any person or persons in charge of locomotives equipped with a smoke consuming device shall be required to use and operate said device during the whole of any time or period when smoke emission is equal to, or of greater density, than No. 2 of the Ringleman Chart, whether locomotive is operating, standing or ready for operation within the limits of the City of Cumberland.

SECTION 6. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That no new fuel burning plants nor reconstruction, nor remodeling of any existing fuel burning plants for producing power and heat, or either of them, nor refuse burning equipment, nor any chimney or furnace connected with such fuel or refuse burning equipment, shall be installed, erected, reconstructed or remodeled in the City of Cumberland until plans and specifications of the same have been filed by the owner, contractor, installer or other person in the office of and approved by the Smoke Abatement Engineer as being so designed that same can be managed and operated to conform to the provisions of this ordinance and prevent air pollution, and a permit issued by him for such installation, erection, reconstruction or remodeling. Plans and specifications so filed with the said engineer shall show the type of installation, the amount of work and the amount of heating to be done by such fuel or refuse burning plant, and all appurtenances thereto, including all provisions made for the purpose of securing complete combustion of the fuel or refuse to be used and the manner in which it is to be burned for the purpose of preventing air pollution. Said plans and specifications shall also contain a statement of the rate of burning and kind of fuel or refuse proposed to be used and the manner in which it is to be burned and shall also show that the room or premises in which fuel or refuse burning plants shall be located is provided with doors, windows, airshafts, fans or other means of ventilation sufficient to prevent the temperature of such room, basement or other portion of building wherein such fuel or refuse burning apparatus is to be used, from rising to a point higher than 120 degrees Fahrenheit; and sufficient also to provide that the atmosphere of any such room, basement or other portion of the building wherein such fuel or refuse burning apparatus may be located may be changed at least every ten minutes. Such plans shall further show the dimensions of such room in which such fuel or refuse burning apparatus is to be located, the location and dimensions of all chimneys and smoke stacks used in connection with or as a part of said fuel or refuse burning plant. Upon the inspection and approval of said plans and specifications by the Smoke Abatement Engineer and upon the payment of the fees as hereinafter provided, and if such plans and specifications shall show that adequate and approved provisions for the purpose of securing complete combustion of the fuel or refuse to be used and for the purpose of preventing and eliminating smoke, soot, fly ash, dust or noxious acids have been made, a permit for the installation or for the construction, erection, reconstruction or remodeling of such fuel or refuse burning plant shall be issued. As soon as the Smoke Abatement Engineer has issued the permit as above provided, it shall be the duty of the various departments having charge of the inspection of the premises wherein said fuel or refuse burning apparatus is located to cooperate with the said Smoke Abatement Engineer to see that the execution of the work so authorized by said permit shall be done in conformity with the plans and specifications submitted and approved, and with the standards, rules and regulations fixed by the Smoke Abatement Engineer. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be subject to the penalties hereinafter provided. If such plans and specifications as described above are not submitted to the Smoke Abatement Engineer for approval previous to the installation of any new fuel burning plant, or the reconstruction or remodeling of any existing fuel burning plant, for producing power, heat, or either of them, or refuse burning plant, or any chimney connected with such fuel or refuse burning plant, the Smoke Abatement Engineer shall be authorized to seal immediately such equipment until the owner, contractor, installer or other person has complied with the provisions of this section.

SECTION 7. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That it shall be unlawful for any person to use any new, reconstructed or remodeled plant, or any plant duly sealed under the provisions of this ordinance, for the production and generation of heat and power, or either of them, or for the burning of refuse, until he shall have first procured a certificate from the Smoke Abatement Engineer certifying that the plant is so constructed that it will do the work required with the type of fuel and equipment used; and that, in the opinion of the Smoke Abatement Engineer, it can consistently be so managed in burning the type of fuel in the manner specified in the permit that no dense smoke shall be emitted from the chimney connected with the furnace or firebox in violation of the provisions of this ordinance; and a notice of the size, type, kind and manner of burning the fuel as specified in the permit has been prominently displayed and permanently attached to said plant. Any person or persons violating the provisions of this section shall be subject to the penalties prescribed in this ordinance. The issuance and delivery by the Smoke Abatement Engineer of any permit or certificate for the construction, reconstruction or remodeling of any plant or chimney connected with a plant shall not be held to exempt any person, firm or corporation to whom any such permit or certificate has been issued and delivered, or who is in possession of any such permit or certificate, from prosecution on account of the emission of dense smoke, fly ash, soot, cinders, dust or noxious acids caused or permitted by any such person, firm or corporation.

7-A. PERMIT FOR ERECTION OF BUILDING PROHIBITED—WHEN. The Building Engineer shall not issue a permit for the erection, construction, reconstruction or alteration of any building or structure wherein the plans for such building or structure show any chimney or smoke stack in connection with such building or structure, until such plans have been submitted to the Smoke Abatement Engineer and the dimensions of such chimney or chimneys approved by him as having sufficient capacity and suitable for the type of equipment and fuel to be used.

Ordinance No. 1815

AN ORDINANCE OF THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE EMISSION OF DENSE SMOKE FROM INDUSTRIAL PLANTS, HEATING PLANTS, OPEN FIRES, DOMESTIC FIRES AND STEAM LOCOMOTIVES WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND."

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, That there shall be appointed by the Mayor, subject to the approval of the City Council, a Smoke Abatement Engineer who shall be a member of, or eligible to become a member of, The American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and who shall be qualified by technical training and experience in the theory and practice of construction and operation of furnaces and combustion devices and in the theory and practice of smoke abatement, and who shall be further qualified by broad experience for conferring with, soliciting the cooperation of, and stimulating the efforts of, all sections of the community of Cumberland in the reduction of Smoke. The Mayor may appoint such inspectors, clerks and other assistants as may be necessary and as approved by the said City Council who, together with the Smoke Abatement Engineer, shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by the Mayor and City Council. All appointments made under the provisions of this section shall be subject to all the laws, rules and regulations governing the classified city service. The duties of the Smoke Abatement Engineer shall include the preparation and execution of educational and cooperative plans and undertakings for securing the compliance of the public of Cumberland in the reduction of the emission of smoke, the performance of such examinations, inspections and issuance of permits, as are instituted by the Advisory and Appeal Board to insure that new or remodeled fuel and/or material burning installations are suited for the prevention of the emission of smoke to the prescribed degree, and the inauguration of prosecutions for non-compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

The Smoke Abatement Engineer shall make an annual report of the work of his office to the Mayor and City Council.

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That there shall be appointed by the Mayor, with the approval of the City Council, an Advisory and Appeal Board consisting of three persons whose terms of office shall be for periods of three years, except that for the initially appointed Board, one member shall be appointed for one year, one for two years and one for three years. The members of this Board shall receive no compensation for their services. One member shall be chosen who shall represent business and administrative experience, one who shall have had broad engineering experience in the design and operation of fuel and/or material burning installations, and one shall be chosen who shall preferably have no connection with the ownership or design of fuel burning plants but who in his professional attainments and experience shall have exhibited intellectual competence and judicial capacity.

The Advisory and Appeal Board shall be an agency for adjudicating the various technical and economic problems that occur in the formulation of the type and kind of supervisory control to be exercised by the Smoke Abatement Engineer over new and remodeled installations of combustion equipment insofar as the emission of smoke to the atmosphere is concerned. The Board shall determine after investigation and consultation, the methods of examination and inspection and the factors to be considered to insure that new or remodeled fuel and/or material burning installations will be suited for the prevention of the emission of smoke to the degree prescribed in the ordinance, but the Board shall have no authority to inquire regarding the manufacturing processes of metallurgical, chemical, oil refining processes, ceramic or other commodity manufacturing industries involving the combustion of fuel and/or material, beyond the requiring of evidence that the installation will be suited in the prevention of the emission of smoke to the degree prescribed in this ordinance.

SECTION 3. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That the emission of smoke within the City from the smoke stack of any roller, derrick, pile driver, tar kettle or other similar machine or contrivance, or from any open fire, or from the smoke stack or chimney of any building, roundhouse or premises, except for a period of or periods aggregating nine minutes or less in any one hour of a density of No. 2 smoke as defined by the Ringleman Chart, or six minutes or less of a density in excess of No. 2 smoke as defined by the Ringleman Chart in any one hour at a time when the firebox is being cleaned out or a new fire being built therein, or from the stack of any locomotive smoke of a density in excess of No. 2 smoke as defined by the Ringleman Chart for a period or periods aggregating one minute in any four minutes at a time when the firebox of said locomotive is being cleaned or a new fire built therein, or for a period in excess of eight minutes or more in any period of thirty minutes after said locomotive is in or ready for service, is prohibited and is hereby declared to be a nuisance and may be summarily abated by the Smoke Abatement Engineer. Such abatement may be in addition to the fine hereinafter provided. For the purpose of grading the density of smoke, the Ringleman Chart as now published and used by the United States Bureau of Mines, which is hereby made a part of this sub-title by reference, shall be the standard. Smoke shall be considered dense when it is equal to or of greater density than No. 2 of said chart. Any person or persons, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall upon conviction be fined as hereinafter provided, and each violation of this section shall constitute a separate offense for each and every day on which such violation shall continue. All persons participating in any such violation, either as owners, proprietors, lessees, agents, tenants, managers, superintendents, engineers, firemen or janitors, or otherwise, shall severally be liable therefor and subject to the penalties fixed by this ordinance.

SECTION 4. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That no person, firm or corporation, shall cause, suffer or allow to be discharged into the atmosphere, ashes, cinders, dust, soot or fly ash from chimneys, flues and smoke stacks of any building, roundhouse or premises where the quantity of solids emitted exceeds 0.75 grains per cubic foot of flue gas at a stack temperature of 500 degrees Fahrenheit, of which amount not to exceed 0.2 of a grain per cubic foot shall be of such size as to be retained on a 325 mesh U.S. Standard sieve. These conditions are to be conformed to when the percentage of excess air in the stack does not exceed fifty per cent at full load. The foregoing requirements shall be measured by the methods outlined in the Tentative Test Code for dust separating apparatus of The American Society of Mechanical Engineers, which is hereby made a part of this ordinance by reference, a copy of which shall remain on file in the office of the Smoke Abatement Engineer.

Any person or persons, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall upon conviction be fined as hereinafter provided, and each violation of this section shall constitute a separate offense for each and every day on which such violation shall continue. All persons participating in any such violation, either as owners, proprietors, lessees, agents, tenants, managers, superintendents, engineers, firemen or janitors, or otherwise, shall severally be liable therefor and subject to the penalties fixed in this ordinance.

SECTION 5. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That it shall be unlawful on or after the first day of January, 1948, for any person, firm or corporation to operate, or cause, or suffer, or allow to be operated at any place in Cumberland, any steam locomotive fired by bituminous coal unless the same is equipped with overfire jets or some other smoke consuming device conforming in efficiency of operation to a degree equal to, or greater than, the overfire jets referred to in this section. Any person or persons in charge of locomotives equipped with a smoke consuming device shall be required to use and operate said device during the whole of any time or period when smoke emission is equal to, or of greater density, than No. 2 of the Ringleman Chart, whether locomotive is operating, standing or ready for operation within the limits of the City of Cumberland.

SECTION 6. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That no new fuel burning plants nor reconstruction, nor remodeling of any existing fuel burning plants for producing power and heat, or either of them, nor refuse burning equipment, nor any chimney or furnace connected with such fuel or refuse burning equipment, shall be installed, erected, reconstructed or remodeled in the City of Cumberland until plans and specifications of the same have been filed by the owner, contractor, installer or other person in the office of and approved by the Smoke Abatement Engineer as being so designed that same can be managed and operated to conform to the provisions of this ordinance and prevent air pollution, and a permit issued by him for such installation, erection, reconstruction or remodeling. Plans and specifications so filed with the said engineer shall show the type of installation, the amount of work and the amount of heating to be done by such fuel or refuse burning plant, and all appurtenances thereto, including all provisions made for the purpose of securing complete combustion of the fuel or refuse to be used and the manner in which it is to be burned for the purpose of preventing air pollution. Said plans and specifications shall also contain a statement of the rate of burning and kind of fuel or refuse proposed to be used and the manner in which it is to be burned and shall also show that the room or premises in which fuel or refuse burning plants shall be located is provided with doors, windows, airshafts, fans or other means of ventilation sufficient to prevent the temperature of such room, basement or other portion of building wherein such fuel or refuse burning apparatus is to be used, from rising to a point higher than 120 degrees Fahrenheit; and sufficient also to provide that the atmosphere of any such room, basement or other portion of the building wherein such fuel or refuse burning apparatus may be located may be changed at least every ten minutes. Such plans shall further show the dimensions of such room in which such fuel or refuse burning apparatus is to be located, the location and dimensions of all chimneys and smoke stacks used in connection with or as a part of said fuel or refuse burning plant. Upon the inspection and approval of said plans and specifications by the Smoke Abatement Engineer and upon the payment of the fees as hereinafter provided, and if such plans and specifications shall show that adequate and approved provisions for the purpose of securing complete combustion of the fuel or refuse to be used and for the purpose of preventing and eliminating smoke, soot, fly ash, dust or noxious acids have been made, a permit for the installation or for the construction, erection, reconstruction or remodeling of such fuel or refuse burning plant shall be issued. As soon as the Smoke Abatement Engineer has issued the permit as above provided, it shall be the duty of the various departments having charge of the inspection of the premises wherein said fuel or refuse burning apparatus is located to cooperate with the said Smoke Abatement Engineer to see that the execution of the work so authorized by said permit shall be done in conformity with the plans and specifications submitted and approved, and with the standards, rules and regulations fixed by the Smoke Abatement Engineer. Any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be subject to the penalties hereinafter provided. If such plans and specifications as described above are not submitted to the Smoke Abatement Engineer for approval previous to the installation of any new fuel burning plant, or the reconstruction or remodeling of any existing fuel burning plant, for producing power, heat, or either of them, or refuse burning plant, or any chimney connected with such fuel or refuse burning plant, the Smoke Abatement Engineer shall be authorized to seal immediately such equipment until the owner, contractor, installer or other person has complied with the provisions of this section.

SECTION 7. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That it shall be unlawful for any person to use any new, reconstructed or remodeled plant, or any plant duly sealed under the provisions of this ordinance, for the production and generation of heat and power, or either of them, or for the burning of refuse, until he shall have first procured a certificate from the Smoke Abatement Engineer certifying that the plant is so constructed that it will do the work required with the type of fuel and equipment used; and that, in the opinion of the Smoke Abatement Engineer, it can consistently be so managed in burning the type of fuel in the manner specified in the permit that no dense smoke shall be emitted from the chimney connected with the furnace or firebox in violation of the provisions of this ordinance; and a notice of the size, type, kind and manner of burning the fuel as specified in the permit has been prominently displayed and permanently attached to said plant. Any person or persons violating the provisions of this section shall be subject to the penalties prescribed in this ordinance. The issuance and delivery by the Smoke Abatement Engineer of any permit or certificate for the construction, reconstruction or remodeling of any plant or chimney connected with a plant shall not be held to exempt any person, firm or corporation to whom any such permit or certificate has been issued and delivered, or who is in possession of any such permit or certificate, from prosecution on account of the emission of dense smoke, fly ash, soot, cinders, dust or noxious acids caused or permitted by any such person, firm or corporation.

7-A. PERMIT FOR ERECTION OF BUILDING PROHIBITED—WHEN. The Building Engineer shall not issue a permit for the erection, construction, reconstruction or alteration of any building or structure wherein the plans for such building or structure show any chimney or smoke stack in connection with such building or structure, until such plans have been submitted to the Smoke Abatement Engineer and the dimensions of such chimney or chimneys approved by him as having sufficient capacity and suitable for the type of equipment and fuel to be used.

Celanese Workers Revise Proposals On Money Issues

Talks Continue Today, Union Meets Tonight

The negotiating committee of the 8,600 member Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO yesterday presented to the Celanese Corporation of America revised proposals on the money issues in the contract dispute which closed the huge Amcelle plant of the company 13 days ago.

The proposals were presented to the company yesterday afternoon at a four-hour meeting arranged by James A. Holden, federal conciliator, who has been trying since May 30 to bring a settlement of the strike which is rapidly throttling the economic life of the area.

Holden did not comment on the progress made at the meeting but reported the negotiations will be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock.

A company spokesman characterized the session yesterday afternoon as "not altogether unsuccessful" and explained there was "some but not much" progress made.

Reports New Proposals

He said the union yesterday presented some changes in their proposals but added there were no indications that the proposals will be acceptable.

When questioned as to the progress made at the session Wesley Cook, assistant director of the TWUA's rayon division, said the union yesterday presented revised proposals on the money issues of the contract dispute.

The purpose of the union proposals, he said, was to reduce the cost to the company while at the same time achieving the correction of the conditions of which the union was complaining.

The company, Cook said, has given no definite answer to the proposals. He added it was the union's position that the proposals represent "reasonable basis" for the settlement of the problems raised by the union.

James A. Holden, federal conciliator, last night declined to comment on the progress resulting yesterday from a four-hour negotiating session between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, and the Celanese Corporation of America but said efforts to reach a settlement of the strike which closed the Amcelle plant May 30 will be continued today.

Yesterday's meeting, held from 2 to 6 p. m. at the struck plant, was the first held since last Friday when Holden kept the company and union negotiators together for a grueling 15-hour session which closed early Saturday morning without an agreement.

A company spokesman characterized yesterday's meeting as "not altogether unsuccessful." There is not too much to report, he added, saying there was "some, but not much," progress made.

The union yesterday presented some changes in their proposals but a company spokesman said there were no indications that the proposals will be acceptable.

The conciliator said today's meeting is scheduled to begin this morning at 10 o'clock.

Urge Arbitration

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners unanimously adopted a resolution yesterday, urging that the dispute between the Celanese Corporation of America and Local 1874 go to an arbitrator and the strike ended as soon as possible.

Members of the County Board discussed the strike, now in its 12th day, and agreed that a prolonged stoppage of work and production at the plant will have disastrous economic effects in the entire county, as eight or nine thousand persons are idle. The Commissioners took no sides in their resolution, but strongly urged that the labor dispute be submitted to arbitration by both sides at once and the work stoppage ended and production and employment resumed.

A copy of the resolution was ordered spread upon the minutes of the meeting, over the signatures of the three county commissioners.

The Mayor and City Councils of Frostburg and Ridgeley, W. Va., at special meetings last nigtht, adopted resolutions calling for the arbitration of the dispute as did the Cumberland city fathers Monday.

Chief speaker at the out-of-doors membership meeting to be held outside the State Armory tonight at 7:30 o'clock will be George Baldanzi, executive vice president of the TWUA-CIO. It will be the first meeting of the union since May 28 when the group rejected the union contract offers and voted to call the strike at the plant.

Union Cancels Meeting

The executive board of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastics Workers of America, CIO, last night cancelled the regular meeting of the union scheduled Sunday at 2:30 p. m. A. E. Johnson, president, said the next meeting will be held Thursday, July 3, at 7:30 p. m.

Four finalists in the County Girls 4-H Club sewing project were guests of the Cumberland Exchange Club last night as the organization held its annual Ladies Night celebration at Clary Club. Each year the club presents an award to the most outstanding 4-H Boy and Girl, and this year had the privilege of selecting the girl winner.

Miss Barbara Long, of the LaVale 4-H Club, RFD 1, this city, was awarded first prize consisting of a check to cover all expenses including transportation for one week at summer 4-H Club camp. She displayed a dress suit and accessories which she designed and tailored.

The contest was so close, members of the club said, that a consolation prize of $5 was presented to Miss Virginia Pritt, Poplar Street, Westernport, a member of the Westernport 4-H Club. She displayed a self-made evening gown.

The other two contestants were Miss Regina Ferguson, Union Grove 4-H Club, who showed a street dress; and Miss Naomi Brode, Eckhart Mines 4-H Club, who displayed an official 4-H Club uniform.

William Kennedy, president of the LaVale Boys 4-H Club and vice-president of the County Federation of 4-H Clubs, was also presented a check for camp, as the boys' winner. He was chosen for outstanding leadership ability and organizational activity.

The presentations were made before the 96 members and guests present by Daniel D'Amicol, president. John C. Fisher had charge of this phase of the program and presented Miss Maude A. Bean, county home demonstration agent, her assistant, Miss Gloria Bohn, and Joseph M. Steger, assistant county farm agent, each of whom spoke on phases of 4-H Club work.

The second phase of the program was in charge of Lewis Ort, who presented several guests whom he said helped make the recent Exchange sponsored Air Derby and Plans Model Meet possible. Ort urged the club to make the Derby an annual event, to help promote interest in aviation.

Mrs. Harold Bloom was pianist for group singing led by Fisher. Carl Perry gave the invocation. Following the dinner and program, a dance was held until 1 a. m.

Tornado Scare Rumored In Keyser

Residents of the Keyser, W. Va., section were in a furore yesterday afternoon when a report reached town that a tornado was headed that that way and due to strike at 2:30 p. m.

The report had it that the tornado would head there from Grafton and Fairmont, W. Va., but late last night the tornado hadn't arrived at any of the communities.

Thel ast report was that the tornado report was all wrong, that none was headed at any time for Grafton, Fairmont or Keyser.

RETAILERS BELIEVE SALES TAX WILL CREATE MANY NEW PROBLEMS

Numerous Questions Unanswered In Law

The new state retail sales tax, which goes into operation July 1, has caused considerable comment and raised many problems among local retail merchants, and none could be found yesterday who says he thoroughly understands the new law and all it implies.

A few days ago, the Clerk of Court announced through the press that application blanks for retailers who are expected to collect the tax were available at the Court House. Numerous retailers obtained their forms, and sent them to the State Comptroller's office for their license and instructions. Several have received a license which must be publicly displayed, but received no instructions. All that accompanied the license was a little rate card, showing the amounts of taxes on various sales levels.

Merchants Are Confused

But yesterday, in a survey of Baltimore Street merchants, it developed that many have problems about the tax peculiar to their own particular types of trade.

A confectionery store operator wanted to know, "Do I pay the tax each quarter on my gross receipts, or am I supposed to set up a separate container for all tax money to keep it straight? There is no tax on any item under nine cents, and we have many sales at a nickle. For instance a man buys a soft drink at a fountain for five cents. There is no tax. If he buys one for himself and one for a friend, must he pay 11 cents? Who pays the tax on the large accumulation of five cent sales," he wanted to know?

A furrier said, "Suppose I sell a fur coat for $500. The federal government requires me to collect 20 per cent luxury tax, making the retail price of the coat, $600. Now do I collect state retail tax on the total selling price, or just on the $500? Over a period of a year's business," he declared, "it will make quite a difference."

Jewelry stores, perfume counters and others where federal luxury tax is still charged face a similar problem, and they'd like to know the answer. It was suggested to them that it usually is not the policy to charge tax on tax, but they aren't sure and come back with the query, "What about cigarets?"

Drug stores face a particular problem. Prescriptions and medical supplies are exempt, yet a druggist asked yesterday, "Suppose someone comes in and buys an ice cap or hot water bottle. Are they medical supplies?"

Druggist Is Puzzled

The druggist too, said that there are many items in drug stores which will be taxable and many which will be exempt. The tax will require much more bookkeeping for him, as each sale must be broken down and taxable items segregated from non-taxable items.

Grocers find the same problem, for many grocery stores carry lines of household needs other than food stuffs. Food is exempt, but many of the other items are not. They want to know, "Do we keep separate books on taxable items, and separate accounts on non-taxable items, or do we just keep the tax money separate from other money? What kind of system will the state require?"

And so it was in every store. Everywhere a merchant was asked how he planned to handle his sales tax, the answer was a question. Several said they sought opinions from lawyers and from the Court House or the State Comptrollers office. Most merchants seem to think a stamp system or coupon system would work better. Others suggest tokens, but many dont want to be bothered with any of these.

There is only one thing they are all certain about. The tax is effective July 1, and the retailer is supposed to collect and account for it. Most of them are also quite certain that no one knows just what it is all about.

One ex-GI, now in business for himself declared, "In the Army we said the situation was 'Snafu', and that just about applies to the way this new sales tax law reads. It's a 'Snafu Tax' not a sales tax."

Seek Beer Permits

Two applications for beer licenses were filed at the Court House yesterday, and will be referred to the Allegany County Liquor Control Board. Howard Kerns, 201 Rock Street, Westernport seeks a Class D Beer license; and Joyce L. Jones, 245 Railroad Street, seeks a Class D. Beer license.

Yost Says Policy Changed On War Surplus Priorities

Charles C. Yost, Sr., area locality expediter for the Office of the Housing Expediter, said yesterday that he can no longer accept applications for OHE certificates to secure priorities on war surplus materials and equipment.

Assistance will be given to veterans wishing to secure surplus equipment when it will be used in furthering the housing program, however, Yost said. He explained that recommendation could be made to the War Assets Administration that the equipment be held for the applicant if his office is furnished with the following data:

1. A complete statement as to the nature of the business in which the applicant is engaged, with his name and address.

2. Quantity and specifications of the desired equipment.

3. Location and War Assets identification numbers of the equipment in War Assets stock.

4. A statement that the applicant has tried to obtain the equipment without success on the open market, naming the source of supply contacted and the delivery dates quoted.

5. A statement giving the proposed use of the equipment, with figures if possible, showing that acquisition of the equipment would maintain or increase housing production.

6. A statement that the equipment will be purchased for use and not for resale.

7. A statement that the applicant has a definite housing project, amplified by giving the number of units to be constructed, and by signed statements from the owner or operator if the applicant is a sub-contractor.

Yost stressed that such a recommendation will be made only if extreme circumstances present a serious threat to the veterans' housing program. He explained that the shortage of equipment which can be used in the program makes it necessary to place the equipment where it will do the most good.

Steps To Improve City Are Cited By C Of C Members

Major Problem Seen In Traffic, Parking

Cumberland can stand plenty of improving and a better attitude on the part of the community would help accomplish at least one of those steps, if suggestions of members of the Chamber of Commerce are any criterion.

To find out what is on the minds of its members, the Chamber has been scheduling meetings of representatives of different classifications of its membership, limiting the number to 15 at a meeting.

Once assembled, the group is asked to let its collective hair down and start talking about what could be done to improve Cumberland. If any new suggestions warrant it, the Chamber's program may be broadened to include them.

Old Problems Revived

Two meetings were held yesterday with classifications represented including merchants, a barber, a small loan company, a former mayor and a public utility. Their suggestions ranged figuratively from soup to nuts, but most have been brought up before, not once, but time and time again.

Traffic and the parking problem came in for a great deal of discussion with the consensus of opinion being that a complete study of the entire subject should be conducted by an experienced and qualified person and his findings put into practice.

The need for a broadened industrial program likewise was indicated and this is where the community's general attitude comes in. Persons attending the meeting said improvement in the general attitude of the community toward industrial activities is a prerequisite to a broadened program along that line.

Riverside Park came in for discussion too and the suggestion there was that the park be converted from a "roost" for people with nothing to do into a parking lot as a step toward relieving the city's serious parking problem.

Improved methods of cleaning the city's streets, not only those in the downtown section but all over Cumberland, were suggested too, along with proposals for "getting rid of the dirt."

Want Better Recreation

Cumberland's proposed crosstown bridge was looked upon with favor and flood control was viewed as very much needed. So was completion of the Savage River dam.

An increased and broadened recreation program under competent direction likewise was viewed with favor, and improved housing facilities were looked upon as important.

It also was suggested that a more active co-operative program be worked out among the merchants for developments of the mercantile trade.

Two more meetings of two more groups are scheduled for Friday, one in the afternoon and another at night, and it was expected last night they will re-emphasize the suggestions made at yesterday's meetings and perhaps offer additional ones.

Audit Of Savage River Dam Job May Be Made

John J. McMullen, chairman, and Owen E. Hitchins, treasurer, of the Upper Potomac River Commission, appeared before the County Board of Commissioners yesterday, regarding the audit of the million dollar county fund provided by bond issue to build the Savage River Dam. The commissioners requested an audit from the commission a couple of weeks ago.

The two members of the commission gave the County Board a letter from Daniel L. Clayland, state auditor, in which it was stated that the state would audit the books of the Upper Potomac River Commission but that state accounts had priority over the project.

Clayland indicated that the state agency would do the work as soon as possible, but that a definite date could not be promised.

Members of the River Commission declared they believe the cost of such an audit would be from $3,000 to $5,000 and suggested that bids be asked, if the County Board wishes to have a private certified public accountant do the work.

McMullen told the County Board the River Commission has $200,000 in bonds, deposited in escrow in an Allegany County Bank, and that approximately $7,000 interest has accrued on the bonds. Most of this balance in the fund was derived from the sale of equipment and machinery at the dam project, when work was abandoned by Federal order. A total of $169,000 was obtained from the sale.

McMullen said the machinery was advertised for sale and sold to the highest bidder, who was the last contractor on the job. The machinery and equipment originally cost $286,000.

Commissioner William H. Lemmert told a reporter following the meeting that he is personally in favor of an immediate audit of the River Commission accounts. "This is only good business," he stated, "and a million dollars of the county's money is a lot of money. A good many people would like to see a detailed accounting. The Board feels that the matter should not be delayed, and since the State Auditor can not give us any definite date as to a state audit, we should proceed with a private auditor."

McMullen and Hitchins suggested a private audit when the question first came up, and indicated yesterday that some of the available fund could be used for this purpose, Lemmert added.

Fire Chiefs To Meet

The monthly meeting of the Fire Chiefs Association of Allegany and Garrett Counties will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Baltimore Pike Fire Hall. All fire chiefs and line officers of the two-county association are invited to attend. A movie, "Firemen of the Forest," will be shown.

ENTERS PAGEANT—A Fort Hill Senior, who is modest about her own beauty and talents, Miss Juanita Youngblood, has decided to enter the Miss Cumberland Beauty Pageant.

Miss Juanita Youngblood Enters Miss Cumberland Beauty Pageant

City's Identification Painted On Hangar

Fliers now will know Cumberland when they come to it.

City Detective Edwin Lilya spent yesterday painting the city's identification on a hangar top at the municipal airport.

The identification, painted in 10-foot yellow letters, reads "Cumberland, Md., Elevation 780 feet."

Modest About Own Beauty And Talents

Like most of the entrants in the Miss Cumberland Pageant, Miss Juanita Youngblood, Fort Hill Senior who will be graduated tomorrow night, is very modest about her own beauty and talents and decided to enter the pageant only after considerable persuasion by relatives and friends who are convinced of her possibilities.

"I wanted to enter the pageant, but I was afraid that I wasn't qualified," she said last night. "The fact that so many people told me of the opportunities that can come from the pageant helped, but I really made up my mind when I learned that a contestant could meet the talent requirement by making a three-minute talk on any of her chief interests in life."

And Miss Youngblood's chief interest? Professionally, she wants to be a business woman. She also likes fashion modeling. But she is looking into the future, and all of her interests center around her belief that young women can do much for their country if they enter as many activities as possible "in this man's world," so that they can give their children proper guidance in later life.

Avidly interested in combatting juvenile delinquency, she feels that the fuller her own life is, the better she will be able to help herself and others to give the oncoming generation the home-training they need to make them better citizens of the community.

Three of the entrants in the Miss Cumberland Pageant will receive a ride in the Goodyear Blimp that will be part of the Greater Cumberland Air Show to be held at the municipal airport next Sunday.

"The door is still open to Miss Cumberland entries," Jack Moore, pageant chairman, said yesterday, "but it will be closed Saturday, June 14, at midnight. To help her city to be more widely recognized, and to help herself to greater opportunities in the business, professional, theatrical and social worlds, every single girl between the ages of 18 and 28 should enter this official Miss America preliminary pageant," Moore asserted.

Entry blanks for the pageant, which will be staged at the Maryland Theater, Saturday, June 21, may be obtained at Room 514, Liberty Trust Building, the Maryland Theater box office, and Rosenbaum's fourth-floor studio.

Gasoline Truck Climbs Trunk Of Coupe In Crash

Drivers Are Charged With Recklessness

A tractor-trailer truck loaded with gasoline rode "piggy-back" on a coupe for more than 50 feet yesterday afternoon after the vehicles crashed on Bedford Road just north of the city limits.

State Trooper William F. Baker, who investigated, said the coupe "stopped dead" in front of the truck and the latter vehicle "climbed" the trunk on the car when the driver was unable to stop in time to avoid an accident. Both machines were headed in the same direction.

Cleveland D. Miller, Route 2, Hancock, listed by State Police as driver of the coupe, told officers, they said, that his brakes locked, causing his car to stop suddenly.

Miller and the truck driver, booked by police as Arthur Thomas Ward, Pasadena, Md., near Baltimore, were charged with reckless driving and will be given a hearing at 11 o'clock Thursday morning in Police Court.

Miller's wife, Mrs. Ruth G. Miller, 50, suffered a head injury but was not hospitalized, Trooper Baker said.

He added that the Millers had left a Bedford Road home where they were visiting just a short time before the accident occurred.

The coupe was badly damaged but damage to the truck was only slight, the officer reported.

Bad Check Artist Is In Action In Area

Area merchants and business men are cautioned by the State's Attorney's office to be on the lookout for a bad check artist who has passed two "rubber" checks in the city in the past few weeks.

The man, who endorsed the checks under the name of A. B. Barry, is about 60 years old, very well dressed and is five feet seven or eight inches tall.

Both of the checks were for $110 and are headed Electro-Motive Corp., Inc., sub-division of General Motors Corporation, La Grange, Ill., and signed by E. M. Kingston. A notation on the check states "For Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company expenses." Barry designates himself as "Superintendent of B. and O. Y. M. C. A., Cumberland".

Yellow in color and identical, the checks were cashed by two Cumberland merchants in May, according to Terrance J Boyle, county investigator.

The First National Bank of Chicago on whose account the checks were made, notified the merchants and local banks of the fraudulent claim.

News Briefs

South Cumberland Fire Company was called to the Maryland Motor Lines, 907 Glenwood Street, yesterday at 6:40 p. m. to extinguish a slight paper blaze. Firemen said some paper was burning outside the building.

Because of the lack of a quorum, no business was transacted at last night's meeting of the Potomac Park Improvement Association. Date of the next meeting has not been set, according to Edward Shaffer, vice president.

He is expected to arrive within the next week, with instructions to officially activate the new company on June 18.

Any ex-Marine between the ages of 17 and 32 may enlist in the company and any ex-Marine over 32 may be eligible if he is not over 32 when his years of service are subtracted from his actual age. Veterans of other services and non-veterans who can pass the Marine Corps mental and physical tests may also enlist in the reserve company.

Until the company is activated and officers are available in the Union Street Building, enlistments may be made at the Marine Corps Recruiting office, in the Post Office Building.

Goodyear Blimp Expected To Make Appearance At Air Show Sunday

Announcement that a Goodyear blimp is tentatively scheduled to fly here this weekend from Washington, D. C., to appear in the Cumberland air show Sunday afternoon, weather permitting, was made yesterday by Edmund S. Burke, president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

The Enterprise, formerly the Navy L-18 patrol and training ship, is scheduled to arrive here about 4 p. m. Saturday for the first appearance of an airship in this section since 1936, when one of the smaller prewar Goodyear blimps paid a two-day visit to Cumberland.

Burke said the Enterprise was one of five Goodyear blimps taken over by the Navy during the war to be used for training purposes. Later it was equipped with machineguns and bombs and flew patrol duty on the Pacific coast in 1942. It was then flown back to Lakehurst, N. Y., for use as a training ship.

The 150-foot ship, inflated with non-inflammable helium gas, has a cruising speed of 50 miles an hour, with a top speed of 62 miles and a range of 600 miles.

Two flights over the city for members of the press are scheduled Saturday afternoon, and three contestants in the Cumberland beauty pageant, sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce, will be selected for a flight in the blimp Sunday morning. In addition, Mayor Thomas S. Post, Rep. J. Glenn Beall and Burke are expected to take a sightseeing trip over the city in the blimp on Sunday.

The Enterprise will put on an exhibition from 2 until 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the start of the air show, giving a demonstration of ground rescue work. Because of its relatively slow cruising speed, it is scheduled to leave for Washington promptly at 2:30.

Approximately 20 men are expected to come here from Washington, including the ship's pilots and a ground crew in a special bus equipped with a stub mast for mooring the ship.

Annual Day Camp At Central YMCA Will Be Held July 7 To August 1

Plans for the annual day camp season, sponsored by Central YMCA, have been completed, and registration is now being held, according to Winfield H. Adam, program and boys' secretary, who is director of the day camp staff.

Adam said the program is planned to accommodate 25 boys and 15 girls for the four-week period beginning July 7 and closing August 1. Boys and girls between 10 and 14 years of age are eligible, and all campers must be "Y" members on the regular basis or in the special summer membership plan.

The day camp will be held at Central YMCA Tuesday through Friday from 9:30 a. m. until 3.30 p. m. Instruction in baseball, gym, games, archery, handicrafts and swimming will be stressed. Trips to nearby points of historic, social or industrial importance will be held each Thursday in place of the regular program, with a swim after each trip.

In addition, hikes, all-day picnics, outdoor sports and overnight camping trips are planned in connection with the program, which will be climaxed by a party for the families of the boy and girl "campers." Movies, including educational and entertaining sound films, are scheduled, as well as musical programs and story-telling hours.

Besides Adam, the day camp staff includes Clifton Van Roby, director of athletics; James Kelley, Jr., swimming director; Patty Bowie, girls' counselor, and George Leyh, boys' counselor. Other counselors will be announced later.

Adam also announced that registration is now open for boys 9 to 13 years of age who wish to attend Camp Letts, the YMCA summer camp near Annapolis, during the two-week period from June 22 to July 6.

The summer schedule of Central YMCA will include badminton, volleyball, boxing, exercises and swimming and diving instruction, Adam said. The pool and gymnasium will be open to men and women daily until 10 p. m. except Saturday evenings and Sundays.

Celanese Workers Revise Proposals On Money Issues

Talks Continue Today, Union Meets Tonight

The negotiating committee of the 8,600 member Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, yesterday presented to the Celanese Corporation of America revised proposals on the money issues in the contract dispute which closed the huge Amcelle plant of the company 13 days ago.

The proposals were presented to the company yesterday afternoon at a four-hour meeting arranged by James A. Holden, federal conciliator, who has been trying since May 30 to bring a settlement of the strike which is rapidly throttling the economic life of the area.

Holden did not comment on the progress made at the meeting but reported the negotiations will be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock.

A company spokesman characterized the session yesterday afternoon as "not altogether unsuccessful" and explained there was "some but not much" progress made.

Reports New Proposals

He said the union yesterday presented some changes in their proposals but added there were no indications that the proposals will be acceptable.

When questioned as to the progress made at the session Wesley Cook, assistant director of the TWUA's rayon division, said the union yesterday presented revised proposals on the money issues of the contract dispute.

The purpose of the union proposals, he said, was to reduce the cost to the company while at the same time achieving the correction of the conditions of which the union was complaining.

The company, Cook said, has given no definite answer to the proposals. He added it was the union's position that the proposals represent "reasonable basis" for the settlement of the problems raised by the union.

James A. Holden, federal conciliator, last night declined to comment on the progress resulting yesterday from a four-hour negotiating session between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, and the Celanese Corporation of America but said efforts to reach a settlement of the strike which closed the Amcelle plant May 30 will be continued today.

Yesterday's meeting, held from 2 to 6 p. m. at the struck plant, was the first held since last Friday when Holden kept the company and union negotiators together for a grueling 15-hour session which closed early Saturday morning without an agreement.

A company spokesman characterized yesterday's meeting as "not altogether unsuccessful." There is not too much to report, he added, saying there was "some, but not much," progress made.

The union yesterday presented some changes in their proposals but a company spokesman said there were no indications that the proposals will be acceptable.

The conciliator said today's meeting is scheduled to begin this morning at 10 o'clock.

Urge Arbitration

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners unanimously adopted a resolution yesterday, urging that the dispute between the Celanese Corporation of America and Local 1874 go to an arbitrator and the strike ended as soon as possible.

Members of the County Board discussed the strike, now in its 12th day, and agreed that a prolonged stoppage of work and production at the plant will have disastrous economic effects in the entire county, as eight or nine thousand persons are idle. The Commissioners took no sides in their resolution, but strongly urged that the labor dispute be submitted to arbitration by both sides at once and the work stoppage ended and production and employment resumed.

A copy of the resolution was ordered spread upon the minutes of the meeting, over the signatures of the three county commissioners.

The Mayor and City Councils of Frostburg and Ridgeley, W. Va., at special meetings last nigtht, adopted resolutions calling for the arbitration of the dispute as did the Cumberland city fathers Monday.

Chief speaker at the out-of-doors membership meeting to be held outside the State Armory tonight at 7:30 o'clock will be George Baldanzi, executive vice president of the TWUA-CIO. It will be the first meeting of the union since May 28 when the group rejected the union contract offers and voted to call the strike at the plant.

Union Cancels Meeting

The executive board of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastics Workers of America, CIO, last night cancelled the regular meeting of the union scheduled Sunday at 2:30 p. m. A. E. Johnson, president, said the next meeting will be held Thursday, July 3, at 7:30 p. m.

4-H CLUB FINALISTS—These five members of County 4-H Clubs were guests last night at the annual Ladies Night dinner of the Cumberland Exchange Club. The youth in the center, William Kennedy, of LaVale, president of the LaVale Boys 4-H Club, and vice-president of the County 4-H Federation, won the boys' check for outstanding leadership and organizational ability. The girls displayed clothing they made, and members and guests present voted the winner. # Exchange Club Selects 4-H Prize Winners

Present Checks For Week At Annual Camp

Four finalists in the County Girls 4-H Club sewing project were guests of the Cumberland Exchange Club last night as the organization held its annual Ladies Night celebration at Clary Club. Each year the club presents an award to the most outstanding 4-H Boy and Girl, and this year had the privilege of selecting the girl winner.

Miss Barbara Long, of the LaVale 4-H Club, RFD 1, this city, was awarded first prize consisting of a check to cover all expenses including transportation for one week at summer 4-H Club camp. She displayed a dress suit and accessories which she designed and tailored.

The contest was so close, members of the club said, that a consolation prize of $5 was presented to Miss Virginia Pritt, Poplar Street, Westernport, a member of the Westernport 4-H Club. She displayed a self-made evening gown.

The other two contestants were Miss Regina Ferguson, Union Grove 4-H Club, who showed a street dress; and Miss Naomi Brode, Eckhart Mines 4-H Club, who displayed an official 4-H Club uniform.

William Kennedy, president of the LaVale Boys 4-H Club and vice-president of the County Federation of 4-H Clubs, was also presented a check for camp, as the boys' winner. He was chosen for outstanding leadership ability and organizational activity.

The presentations were made before the 96 members and guests present by Daniel D'Amicol, president. John C. Fisher had charge of this phase of the program and presented Miss Maude A. Bean, county home demonstration agent, her assistant, Miss Gloria Bohn, and Joseph M. Steger, assistant county farm agent, each of whom spoke on phases of 4-H Club work.

The second phase of the program was in charge of Lewis Ort, who presented several guests whom he said helped make the recent Exchange sponsored Air Derby and Plans Model Meet possible. Ort urged the club to make the Derby an annual event, to help promote interest in aviation.

Mrs. Harold Bloom was pianist for group singing led by Fisher. Carl Perry gave the invocation. Following the dinner and program, a dance was held until 1 a. m.

Tornado Scare Rumored In Keyser

Residents of the Keyser, W. Va., section were in a furore yesterday afternoon when a report reached town that a tornado was headed that that way and due to strike at 2:30 p. m.

The report had it that the tornado would head there from Grafton and Fairmont, W. Va., but late last night the tornado hadn't arrived at any of the communities.

Thel ast report was that the tornado report was all wrong, that none was headed at any time for Grafton, Fairmont or Keyser.

Numerous Questions Unanswered In Law

The new state retail sales tax, which goes into operation July 1, has caused considerable comment and raised many problems among local retail merchants, and none could be found yesterday who says he thoroughly understands the new law and all it implies.

A few days ago, the Clerk of Court announced through the press that application blanks for retailers who are expected to collect the tax were available at the Court House. Numerous retailers obtained their forms, and sent them to the State Comptroller's office for their license and instructions. Several have received a license which must be publicly displayed, but received no instructions. All that accompanied the license was a little rate card, showing the amounts of taxes on various sales levels.

Merchants Are Confused

But yesterday, in a survey of Baltimore Street merchants, it developed that many have problems about the tax peculiar to their own particular types of trade.

A confectionery store operator wanted to know, "Do I pay the tax each quarter on my gross receipts, or am I supposed to set up a separate container for all tax money to keep it straight? There is no tax on any item under nine cents, and we have many sales at a nickle. For instance a man buys a soft drink at a fountain for five cents. There is no tax. If he buys one for himself and one for a friend, must he pay 11 cents? Who pays the tax on the large accumulation of five cent sales," he wanted to know?

A furrier said, "Suppose I sell a fur coat for $500. The federal government requires me to collect 20 per cent luxury tax, making the retail price of the coat, $600. Now do I collect state retail tax on the total selling price, or just on the $500? Over a period of a year's business," he declared, "it will make quite a difference."

Jewelry stores, perfume counters and others where federal luxury tax is still charged face a similar problem, and they'd like to know the answer. It was suggested to them that it usually is not the policy to charge tax on tax, but they aren't sure and come back with the query, "What about cigarets?"

Drug stores face a particular problem. Prescriptions and medical supplies are exempt, yet a druggist asked yesterday, "Suppose someone comes in and buys an ice cap or hot water bottle. Are they medical supplies?"

Druggist Is Puzzled

The druggist too, said that there are many items in drug stores which will be taxable and many which will be exempt. The tax will require much more bookkeeping for him, as each sale must be broken down and taxable items segregated from non-taxable items.

Grocers find the same problem, for many grocery stores carry lines of household needs other than food stuffs. Food is exempt, but many of the other items are not. They want to know, "Do we keep separate books on taxable items, and separate accounts on non-taxable items, or do we just keep the tax money separate from other money? What kind of system will the state require?"

And so it was in every store. Everywhere a merchant was asked how he planned to handle his sales tax, the answer was a question. Several said they sought opinions from lawyers and from the Court House or the State Comptrollers office. Most merchants seem to think a stamp system or coupon system would work better. Others suggest tokens, but many dont want to be bothered with any of these.

There is only one thing they are all certain about. The tax is effective July 1, and the retailer is supposed to collect and account for it. Most of them are also quite certain that no one knows just what it is all about.

One ex-GI, now in business for himself declared, "In the Army we said the situation was 'Snafu', and that just about applies to the way this new sales tax law reads. It's a 'Snafu Tax' not a sales tax."

Yost Says Policy Changed On War Surplus Priorities

Charles C. Yost, Sr., area locality expediter for the Office of the Housing Expediter, said yesterday that he can no longer accept applications for OHE certificates to secure priorities on war surplus materials and equipment.

Assistance will be given to veterans wishing to secure surplus equipment when it will be used in furthering the housing program, however, Yost said. He explained that recommendation could be made to the War Assets Administration that the equipment be held for the applicant if his office is furnished with the following data:

1. A complete statement as to the nature of the business in which the applicant is engaged, with his name and address.

2. Quantity and specifications of the desired equipment.

3. Location and War Assets identification numbers of the equipment in War Assets stock.

4. A statement that the applicant has tried to obtain the equipment without success on the open market, naming the source of supply contacted and the delivery dates quoted.

5. A statement giving the proposed use of the equipment, with figures if possible, showing that acquisition of the equipment would maintain or increase housing production.

6. A statement that the equipment will be purchased for use and not for resale.

7. A statement that the applicant has a definite housing project, amplified by giving the number of units to be constructed, and by signed statements from the owner or operator if the applicant is a sub-contractor.

Yost stressed that such a recommendation will be made only if extreme circumstances present a serious threat to the veterans' housing program. He explained that the shortage of equipment which can be used in the program makes it necessary to place the equipment where it will do the most good.

Goodyear Blimp Expected To Make Appearance At Air Show Sunday

Announcement that a Goodyear blimp is tentatively scheduled to fly here this weekend from Washington, D. C., to appear in the Cumberland air show Sunday afternoon, weather permitting, was made yesterday by Edmund S. Burke, president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

The Enterprise, formerly the Navy L-18 patrol and training ship, is scheduled to arrive here about 4 p. m. Saturday for the first appearance of an airship in this section since 1936, when one of the smaller prewar Goodyear blimps paid a two-day visit to Cumberland.

Burke said the Enterprise was one of five Goodyear blimps taken over by the Navy during the war to be used for training purposes. Later it was equipped with machineguns and bombs and flew patrol duty on the Pacific coast in 1942. It was then flown back to Lakehurst, N. Y., for use as a training ship.

The 150-foot ship, inflated with non-inflammable helium gas, has a cruising speed of 50 miles an hour, with a top speed of 62 miles and a range of 600 miles.

Two flights over the city for members of the press are scheduled Saturday afternoon, and three contestants in the Cumberland beauty pageant, sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce, will be selected for a flight in the blimp Sunday morning. In addition, Mayor Thomas S. Post, Rep. J. Glenn Beall and Burke are expected to take a sightseeing trip over the city in the blimp on Sunday.

The Enterprise will put on an exhibition from 2 until 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the start of the air show, giving a demonstration of ground rescue work. Because of its relatively slow cruising speed, it is scheduled to leave for Washington promptly at 2:30.

Approximately 20 men are expected to come here from Washington, including the ship's pilots and a ground crew in a special bus equipped with a stub mast for mooring the ship.

Steps To Improve City Are Cited By C Of C Members

Major Problem Seen In Traffic, Parking

Cumberland can stand plenty of improving and a better attitude on the part of the community would help accomplish at least one of those steps, if suggestions of members of the Chamber of Commerce are any criterion.

To find out what is on the minds of its members, the Chamber has been scheduling meetings of representatives of different classifications of its membership, limiting the number to 15 at a meeting.

Once assembled, the group is asked to let its collective hair down and start talking about what could be done to improve Cumberland. If any new suggestions warrant it, the Chamber's program may be broadened to include them.

Old Problems Revived

Two meetings were held yesterday with classifications represented including merchants, a barber, a small loan company, a former mayor and a public utility. Their suggestions ranged figuratively from soup to nuts, but most have been brought up before, not once, but time and time again.

Traffic and the parking problem came in for a great deal of discussion with the consensus of opinion being that a complete study of the entire subject should be conducted by an experienced and qualified person and his findings put into practice.

The need for a broadened industrial program likewise was indicated and this is where the community's general attitude comes in. Persons attending the meeting said improvement in the general attitude of the community toward industrial activities is a prerequisite to a broadened program along that line.

Riverside Park came in for discussion too and the suggestion there was that the park be converted from a "roost" for people with nothing to do into a parking lot as a step toward relieving the city's serious parking problem.

Improved methods of cleaning the city's streets, not only those in the downtown section but all over Cumberland, were suggested too, along with proposals for "getting rid of the dirt."

Want Better Recreation

Cumberland's proposed crosstown bridge was looked upon with favor and flood control was viewed as very much needed. So was completion of the Savage River dam.

An increased and broadened recreation program under competent direction likewise was viewed with favor, and improved housing facilities were looked upon as important.

It also was suggested that a more active co-operative program be worked out among the merchants for developments of the mercantile trade.

Two more meetings of two more groups are scheduled for Friday, one in the afternoon and another at night, and it was expected last night they will re-emphasize the suggestions made at yesterday's meetings and perhaps offer additional ones.

Audit Of Savage River Dam Job May Be Made

John J. McMullen, chairman, and Owen E. Hitchins, treasurer, of the Upper Potomac River Commission, appeared before the County Board of Commissioners yesterday, regarding the audit of the million dollar county fund provided by bond issue to build the Savage River Dam. The commissioners requested an audit from the commission a couple of weeks ago.

The two members of the commission gave the County Board a letter from Daniel L. Clayland, state auditor, in which it was stated that the state would audit the books of the Upper Potomac River Commission but that state accounts had priority over the project.

Clayland indicated that the state agency would do the work as soon as possible, but that a definite date could not be promised.

Members of the River Commission declared they believe the cost of such an audit would be from $3,000 to $5,000 and suggested that bids be asked, if the County Board wishes to have a private certified public accountant do the work.

McMullen told the County Board the River Commission has $200,000 in bonds, deposited in escrow in an Allegany County Bank, and that approximately $7,000 interest has accrued on the bonds. Most of this balance in the fund was derived from the sale of equipment and machinery at the dam project, when work was abandoned by Federal order. A total of $169,000 was obtained from the sale.

McMullen said the machinery was advertised for sale and sold to the highest bidder, who was the last contractor on the job. The machinery and equipment originally cost $286,000.

Commissioner William H. Lemmert told a reporter following the meeting that he is personally in favor of an immediate audit of the River Commission accounts. "This is only good business," he stated, "and a million dollars of the county's money is a lot of money. A good many people would like to see a detailed accounting. The Board feels that the matter should not be delayed, and since the State Auditor can not give us any definite date as to a state audit, we should proceed with a private auditor."

McMullen and Hitchins suggested a private audit when the question first came up, and indicated yesterday that some of the available fund could be used for this purpose, Lemmert added.

Fire Chiefs To Meet

The monthly meeting of the Fire Chiefs Association of Allegany and Garrett Counties will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Baltimore Pike Fire Hall. All fire chiefs and line officers of the two-county association are invited to attend. A movie, "Firemen of the Forest," will be shown.

ENTERS PAGEANT—A Fort Hill Senior, who is modest about her own beauty and talents, Miss Juanita Youngblood, has decided to enter the Miss Cumberland Beauty Pageant.

Miss Juanita Youngblood Enters Miss Cumberland Beauty Pageant

Modest About Own Beauty And Talents

Like most of the entrants in the Miss Cumberland Pageant, Miss Juanita Youngblood, Fort Hill Senior who will be graduated tomorrow night, is very modest about her own beauty and talents and decided to enter the pageant only after considerable persuasion by relatives and friends who are convinced of her possibilities.

"I wanted to enter the pageant, but I was afraid that I wasn't qualified," she said last night. "The fact that so many people told me of the opportunities that can come from the pageant helped, but I really made up my mind when I learned that a contestant could meet the talent requirement by making a three-minute talk on any of her chief interests in life."

And Miss Youngblood's chief interest? Professionally, she wants to be a business woman. She also likes fashion modeling. But she is looking into the future, and all of her interests center around her belief that young women can do much for their country if they enter as many activities as possible "in this man's world," so that they can give their children proper guidance in later life.

Avidly interested in combatting juvenile delinquency, she feels that the fuller her own life is, the better she will be able to help herself and others to give the oncoming generation the home-training they need to make them better citizens of the community.

Three of the entrants in the Miss Cumberland Pageant will receive a ride in the Goodyear Blimp that will be part of the Greater Cumberland Air Show to be held at the municipal airport next Sunday.

"The door is still open to Miss Cumberland entries," Jack Moore, pageant chairman, said yesterday, "but it will be closed Saturday, June 14, at midnight. To help her city to be more widely recognized, and to help herself to greater opportunities in the business, professional, theatrical and social worlds, every single girl between the ages of 18 and 28 should enter this official Miss America preliminary pageant," Moore asserted.

Entry blanks for the pageant, which will be staged at the Maryland Theater, Saturday, June 21, may be obtained at Room 514, Liberty Trust Building, the Maryland Theater box office, and Rosenbaum's fourth-floor studio.

City's Identification Painted On Hangar

Fliers now will know Cumberland when they come to it.

City Detective Edwin Lilya spent yesterday painting the city's identification on a hangar top at the municipal airport.

The identification, painted in 10-foot yellow letters, reads "Cumberland, Md., Elevation 780 feet."

Gasoline Truck Climbs Trunk Of Coupe In Crash

Drivers Are Charged With Recklessness

A tractor-trailer truck loaded with gasoline rode "piggy-back" on a coupe for more than 50 feet yesterday afternoon after the vehicles crashed on Bedford Road just north of the city limits.

State Trooper William F. Baker, who investigated, said the coupe "stopped dead" in front of the truck and the latter vehicle "climbed" the trunk on the car when the driver was unable to stop in time to avoid an accident. Both machines were headed in the same direction.

Cleveland D. Miller, Route 2, Hancock, listed by State Police as driver of the coupe, told officers, they said, that his brakes locked, causing his car to stop suddenly.

Miller and the truck driver, booked by police as Arthur Thomas Ward, Pasadena, Md., near Baltimore, were charged with reckless driving and will be given a hearing at 11 o'clock Thursday morning in Police Court.

Miller's wife, Mrs. Ruth G. Miller, 50, suffered a head injury but was not hospitalized, Trooper Baker said.

He added that the Millers had left a Bedford Road home where they were visiting just a short time before the accident occurred.

Bad Check Artist Is In Action In Area

Area merchants and business men are cautioned by the State's Attorney's office to be on the lookout for a bad check artist who has passed two "rubber" checks in the city in the past few weeks.

The man, who endorsed the checks under the name of A. B. Barry, is about 60 years old, very well dressed and is five feet seven or eight inches tall.

Both of the checks were for $110 and are headed Electro-Motive Corp., Inc., sub-division of General Motors Corporation, La Grange, Ill., and signed by E. M. Kingston. A notation on the check states "For Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company expenses." Barry designates himself as "Superintendent of B. and O. Y. M. C. A., Cumberland".

Yellow in color and identical, the checks were cashed by two Cumberland merchants in May, according to Terrance J Boyle, county investigator.

The First National Bank of Chicago on whose account the checks were made, notified the merchants and local banks of the fraudulent claim.

News Briefs

South Cumberland Fire Company was called to the Maryland Motor Lines, 907 Glenwood Street, yesterday at 6:40 p. m. to extinguish a slight paper blaze. Firemen said some paper was burning outside the building.

Because of the lack of a quorum, no business was transacted at last night's meeting of the Potomac Park Improvement Association. Date of the next meeting has not been set, according to Edward Shaffer, vice president.

He is expected to arrive within the next week, with instructions to officially activate the new company on June 18.

Any ex-Marine between the ages of 17 and 32 may enlist in the company and any ex-Marine over 32 may be eligible if he is not over 32 when his years of service are subtracted from his actual age. Veterans of other services and non-veterans who can pass the Marine Corps mental and physical tests may also enlist in the reserve company.

Until the company is activated and officers are available in the Union Street Building, enlistments may be made at the Marine Corps Recruiting office, in the Post Office Building.

Annual Day Camp At Central YMCA Will Be Held July 7 To August 1

Plans for the annual day camp season, sponsored by Central YMCA, have been completed, and registration is now being held, according to Winfield H. Adam, program and boys' secretary, who is director of the day camp staff.

Adam said the program is planned to accommodate 25 boys and 15 girls for the four-week period beginning July 7 and closing August 1. Boys and girls between 10 and 14 years of age are eligible, and all campers must be "Y" members on the regular basis or in the special summer membership plan.

The day camp will be held at Central YMCA Tuesday through Friday from 9:30 a. m. until 3.30 p. m. Instruction in baseball, gym, games, archery, handicrafts and swimming will be stressed. Trips to nearby points of historic, social or industrial importance will be held each Thursday in place of the regular program, with a swim after each trip.

In addition, hikes, all-day picnics, outdoor sports and overnight camping trips are planned in connection with the program, which will be climaxed by a party for the families of the boy and girl "campers." Movies, including educational and entertaining sound films, are scheduled, as well as musical programs and story-telling hours.

Besides Adam, the day camp staff includes Clifton Van Roby, director of athletics; James Kelley, Jr., swimming director; Patty Bowie, girls' counselor, and George Leyh, boys' counselor. Other counselors will be announced later.

Adam also announced that registration is now open for boys 9 to 13 years of age who wish to attend Camp Letts, the YMCA summer camp near Annapolis, during the two-week period from June 22 to July 6.

The summer schedule of Central YMCA will include badminton, volleyball, boxing, exercises and swimming and diving instruction, Adam said. The pool and gymnasium will be open to men and women daily until 10 p. m. except Saturday evenings and Sundays.
